

Rebel Troops Mobilize for Attack on Mexico City--Report Carranza in Flight

TROOPS POUR INTO JUAREZ

Preparing for Concerted Drive Against Capital of Mexico

Carranza Said to Have Left for Vera Cruz Under Heavy Guard

WASHINGTON, May 7.—A private message received here after midnight from Mexico City, via Laredo, saying that President Carranza already had left the Mexican capital for Vera Cruz, had not been confirmed in official circles today. According to the message, Carranza left Mexico City last night, accompanied by a guard of troops under command of his son-in-law, Candido Aguilar, ostensibly headed for Vera Cruz.

Analysis of reports yesterday on the Mexican situation, had caused the revolutionary agents here to predict that President Carranza would abandon the capital soon, either in flight from the country or to some point from where he would attempt to carry on government business and direct military operations against the rebels.

EL PASO, Tex., May 7.—Mobilization of troops, believed to be intended for use in a concerted attack on Mexico City, continued today at Juarez, as authentic information regarding the numerous reports of the flight of President Carranza before the spread of the revolution was awaited. According to the reports here, Carranza's son-in-law, Candido Aguilar, went to Vera Cruz several days ago to prepare for the president's coming. T. K. Beltram, commercial agent of the liberal constitutional party at El Paso, is authority for the statement that impending famine in Mexico City had forced Carranza to seek a compromise with the revolutionary forces.

DRACUT GIRL HEROINE

Silver Medal to be Presented Mae Marfden for Saving Child's Life

An act of heroism which has never been publicly exploited and knowledge of which has not gone far beyond the circle of relatives and friends in which she moves, will be recognized and feebly appreciated tonight when Mae Marfden, a young Dracut girl, will be presented a silver medal by the members of the Girl Scout troop of the Hillside church as a tribute to her bravery in saving the life of little Cora Durand, who broke through thin ice on Settlement brook in Dracut last New Year's day.

W. X. Goodell, president of the Lowell chamber of commerce, has been asked to make the presentation for the Scout troop and it was with a great deal of pleasure that he accepted the invitation. On New Year's day a group of boys and girls were skating on an overflow of Settlement brook, caused by a dam placed in the channel of the stream by Mr. Wheeler, who owns the property. This he has done for years in order to make a skating surface for the children of the town. Everywhere except near the dam the ice was thick and perfectly safe. Among several smaller children who had gathered to watch their older brothers and sisters skate was Cora Durand.

In some manner she slipped away from the group of children and walked out upon the thin ice. It broke and let her down into the freezing water. Answering her cries for help, Mae Marfden kicked off her skates and ran to her rescue. The little girl had gone down twice, but Miss Marfden caught her before she went under for the third time and although she herself broke through the ice in several places, pulled the little girl from the water and onto safe ice. Miss Marfden was thoroughly drenched and contracted a severe cold which lasted throughout the winter.

The Girl Scouts of the Hillside church never forgot Miss Marfden's self-sacrificing act and tonight will give tangible proof of their appreciation and love for her.

REVISED RETURNS IN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—Revised returns from 335 precincts out of 505 in California for the presidential primary last Tuesday give the Johnson group of delegates 363,741 votes, and the Hoover group 261,641. This count includes complete returns from 25 of the 57 counties in the state.

HIGH PRICES NOT DUE TO LABOR

Study of Profiteering in American Industry Made by R. R. Brotherhoods

Refute Charges That Increased Labor Costs Responsible for H. C. L.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—A study of profiteering in American industry, made under the auspices of the Railroad Brotherhoods, was presented to the railroad labor board today in support of the railway workers' demands for higher pay and to refute the charge.

BARRED FROM STREET DEPARTMENT WORK

Despite the fact that he had been an employee of the street department since 1912 with the exception of six or seven months during the war period that he was employed by the United States Cartridge Co., Frank O'Neill, whom Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy terms a most valuable man, cannot do any work in the department owing to civil service regulations.

Mr. O'Neill worked continuously in the department since 1892 up until the time he entered war work. However, the civil service requirements say that his withdrawal from the department, even though for only a few months, automatically expels him from the civil service list and now he must register again and be placed at the bottom of the list of eligibles.

HELD IN $25,000 BAIL

Arrest of Former Bank Teller Disclosed Shortage of at Least $98,000

NEW YORK, May 7.—William E. Eldridge, formerly receiving teller and general bookkeeper in the Long Island City branch of the American Trust Co., was held in $25,000 bail yesterday under an indictment charging him with misapplication of funds. The arrest of Eldridge, it is said, disclosed a shortage of at least $98,000.

HARD GAME TODAY

Lowell High Plays Commerce at Spalding Park

The baseball team of the Boston High School of Commerce came to Lowell this afternoon to play the strong local high school nine at Spalding park. Fresh from its string of unbroken victories and filled with just enough confidence to carry them through on their toes, the Lowell boys took the field against their worthy opponents all set to make it five in a row. As Ordway was not used against Arlington on Wednesday, he was in prime condition for a hard game today and Coach Donahue picked him for slab duty. Liston was the other battery man announced by Umpire J. J. Cronin.

Although every game on the schedule is of immediate importance to the players and coach, all eyes are set toward the first Lawrence game which will be played here next Wednesday afternoon.

GRANGERS WILL NOT WEAR DENIM

Will Wage Bitter War On H. C. L. But Not in Overalls

New Fad Discussed at Meeting of Middlesex North Pomona Grange

Interesting Address on "The Business Side of Home Making"

The wearing of overalls by both men and women as a means of combatting the high cost of living was the topic of discussion at the monthly meeting of the Middlesex North Pomona grange which was held today in Odd Fellows hall, Bridge street. The subject was broached by one of the members of the organization, who stated at the outset that she was neither for nor against the movement, but simply brought it to the attention of the grangers present in order that it might be thoroughly discussed. She said the movement was started in other states and, according to reports, is very successful in some districts. "Now," she asked, "do you members of the grange think the wearing of overalls by men and women in Lowell and surrounding towns would have any effect on the high cost of clothing?"

A general discussion followed, during which some of those present expressed themselves as favoring the project but, according to reports given at the close of the morning's session, a great majority of those present declared themselves as being opposed to the movement. One of the best anti-overall arguments presented was by a woman whose husband is employed on the railroad as an engineer. She said her husband has to wear overalls at his work and, in her opinion, the wearing of overalls as street clothing will bring about an unequal increase in the cost of denim. She said the wearing of overalls in New York and other places has already shown its ill effect upon the overalls market. "Some time ago," she continued, "my husband paid 45 cents for a good pair of overalls and now the same goods are costing him over $1.40 and it is the same with jumpers, for these garments, which formerly sold for 30 cents, are now bringing $1.25. The greater the demand is for overalls the higher the price will soar. I think the best thing we can do is to wear out our old clothes and refrain as much as possible from purchasing new garments. I believe this is the surest way of bringing down the cost of living."

Several other members expressed themselves in about the same manner and before the meeting adjourned for luncheon practically all present pledged themselves to do their utmost in fighting the high cost of living, by not wearing overalls.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Alice B. Coburn of Dracut, master of the grange, and present were about 100 members from Lowell, Dracut, Tewksbury, Chelmsford, West Chelmsford, Tyngsboro, Billerica. Routine business was transacted and it was announced that the meeting or convention of the National grange, which will include representatives of

INSTITUTE AT NORMAL SCHOOL

Teachers From 15 Towns Meet Here for Discussion and Conferences

Dr. Payson Smith, State Commissioner, Principal Speaker at First Session

Disapproval of the affiliation of school teachers with labor organizations was expressed in an address at a teachers' institute at the Normal school this morning by Payson Smith, state commissioner of education. Mr. Smith said that the schools were supported by taxation in which all classes shared, and that the teachers should not place themselves in a position where it might be supposed they would have a special interest in a particular class. He referred to the fact that they were public servants, chosen by representatives of the people, and as such should endeavor to give their services to the whole public. He did, however, strongly urge the teachers to support their own professional organizations, local, state and national.

Dr. Smith was the principal speaker at the institute, at which were present teachers from Acton, Billerica, Box-

IS PERMANENT FIREMAN

Frank Kappler One of Oldest Men Ever Appointed to Permanent Force

Frank A. Kappler, 62 years of age and for the past 27 years a member of the call force of the fire department, has been appointed a permanent fireman by Commissioner John F. Salmon and will begin his duties next Sunday morning at 1 o'clock at the Pawtucketville house.

Mr. Kappler has the distinction of being one of the oldest men to be appointed to the permanent force in the history of the city. Had he not served in the call department he would be ineligible for appointment owing to the fact that a new appointee to the regular force must be not more than 35 years old. However, civil service authorities, Commissioner Salmon says, look upon Mr. Kappler's appointment as a promotion and for that reason the question of age does not enter into the matter.

When the municipal council voted some weeks ago to abolish the call force of the department, Commissioner Salmon announced that any of the 11 men who had been on the call force and who wished to join the permanent force could do so if they passed the necessary physical examination.

Of those who took advantage of the commissioner's offer, Mr. Kappler was the only one to succeed in passing the examination of City Physician Michael A. Tighe. Dr. Tighe reported to the commissioner that Mr. Kappler was physically competent to do the work of a permanent fireman and the commissioner then asked the city solicitor for an opinion as to his legal authority to appoint Mr. Kappler in view of his age.

The city solicitor replied that he saw no reason why Mr. Kappler could not be appointed if he had passed the physical examination and today Commissioner Salmon announced that Mr. Kappler had accepted the appointment. His home is at 127 London street. A call man he had been connected with since 1903.

The new appointment will give the department an active force of 170 men. Four more men will have to be appointed if the city is to be placed in its proper class for cities of its size by the fire underwriters, Mr. Salmon says.

EXPECT TO SOLVE ADRIATIC PROBLEM

ROME, May 6.—Vittorio Scialoja, Italian foreign minister, left today for Gallarate, on Lake Maggiore, where on Saturday he will meet Anton Trumbitch and N. J. Pachitch respectively foreign minister and former premier of Jugoslav. They will take up direct negotiations looking to the settlement of the Adriatic question, and it is expected a definite agreement will soon be reached.

FEAR WITNESSES MAY CLASH

Man Now in Tombs Under Indictment Said to Have Threatened Detective

Both to Testify at Hearing in Bankruptcy Proceedings

NEW YORK, May 7.—Extra guards were stationed in the federal court room here today when hearings were resumed before Commissioner Gilchrist in the bankruptcy proceedings brought by surety companies against Jules W. "Nicky" Arnstein and David W. Sullivan, former head of the brokerage firm of Sullivan & Co., in connection with New York's $5,000,000 bond theft plot. Clashes between witnesses were feared. "Big Ed" Furey, now in the Tombs under indictment in connection with the plot, and James Kean, a former private detective of Montreal, were to testify.

Furey is alleged to have threatened Kean because he informed the police of the plot to steal and dispose of the securities.

ARMS FOR MEXICO HIS MISSION?

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 7.—The arrest of Manuel M. Prieto, who had $30,000 in United States currency concealed on his person when searched, is believed to have frustrated a plot to supply the Obregon revolutionists in Mexico with quantities of arms and ammunition. Prieto, educated in an eastern university, is former mayor of Juarez and at one time one of Villa's right hand men.

BLACK BRUIN HAS A TICKLISH PALATE

The black bear of the United States has a palate that is as ticklish as your own.

He likes nice things to eat and if you'll take note of him at his dinner you'll observe that he enjoys them. He loves honey and he'll dig out a will been nest even at the risk of a terribly swollen head, and eyelids stung so many times that he's blind for days. He loves pork and he dotes on berries. If none of these are available, Mr. Black Bruin will search out a stream and fish. If, finally, he can't find fish, he'll eat anything, even dead things.

The black bear sleeps most of the winter and, curiously, if he's a healthy fellow, he'll wake up in the spring with most of the fat he put on in the luxurious fall. For a week or 10 days he ambles about lazily and eats exclusively of the juicy spring grass. Then something happens: he becomes ravenously hungry and about that time the sheep folds, hog pens, game in general and even cattle had better get out of his way. His appetite is enormous and, curiously again, he loses flesh for a while.

The black bear is playful and timid. Two bears will have a bully afternoon together. When he is alone, the bear will nevertheless enjoy himself mightily, rolling on his back, sparring with twigs and dodging them as they fly back at him, chasing butterflies, dancing on his hind legs and otherwise taking life pleasantly.

Black bear has been hunted as persistently in the United States as deer. Nevertheless, he still inhabits every section of the country.

When he has to fight, the black bear is courageous. He'll battle an army of dogs. He won't attack a man, but when cornered he will swipe him with his powerful, clawed paw, and if the man is close enough, he'll take a bite at him. Black bear weighs from 250 to 350 pounds.

The motor truck only began to be recognized in 1905 as a practical vehicle for commercial purposes.

VALUE

That Sister Mary's Compound is a VALUABLE remedy is more clearly known by the immense assistance it has given in numerous cases to people who have found it the essential remedy in restoring that vigor and health which means HEALTH. The value of the latter is priceless, but a valuable remedy, such as Sister Mary's Compound, cannot be over-estimated. The numerous testimonials of people and the varying cases in which it has justified the claims made for it, establish its VALUE and likewise furnish the best evidence of the effectiveness of Sister Mary's Compound. This preparation is a combination of Nature's ingredients, used and recognized by physicians from time almost immemorial. The most valued preparation on the market today for stomach and lung troubles, blood purifier and body builder, is Sister Mary's Compound.—Adv.

SPONORING DOES NOT MEAN EDUCATION

N.E.A. Six Special
NEW YORK, May 6.—It may be highly important to know how to spoon, but that is not education. Holding hands on the campus at night is not education. Mixing, under certain circumstances, is delightful, but it is not education, either. Therefore, beware the co-education-at college!

Each is the creed, though he does not express it in exactly those terms, of Dr. Jas. Rowland Angell, first successor to Andrew Carnegie, as president of the Carnegie corporation, which supervises the Carnegie benefactions. Institutions where young men and young women study together are in great danger of becoming mere matrimonial bureaux or clearing houses for flirtation, he fears!

Of course, Dr. Angell admits that young people are likely to find pleasure in each other's company no matter whether they go to college together or not, but he thinks they can avoid a number of pitfalls if they go to different educational institutions. "It is a safe assertion," he said, "that many young men and women would be better off in colleges of some other variety. Experience certainly suggests that a co-educational university is a dangerous place to send young women brought up in schools for boys and girls severally.

The sending of certain girls to such educational institutions without providing for guardianship of any kind is often in the highest degree reprehensible."

AT HALF WAY MARK FOR STRICKEN ARMENIA

$100,000,000 Campaign for Assistance Asked at Mass Meeting Held in First Congregational Church

NEW YORK, May 7.—The $100,000,000 campaign of the new world movement of Northern Baptists, has passed the $50,000,000 mark, it was announced here today at the headquarters of the organization. Arizona was the first state to reach its quota.

AUTO CAN GO 250 MILES ON A GALLON

ROME, May 6.—Dr. Pasilotti, a noted chemist, has discovered a method of cheaply producing liquid hydrogen. It may be used in driving automobiles, one gallon being sufficient for 250 miles. It may also be utilized in railway locomotives and in the engines of ocean steamers, he declares.

a description of the part played by his native land in the world war and of Armenians' forced flight before the advancing Turkish troops when their ammunition supply had become exhausted.

The speaker told of the almost miraculous saving of the lives of himself, his wife and children. He told of the loss of all of his property, which was of large value, except a gold watch, which he had been able to retain.

With hope some of help from Europe Dr. Yonan appealed to America and Americans for aid.

He said that the contribution of $2 would provide for the care of an Armenian child for a month.

"America has helped us and America is our last hope now. The situation is desperate. You can do one of two things. You must either ignore us and tell the Turk to go in and finish the job, or you must give us aid before it is too late."

Dr. Milton Littlefield, a secretary of the relief fund, presided at the meeting.

IN THE LAND OF CHERRY BLOSSOMS

Rogers Hall school girls stepped into the land of cherry blossoms and quaint legends last evening when they presented the dainty operetta, "The Japanese Girl," in the school gymnasium. The music was light, tuneful and catchy and the stage was dressed beautifully in colors characteristic of the far eastern country. The costumes worn were rich in coloring and fabric, some particularly gorgeous with brilliant butterfly effects. There also were three American characters, a globe-trotting school teacher as chaperone to a pair of giggling school girls.

Among the girls who took part were the Misses Sarah Painter, Lucille Wentworth, Priscilla Hall, Edna Hartley, Helen Oberhaus, Frances Dixon and Angelina Rush.

The stage decorations and designs of costumes were cared for by Miss Margaret Fox, Miss Anna Holmes Ruggles, of the school faculty, directed the music and Miss Florence Harrison was the stage director. Music for the operetta was provided by Miss Genevieve Berger, piano; Miss Kathleen Wright, violin, and Miss Katherine Whitten, mandolin.

ZIONIST CONVENTION

Arrangements for Immigration of 4,000,000 Jews to Palestine to be Discussed

NEW YORK, May 7.—Arrangements for the gradual immigration of 4,000,000 Jews to Palestine, following the San Remo sessions of the peace conference which gave Great Britain the mandate over that country for the establishment of a Jewish national home, will be discussed at an extraordinary conference of the Zionist Organization of America here next Sunday and Monday.

The conference, which will be attended by 1700 delegates from the United States and Canada, will be held at the Waldorf-Astoria. The most important and historic gathering of Jews ever held in America. Under the leadership of Justice Brandeis of the United States supreme court and United States Judge Julian W. Mack, the organization is expected to take immediate action toward the re-establishment of the Jewish people in the Near East after 2000 years of exile, thus bringing to pass the realization of the movement begun 33 years ago by Dr. Theodore Herzl, father of political Zionism.

In calling this extraordinary convention, which necessitated the postponement of the regular annual meeting, which had been scheduled for Atlantic City beginning May 30, the national executive said: "The historic action taken at San Remo on April 24, which gave recognition to the age long aspirations of the Jewish people opens up the immediate opportunity to them to conquer through work and organization that place for themselves in the world of civilization which has been their hope for 20 centuries, a place where Jewish ideals shall be free and where Jewish spirit shall be free to express itself in accordance with its traditions of social justice and righteousness."

These principles, it is said will govern the new Jewish home land: Political and civil equality, irrespective of race, sex or faith of all inhabitants; equality of opportunity which, with due regard to existing rights, shall tend to establish the ownership and control in the whole people; application of the cooperative principle so far as feasible in the organization of all agricultural, industrial, commercial and financial undertakings and the establishment of a fiscal policy which shall protect the people from the evils of land speculation and from every other form of financial oppression."

Although millions of Jews, particularly from eastern Europe are said to be prepared to leave at a moment's notice, the Zionists say that "no mad rush of immigrants will be permitted to flood Palestine," but that a well regulated, carefully, scientific immigration of perhaps 50,000 annually will be undertaken, in order to insure the proper economic and cultural development of the country."

In addition to formulating the policy of American Zionists at the world Zionist conference to be held in Carlsbad, Czechoslovakia, beginning July 4, the convention here will take up this Palestine reconstruction program. This will include the reclamation of swamp and waste land, irrigation, modernizing of Palestine cities, sanitation, the building of a harbor at Haifa and the establishment of clothing and shoe factories, oil and soap plants and other industrial and commercial enterprises.

TO INCREASE TOBACCO ACREAGE IN U. S.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 7.—Acreage of the United States to be devoted this year to tobacco raising probably will increase by about 10 percent over 1919, says a review made public by the department of markets, University of Kentucky.

"Kentucky will change the least in acreage of any of the great tobacco producing states," the review recites, "while indications are that crop acreage will be increased from 10 to 14 percent in the Carolinas and Virginia, about 500 percent in Georgia, the latter increase meaning that farmers of Georgia are taking to tobacco as a means of utilizing areas attacked by boll weevil and now unsuitable for cotton."

Concerning the world tobacco situation, the report which is based on information from authoritative domestic and foreign sources, says foreign acreage seems to have increased very little over 1919, but condition of the crop is greatly improved and this indicates there should be a considerable increase in production.

Recalling that at this time, a year ago there were vast quantities held in the United States, the bulletin declares that this year about equal, if not greater, stocks are held in this country.

"England, Holland and Scandinavia find themselves with markets still glutted with tobacco shipped to them from the United States from August to December, 1919, at which time the overplus of tobacco in the United States was lifted and moved across the Atlantic, either for cash or on credit, in order to free this country's markets for the coming selling season. "Therefore," the report says, "European countries this year apparently will not demand tobacco in as great quantities as before."

Delving into the probable price of tobacco for 1920, the report says: "With acreage now planned and if a normal yield per acre is produced, the price of all burley, except the highest type of cigar leaf, should show a marked falling off during the market season of 1920, and even the highest quality leaf may suffer from competition with the Virginia type, if this is produced in anywhere near the quantity indicated by the acreage planned."

Relative to the dark tobacco situation, the survey says, "The present deplorable stagnant market for it is resultant of two factors—the present situation of foreign exchange and the fact that growers were either unwilling or unable to market their tobacco early in the season."

"France, however," says the report, "is likely to become a heavier buyer of American dark tobacco within the near future, provided that English exchange recedes itself, because any improvement in English exchange is quite likely to be reflected in an improvement in French exchange rates. This statement does not apply as strongly, if at all, to Italian exchange rates and hence the situation as to an Italian market is not encouraging."

"It does not seem reasonable, therefore, to expect a recovery in dark tobacco prices until those abnormal economic conditions are relieved," the review concluded."

60 P. C. OF AMERICAN DEAD TO BE EXHUMED

PARIS.—Representatives of the American war department here estimate that about 60 percent of the American soldiers buried in France will be exhumed and taken back to their native land. A little more than 77,000 American burials have been registered by the graves registration service and about 71,000 of these are in France.

"Not all of these soldiers will be returned to American soil as the United States war department proposes to carry back to America only those requested by their next of kin. This policy will result in leaving in France those whose next of kin ask that they be left here and those whose removal is not requested. It is understood also that the unidentified American dead will be left in France."

Decision by the Franco-American commission that bodies of American soldiers buried in the zone of military operations may be exhumed after September 15 next ends a long period of negotiations between French and American authorities. The French government desired to meet the wishes of the American nation but entertained serious doubts as to the advisability of removing the American dead from the zone of operations this year owing to labor and transportation difficulties.

cutties involving the passing of the bodies over the railway and highways at a time when the French population was in the first stage of its recovery from the economic and sentimental strain of five years of war. The French government feared that the granting of such permission to America would bring on clamorous agitation from other nations for similar permission and that this would hamper the rehabilitation of French industrial conditions.

American officers, however, have vigorously urged that the number of Americans in the zone of operations was relatively small; that the traditional policy of the United States was to return its dead from foreign soil and that the American government could do no less than heed the pleas of those next of kin who insisted that the bodies of their relatives be returned to the homes.

FARMERS LOST MONEY ON RECORD WHEAT CROP

TOPEKA, May 7.—Kansas farmers raised the record wheat crop of 1919—approximately 150,000,000 bushels, which was marketed for $230,000,000—at a loss of 43 cents an acre, state average, according to Secretary J. C. Mohler, of the state board of agriculture, who bases his conclusion on an exhaustive analysis of the crop and questionnaires of 2,640 wheat growers.

Air becomes a liquid at 372 degrees below zero.

in all counties in the state. The summary summarized his report on the Kansas wheat crop as follows:

Cost per acre $25.25
Return per acre $24.77
Loss per acre48

The report states that if the return of the crop had been equal to the cost of production, "as calculated in this investigation," the average farmer would have received:

A moderate rate of interest (5 percent) for the use of capital represented by land, buildings, and equipment for wheat.

The going wage of a farm hand for his labor; for the greater part of his time to wheat, $53 a month and board. A compensation of $2.50 a day for his services as a manager for the time devoted to wheat, an average of 87 days a year.

Sufficient allowances to cover necessary repairs and replacements.

One-third his house rent. Some protection against crop failures, through charging to the acres harvested the cost of seed and seedling the acres that are on the average abandoned annually.

Secretary Mohler said: "A considerable cash balance in the wheat grower's hands at the end of the season does not necessarily mean a profit. The large gross returns from the crop and the fact that it left balances temporarily large in the accounts of many farmers should not be allowed to hide the loss sustained."

Air becomes a liquid at 372 degrees below zero.

Tells Fat People Perverted Craving

For Wrong Foods Must be Overcome.

Says Arbolone Tablets Does This and Reduces Weight, Too.

The person who is too fat is told to diet and the very things that a perverted appetite craves are the ones "you must not eat." Obesity is unnatural. It is like an endless chain. Eating wrong foods in the wrong way produces a perverted appetite. Then the appetite demands and craves the wrong foods and converts them into needless, embarrassing fat. Tablets Arbolone stops the perverted craving for the wrong foods, gives a normal appetite, eliminates the fat-forming elements through kidneys and bowels, dissolves the fatty surplus and sends it back through eliminative channels, causing improved health and strength. One or two tubes will convince any fat person that Arbolone is what they need to reduce safely and successfully. Sold by thirty thousand druggists in sealed tubes with full directions.

Arlington Mill Blue SERGE

With absolute knowledge of the quality of this Blue Serge, knowing what I paid for it, knowing what I sold it to you for a year ago, two years ago, yes, and four years hence, I would know I must have pleased you, even if constant demand and duplicate orders didn't prove it to my entire satisfaction. I want you to pass the word around among your friends, tell them exactly what you paid, tell them how the suit wore, tell them exactly how I pleased you.

MY OBJECT IS to interest them in the BLUE SERGE SUIT I am selling this season for $27.50. I bought last week, 18 pieces for this store 20 per cent. less than I paid, for it three weeks ago—it is, even a better blue, ½ oz. heavier in weight. This reduction sounds small but when you buy in large quantity it amounts to real money. I don't hesitate to say that not a man in Lowell who has done any shopping this season, even looking in windows, will guess the price to be $27.50 after he sees it made and on your back. I don't mind telling you that this serge was never intended for low priced suitings and it is no secret that there is no concern in Lowell or New England, which can sell it anywhere near as low.

I GUARANTEE to put every cent where it counts most—into the clothing itself, no costly plate glass or swell mahogany fixtures, no oriental rugs, no oil paintings, and no haughty floorwalkers. I carry no charge accounts and don't have to make up any credit losses. I've cut out expense to the bone—and save you $10 to $15.00.

All garments sold under this express stipulation—That the Customer Be Satisfied or No Sale. GUARANTEED BLUE SERGE, 12

oz. in weight, absolutely all wool, double warp yarn, and fast color.

If it fades, I'll make you a new suit and you can keep the old one.

TRUSTS AND MONOPOLIES

England Has Started an Investigation — Profiteering Committees at Work

LONDON, May 7.—England has started an investigation of the past war growth of alleged trusts and monopolies.

A profiteering committee which has been looking into the activity of electric light companies and lamp bulb manufacturers, in a report recently made public, says that "a trade combination does exist among electric light manufacturers in this country and exercises a powerful influence over the conduct and development of the industry."

It is known as the Electric Light Manufacturers' association, the report says, and has been created primarily in the interests of three firms — the British Thomson-Houston company, the General Electric company and Messrs. Siemens Brothers. It is reported to include from 90 to 95 per cent of the industry, to fix prices and regulate output, says the profiteering committee.

The prices fixed by association, the report says, become the standard for all lamps sold in this country, whether made by association or non-association manufacturers or imported from abroad. Because of this standard price policy the general public reap no benefit from lamps of cheaper manufacture, the advantage going wholly to distributors.

Standard vacuum lamps, now sold to the public for three shillings, states the report, could be sold at two shillings at which price the manufacturer and distributor would still have a satisfactory working profit.

"One and a quarter million half-watt lamps," adds the report, "sold to the public in 1919 at twelve shillings and sixpence each were purchased in Holland by three associated manufacturers at about three shillings a lamp. They could have been sold at not more than eight shillings which would still have left ample margin for the importers and distributors. Importers and distributors between them made profit on these lamps, of something like $1,400,000 over and above what would appear to us reasonable."

"Since the largest of the three dominant firms," continues the report, "is under the majority control of an American electrical concern, there is some danger that the interests of the British lamp industry may be subordinated to American interests."

"There is a possibility of an international combination comprising British, Dutch and American manufacturers which would be able to control supplies and dominate prices over a considerable part of the world."

"The operations of an association which so effectively controls an important industry," concludes the report, "should be subject to public supervision and control."

WORLD-WIDE MOVE TO BEAUTIFY CITIES

MONTVIDEO, May 7.—Worldwide legislation to stop the "hideous deformity" of streets, parks, gardens and plazas and to beautify all cities was advocated at the first congress of architects which has just closed its sessions here.

Representatives were present from all South American countries as well as from the United States. The congress in proposing legislation for the adoption of regular plans and the location of public buildings and monuments, recommended the continuation of the system of uniform squares. Classes in "urbanization" in universities and special schools of architecture were also proposed, a resolution stating that these were indispensable for the culture of the people.

Emphasis was also laid on the need of construction with government aid of cheap and hygienic homes for laborers in industrial sections. The congress urged also that there should be established in each country a "national bank for the construction of economic houses" with funds contributed by employers and capitalists.

OTTAWA SOCIAL CLUB

The Ottawa Social club conducted its 12th annual dancing party in Lincoln hall last evening. Concert numbers were given by the orchestra and general dancing was enjoyed till a seasonable hour. The officers of the evening were Joseph Clark, general manager; John Billingsley, assistant; James Curran, floor director; William McNamara, assistant and John Lafferty, chief aid.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the Trades and Labor council was held last evening with the president in the chair, and only routine business was transacted.

Read these letters—they tell the story of RED PILLS

Took RED PILLS nine years ago. Still well

I took RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women nine years ago, as I was then suffering from general weakness brought on by overwork. I was sick in bed and was beginning to get discouraged, as I was growing weaker every day. I had gas on the stomach, and that combined with sore back made me suffer terribly. I had consulted several physicians, who were unable to help me any, and so I then took RED PILLS, which relieved me altogether in a very short time. I am now perfectly well and happy.

—Mrs. EMILIA DESILET
77 Clinton Street, Woonsocket, R.I.

Extreme Weakness

RED PILLS have helped me of extreme weakness from which I had been suffering. My mother had recommended them to me, knowing through experience of their beneficial properties, and now that I have become familiar with the good results obtained through their use, they have been my favorite remedy for the past sixteen years.

—Mrs. DELIA LAVIGNE
547 Silver Street, Manchester East, N.H.

Keeping her strength up with RED PILLS

Truly, RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women are the ideal medicine for weak and sick women who wish to keep up their strength, especially for mothers who have to bring up a family. I myself used them at different times during my life, and always with the most satisfactory results. They helped me at each confinement, and my children were all strong and healthy. Now when I see any of my friends who are weak and sickly, I cannot recommend them anything better than RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women.

—Mrs. ERLIDA BIREAU
302 Moody Street, Lowell, Mass.

A recent confinement had left me in such a weakened condition that several of my friends advised me to give RED PILLS a trial, stating that they were the surest remedy, and one which would be sure to give me prompt results. I had taken but a few boxes when I began to notice that I was getting stronger, and it was not long before I was well again and enjoying good health. Now, when the occasion arises, I am always anxious to recommend RED PILLS to Weak and Suffering Women.

—Mrs. ETIENNE CHAMPAGNA
461 Rimmson Street, Manchester West, N.H.

RED PILLS are for Women only

They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "FRANCO-AMERICAN CHEMICAL COMPANY LIMITED" is on every box.

INDIANS IN MAINE TO OCCUPY LAND WHICH WAS ABODE OF ANCESTORS

PORTLAND, Me., May 7.—Indians living in Maine will make their homes this summer on land which was the abode of their ancestors 230 years ago. As part of the Maine centennial celebration, tribes of Penobscots and Passamaquoddy will dwell at Deering Oaks, which has been occupied by pale faces since Sept. 21, 1688. English settlers took possession then after a conflict with the redskins.

The centennial committee will establish villages at Deering Oaks typical of the original tribal settlements. Wigwags beneath the great oaks will shelter the sole survivors of the powerful tribes that have passed to the happy hunting ground. On a nearby stream they will paddle their canoes. Many white visitors are expected to mingle with the braves, squaws and papooses making a scene not unlike that of two centuries ago except for the absence of firewater and an occasional clash.

The Strand. That's the reason why this theatre continues in a rank by itself in its particular line of entertainment. Bert Lytell in "Alias Jimmy Valentine" and Miss Constance Binney in "The Stolen Kiss" are the big attractions on the bill for the week-end. And besides these there is a good comedy and an excellent. Weekly that gives balance and variety. The program is one of the best of the season. Don't miss it.

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

"The Bide-A-Wee Home," with Claud and Fannie Usher in the leading parts, is quite the most touching little play of the current season at the R. F. Keith theatre. It is perfectly acted, and there are touches of most unusual comedy in it. The work of Raymond Schram, singers, and Helen and Hunter, in comedy and music, is an excellent contribution to the bill. Other acts are: Johnny Small & Co., Welch, Mealy & Melrose, Karl Kary and Margot & Francis.

OPERA HOUSE

"The Tiger Lady," a melodrama of high degree, which is being produced with unusual skill by the Lowell Play-ers at the Opera House this week, is giving unqualified satisfaction to the large number of patrons who are in "The Stolen Kiss" are the big attractions on the bill for the week-end. And besides these there is a good comedy and an excellent. Weekly that gives balance and variety. The program is one of the best of the season. Don't miss it.

MERIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Love unworthily bestowed is the motif of "The Cost," the picture in which Violet Fleming is featured at the Merimack Square theatre today and tomorrow. It is an excellent screen version of David Graham Phillips' famous novel of college and political life. Miss Fleming has a role of considerable emotional appeal and an adequate support her. The other feature of these two days is Bryant Washburn in "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," the celebrated stage comedy success. A comedy, the International News and a Burton Holmes travel picture complete the bill.

THE OWL THEATRE

Everybody had a wonderful time last night at the Owl theatre. Margaret Fisher in the "Dangerous Talent" is an absorbing mystery drama. The picture holding its audience from first to the last scene. The vaudeville bill was never better. "El Cota," vaudeville's best xylophonist certainly merits the title. Mabelle and Archambault rapid fire singing, talking-dancing act received many much deserved encores. "Theissans" Dogs are unusually classy and clever. The Ben Turpin comedy, Fox News with 6th episode "Lost City," complete the bill for which the performances are continuous daily starting at 1 p. m. Three complete shows. Night patrons arriving before 7:45 see this excellent program of vaudeville and pictures.

DISCUSSED HOME AND FOREIGN MISSIONS

Miss Ona A. Evans told of the work being done in the home mission field, both in rural communities and among the foreign-born in cities, at a largely attended gathering of women representing the Andover and Woburn alliance of the Women's Home Missionary association and the Andover and Woburn branch of the women's board of missions yesterday in the First Congregational church.

Mrs. Edward T. Gould of Lawrence, president of the alliance, presided at the morning session.

Miss Evans spoke interestingly of work being carried on in the isolated regions of New England that are communally out of contact with the church. She also gave a detailed account of the program carried on in the north and west and of church extension and other projects underway.

Rev. Paul Leeds told of his work in Louisiana, which he described as being his "Indian Parish." He has been working for over a quarter of a century in a district about the size of Rhode Island. His work has been to bring the gospel to the Indians, who are scattered in small groups in the swamps and along the coast.

IT TAKES THE JOY

Out of Life—in the Spring When Impure Blood, Lost Appetite.

Lifelongness, lassitude and that tired feeling pull down health to the low level that invites illness.

The knees become weak and life seems hardly worth living.

In this condition Hood's Sarsaparilla has the real "human touch." It meets the necessity promptly and completely. It purifies the blood, creates an appetite, "makes food taste good," and aids digestion, thus naturally increasing strength and in a common-sense way building up the whole system. Then the bright days of spring find in you happy response, and the whole world smiles again.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla for your Spring Medicine—used as such for nearly 50 years by thousands. It "makes food taste good."

Keep on hand Hood's Pills as a gentle laxative or (in larger doses) as an active cathartic.—Adv.

toxicated Indians that he met by chance by the roadside. He told them his story and they repeated it to others, and later the members of the tribe began to struggle in small numbers to attend the church that he had erected.

In addition to his labors among the Indians, Mr. Leeds has attempted to interest the French Creoles of his district in his work as a Christian missionary.

"The French Creoles of today," he said, "are practically the same as those of the days when Grand Pre was depopulated as described by Longfellow in 'Evangeline'."

In the early stages of his work, Mr. Leeds stated, he was greatly handicapped by his unfamiliarity with the language. In his preaching he was obliged to depend upon interpreters. One of these so altered a sermon in which he strongly condemned the use of intoxicating liquor that it seemed to the Indians that he advocated the liberal use of strong drink.

"That Indian interpreter," added Mr. Leeds, "I later found was the only man among them that had a drop of white blood in his veins."

The delegates were welcomed to the church by Mrs. Fred B. Sweet. There was a short response by Mrs. Gould. Luncheon was served shortly after noon.

During the luncheon music was furnished by the Beacon Hill orchestra. Mrs. Odis Floyd Lamson of Seattle spoke on conditions in her native Armenia. She told of her coming to America to study medicine and of her marriage to an American physician. She pictured graphically the conditions of suffering among the Armenians, and especially pleaded the cause of the children among her countrymen.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

HERE'S HOW

patriots. "Armenia had a chance to become rich in 1914," she said. "Instead, she preferred to remain true to the motto, 'Christ first; others next; self last.'"

The Melrose Highlands church invited the delegates to hold their next annual meeting in that church in November, and the invitation was accepted.

At the afternoon session, the program was devoted to foreign missions. The devotional service was led by Dr. Hawkins.

There was a solo by Miss Marion McKnight, and Mrs. E. Victor Bigelow told of the work of "our youngest and newest missionary," Miss Ruth Perkins. Miss Perkins formerly lived in Melrose, but she is now employed as a teacher at the American Collegiate institute at Smyrna.

"The Emergency Needs of the Woman's Board of Missions" was the subject of an address by Miss Alice M. Kyle.

Later came the young women's hour. Features were Japanese Jingles, sung in costume by Mrs. George H. Unton with Mrs. Frank Morse as accompanist, and an allegorical pageant by the young women of the First church, entitled "The Opportunity Factory."

REFUSES TO OFFER ARMENIAN MANDATE

WASHINGTON, May 7. (By the Associated Press.)—The council of the League of Nations has refused to offer a mandate for Armenia to any power unless certain requested stipulations are embodied in the supreme council in the Turkish settlement.

According to official information received here yesterday, the league council has insisted that the boundaries of Armenia be fixed; that a free port, preferably Batum, be accorded her; and that protection for the defense of the new state be provided before the league council will be free to ask an independent power to assume mandatory powers over the country.

The council of the league declares that no state should be asked to assume the burden of financing Armenia, but suggests assumption of joint financial responsibility by the powers.

If the mandate should be offered to a small power, as has been suggested, it was said, provision for an international military force should be made in order not to inflict an impossible burden upon a country incapable of bearing it. At the same time such an international force, it was pointed out, would give to all the powers and interest in the Armenian nation.

The action of the council of the league, it was stated, was taken previous to the decision of the supreme council at San Francisco to offer the Armenian mandate to the United States. In requesting President Wilson to fix the Armenian boundaries, the supreme council is believed by officials to have shown a disposition to comply with that particular of the league's suggestion concerning Armenia. The direct proffer of a mandate contrary to the league's advice is taken by officials as indicating not so much a spirit of antagonism to the league by the supreme council as a desire to fulfill a political obligation to the United States which the league has felt incumbent upon it in the Turkish settlement.

A Spring Tonic

Medicinal Native Plants that hold the secret of life and death—By Lee H. Smith, M. D.

A man is seldom healthy and strong who lives in the dark or in sunless rooms. After all, Nature's ways are found to be the best. Nature's remedies are always best for eradicating disease, and by this we mean a medicine made of plants and herbs.

Dr. Pierce, founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., in many years of extensive practice, found that he could pin his faith to an alternative extract of certain plants and roots for the eradication of blood diseases. This he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Containing no alcohol nor narcotics, entirely vegetable, this "Discovery" makes for rich red blood and is a powerful tissue-builder; gives the tired business man or woman renewed strength and health. Rapidly growing school-girls and boys often show impoverished blood by the pimples or boils which appear on face or neck. To eradicate the poisons from the blood, and feed the heart, lungs and stomach on pure blood, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If you "put your house in order" by making the blood pure you will not be subject to such troubles. The spring of the year is the best time to "clean house" because of the toxins (poisons) stored up within the body during the long winter. This "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce's is just the thing for those who are recovering from attacks of colds, flu, or pneumonia. It has been sold for over fifty years and can be had in every drug store in the land in tablets or liquid. Send 10c for trial package of tablets; Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y.

When the Boy "Cuts Loose," His Clothes Must Resist Rough Wear—

And what boy won't "cut loose" these days. It is the "open season" for boys' strenuous activities. With wonderful weather, and fascinating games and sports tempting the boy, you can't expect young blood to sit still.

And that requires durable clothes—real strong, dependable clothes such as we have here for you. What a relief to know that when your boy comes home after a round of hard play, his clothes will still be in good shape; to know that there will be no mending to do or no buttons to sew on.

Ben Bunny Gets Spring Cleaned—Scramble Squirrel, Too!

Rubadub, the fairyman, called Ben Bunny to come next and get cleaned up to go to the Land-Where-Spring-Was-Coming.

Now, of course, Ben had been asleep all winter under warm blankets and nice white bedsprad (of snow), but you know how you get tousled when you're asleep, and you need to be cleaned.

When Rubadub called Ben, Scramble Squirrel, the fairyman, called Ben Bunny to come next and get cleaned up to go to the Land-Where-Spring-Was-Coming.

BEN BUNNY AND SCRAMBLE SQUIRREL WHISPERED SOMETHING INTO RUBADUB'S EARS.

washed and combed in the morning, very much indeed. But Ben had another reason for coming to Scramble Squirrel.

Scramble Squirrel was with him, and Scramble had the same reason Ben had for coming. He, too, had been asleep all winter in a bedstead of tree roots, rubbing, until both Ben and Scramble looked as spick and span as laundry baskets.

"You'll do now, run along and have a good time," nodded Rubadub to the two of them. But instead of going away, Ben Bunny whispered something into Rubadub's ear, on one side, and Scramble Squirrel whispered the same thing into the ear on the other side.

I'll tell you tomorrow what it was that Ben and Scramble wanted. (Copyright, 1920, N.E.A.)

CONTEST WINNING CLASS BANQUETED

The class of girls which won the recent three months' collection contest was given a banquet last night by the losers, the young men's Sunday school class of the Westminster United Presbyterian church. The tables were very prettily decorated and individual specialties indicated the seating arrangement.

Those who were in charge of the banquet were: Mrs. Henry Ashley, Mrs. K. J. MacKitterick and Mrs. Alexander MacDonald. Those of the losing class who were the servers were: Malcolm McKinley, Daniel MacDonald, Bert McLean, Leslie Ashley, Allan McKinley and James MacGaughey.

The Sunday school teachers were present, including Miss Margaret Blackie, teacher of the winning class. The superintendent of the Sunday school, John D. MacKinley gave a short address. Others to speak were Alexander Ross, the secretary, and Rev. S. A. Jackson, the pastor.

LOWELL BOY RUNAWAY

Agent C. F. Richardson of the Lowell Humane society has received the following from the Brooklyn Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, about a boy run-away from Lowell: "On April 21 a boy named Earl Reed of 371 Lakeview avenue was found wandering in a New York street at 4 a. m. and was brought to our society. When he was interviewed by one of the agents it was decided to enter against him a charge of disorderly child in the children's court. The court, however, remanded him to the society for care until May 5, pending an investigation." The society in its communication asked for a report from Mr. Richardson as to further steps to be taken.

BATTERY B QUOTA ALREADY ASSURED

Without any doubt the quota of 120 men for Battery B will be arrived at long before the specified time for recruiting, one month, has expired. Last evening the 100th man signed up, so that already 100 men have joined in three days. As it looks now the battery for Lowell will be the first fully recruited and so will be the first to receive full equipment.

Recruiting will continue each night at the armory until the quota of 121 men for the battery is completed. After the physical examination, which will come later, there may be other chances to join.

GREAT INTEREST IN FAT Let Posham ELIMINATION CONTEST

CHICAGO, May 7.—Fat persons all over the United States are watching with great interest the 50-day experiment in reducing weight which is being conducted here under the supervision of Dr. John Hill Robertson, city health commissioner. Inquiries already received here suggest the probability that if the Chicago experiment is successful it may be tried in other communities.

Success reported in the first week when the average weight of the 24 women composing the first class was reduced by 3.5 pounds has prompted the organization of other classes in this city, and altogether more than 200 persons here are trying to see how rapidly they can regain their youthful figures.

The leaders of the fat elimination contest here aver that the experiment can be tried by anyone suffering from a surplus of adipose tissue. Reasonable exercise and a strictly controlled diet

Speed Away Your Pimples

If you have pimples, act at once on this suggestion—there can be no harm in it and every probability of wonderful benefit. Get some Posham and apply directly over the eruptions tonight. In the morning, examine the skin for improvement. If encouraged, continue as necessary and you will doubtless marvel at the rapidity and effectiveness of this treatment. Now that you know what it can do, you will find many ways to utilize the healing properties of Posham.

Sold everywhere. For free sample write to Emergency Laboratories, 243 West 47th St., New York City.

And Posham Soap, being medicated with Posham, will benefit your skin while used daily for toilet and bath.

constitute two of the chief features of the Chicago experiment.

The daily menus of the reducing class are prepared by Miss Ruth Wilbar, of the health commissioner's training school for nurses, who believes this supervision of diet to be essential to success. Those ambitious to become slim are permitted to have lean meat but once a day and potatoes are forbidden. If one is hungry between meals Miss Wilbar suggests that a glass of water will satisfy that "empty feeling."

Anti-Fat Menu

Here is a typical menu prepared by Miss Wilbar for one day:

Breakfast—One medium apple, one egg, one slice of toast, one cup of coffee with one and a half tablespoons of skimmed milk instead of cream.

10.30 a. m.—One-half cup of bulion with one cracker.

Luncheon—Medium serving of lean cold roast beef; two thin slices of rye bread; lettuce and cottage cheese salad; two and one-half tablespoons of French dressing; tea with lemon; one cracker.

Dinner—Large serving of boiled cod with lemon; large serving of plain cauliflower; one scant teaspoon of butter; lettuce salad or celery; one-half an orange; black coffee.

10.30 p. m.—One-half cup hot skim milk.

Each of the women is expected to work an hour a day in her garden—if she has a garden—otherwise to take long walks and setting up exercises.

Daily the women report by telephone and receive instructions, including a diet for the following day. On Thursday of each week they report at the city hall and are weighed, and the week's loss—or gain—recorded on their charts.

The 24 women in the first class averaged in weight at the start of the experiment, 201.66 pounds, 65.53 pounds more than their average normal weight, and Dr. Robertson says he expects to take approximately 40 of those pounds from each woman.

The leader of the class is Mrs. Nellie Leonard, age 32, a typist, who slipped the scales at 223 pounds but lost eight pounds in the first seven days. Dr. Robertson figured her normal weight at 141 pounds.

Miss Catherine Scott, aged 28, also a typist, is the "baby of the class," she weighed in at 166½ and her normal weight was calculated at 121. Miss Scott stands just a half-inch above five feet.

The anti-fat crusade is a serious venture, Dr. Robertson says, aimed to point the dangers and discomforts of excess weight and show the ease with which it can be eliminated.

OPEN DRIVE AGAINST RECKLESS BUYING

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7.—Leaders of churches, and women's clubs and social workers here are engaged in a city-wide drive to induce residents of Louisville to join in a campaign to cut down the cost of living by curtailing reckless buying at high prices. Thousands have already joined and it is hoped eventually to enlist 200,000 persons.

The movement was inaugurated by Louisville club women. It was endorsed and given impetus by the Presbyterian Ministers' circle and Crescent Hill Forward club and the Conference of Social Workers. Churches have approved it and United Trades and Labor assembly and the Building Trades council have been asked to join in a permanent organization.

It is proposed to organize a cheaper living committee to be composed of representatives of many civic organizations.

Mayor George W. Smith has given the movement a semi-official endorsement by announcing his adherence and Mrs. Smith has promised that her household will be conducted so near as possible along the lines of economy suggested by the promoters of the idea.

The drive against reckless buying is headed by the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Welch, president of the Louisville Ministerial association, who is aided by a committee including in its membership a Roman Catholic priest and a Jewish rabbi as well as representatives of women's clubs.

"Buy no new clothing, shoes or other wearing apparel," is the first plank in the economy platform. "Wear what you have, no matter how shabby or out of style," it continues and adds:

"Reduce the consumption of meat in each household; abstain from candy, soft drinks and other confections; deposit money in the bank and keep a record of money saved through practicing economies."

"If the people of Louisville will take this movement seriously," said the Rev. Dr. Welch, "we actually can force down prices here on the necessities of life. Persons generally are spending money like drunken sailors; labor, which should be producing essentials, is devoted to non-essentials. This is not the time for overalls, except for working people. We don't want fads—what we want is at least 200,000 Louisville people to join this campaign. Let's make it a badge of honor to wear old clothes, carry lunches to the office, abstain from sweets and buy nothing not absolutely needed. Then watch prices drop."

FOR EDUCATION OF AMERICANS IN PARIS

PARIS, May 7.—American students are to have an opportunity to obtain an education in the higher domains of knowledge under the direction of the faculties of the University of Paris. This announcement has just been made by Dr. Paul Appell, who has become rector of the great French educational institution, in succession to the late Henri Poincaré.

Dr. Appell has just told the Associated Press correspondent that classrooms, laboratories and libraries of Paris are to be opened to young Americans. The city of Paris has given a site on the Boulevard St. Germain on which it is proposed to build an American Institute where American students can be lodged, have their club and auditorium.

It is intended also to provide for American students opportunities for athletics and hygienic living such as they have enjoyed in America. Dr. Appell states that, owing to the heavy war burdens imposed upon France, she would be gratified if America would co-operate with her in a practical way in the creation of the proposed American Institute.

Unbounded admiration for the spirit of the American nation was expressed by Dr. Appell in an interview granted to the correspondent at the Sorbonne. He declared that he desired intensely to promote opportunities for young Americans to pursue or perfect their studies in France.

Dr. Appell said that the law faculty of the University of Paris whose fame is worldwide was considering arrangements for receiving foreign students who until now had been entitled only to attend special courses. The faculty of medicine also would extend its privileges to foreigners particularly in laboratory research and clinical studies. A special degree of doctor of medicine would be granted but this would not

He also indicated that the Pasteur Biological Institute, the Hadram Institute and the Institute of Radiotherapeutics and probably the recently established Institute of Optics would co-operate in offering opportunities for American students to study in Paris.

BREAKS JAIL WITH AID OF NEEDLE

RAWLINS, Wyo., May 7.—With a needle obtained in the prison shirt factory as his only tool, Bert Lofton has escaped from the state prison here. William Smith, his companion was captured while trying to scale the prison wall.

Lofton and Smith were confined to the death house cell because of their known desperate character. Lofton found that a soft piece of steel covered a drain. With his great patience

A Mistake Made by Many

Don't wait for rheumatism to indicate diseased kidneys. and skill, he slowly cut a hole through the steel with the needle. After removing a pipe and a plate they crawled through the hole, picked the lock of a steel door connecting with the main corridor of the prison, scaled the roof and dropped to the ground. In the prison yard, they found a steel bar, which the prisoners bent into a hook, to fasten an improvised rope of the prison wall.

Lofton escaped but Smith was caught by a guard.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

James Cassella, charged with alleged assault upon his wife with a dangerous weapon, was called in court today, but given continuance under the sum of $200 for his appearance on Monday, May 12. Mrs. Cassella alleges that her husband attacked her with a stiletto and stabbed her in the face during a quarrel late yesterday afternoon in their home in Summer street. Officer Noonan made the arrest of Cassella on Summer street. When brought before his wife, who had been arrested by another officer, Cassella murmured surprise that his wife was alive, saying that he thought she was dead. Cassella offered no resistance when the officer arrested him. He was out on bail over night.

Charles Teaster, charged with drunkenness, rounded out his "twentieth" appearance in the court today. His wife testified that he was rough at home and gave her no help to support her children. The defendant pleaded for leniency promising to reform when the judge ordered a sentence to the house of correction. The sentence was then changed to six months to the house of correction suspended for one year within which time he must remain away from the house and pay $15 a week to the probation officer for the support of his family.

Joseph V. Paul arrested upon capias appeared in court charged with failure to comply with the conditions of his probation, the support of his wife, and was sentenced to four months in the house of correction. He was already under suspended sentence, but that was revoked. Ettore Manni, of 15 Cedar street, was charged with the unlawful use of an automobile belonging to Giuseppe Donnarumma. He was ordered under sufficient security for his appearance in court on next Friday.

Millard L. Theoharous was fined $5 for illegally keeping liquor and exposing it for sale on May 5.

Stefanos Koukias was charged with assault and battery upon Peter Psaltis. His case was continued until next Wednesday.

Agnes Richards was charged with drunkenness and was sentenced to two months to the house of correction. She appealed and was ordered in the sum of $200 for her appearance before the superior court on the first Monday in June.

CARDS ANNOUNCE MEMBERS' ASSEMBLY

Cards have been printed announcing the members' assembly to be held under chamber of commerce auspices in Memorial hall next Thursday evening, at which time A. E. Winship of Boston and S. Wales Dixon of Hartford, Conn., will be the principal speakers. Mr. Winship, widely known as an editor, journalist and educational lecturer, will speak on "The Menace of America." It is not an anti-radical talk, but a warning against careless attitudes toward education for young people. Dr. Dixon, who is superintendent of parks in Hartford, will speak on "What Hartford Does For Its Young People." His lecture will be illustrated and among other views shown will be several of the outdoor dance pavilion operated there by the city and a replica of which has been agitated for Lowell.

Pres. Goodell and Secretary G. W. Wells have accepted invitations from Manager Thomas Lees, of the Bay State division of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company, to accompany municipal officials, road trustees and members of the home rule committee on the maiden trip of a one-man car in the city, which is planned for Thursday afternoon of next week.

Because of a lack of a quorum, due to the enforced absence from the city of a number of members, the regular meeting of the board of directors called for yesterday afternoon, was adjourned until Monday noon, May 10.

High Prices Not Due to Labor

Increased labor costs are responsible for the high cost of living.

Prepared by W. J. Lauck, former secretary of the war labor board, the study seeks to show that profiteering in industry is the fundamental cause for high prices in practically all commodities. It gives many statistics to support that contention.

Calling attention to the many war-made millionaires, the study contends that a three-fold relationship exists, "between high prices, profiteering and the addition to the quota of millionaires" and that the increase in the wealth of the wealthy is an "unanswerable refutation" to all attempts to charge labor with profiteering and to all attempts to hold labor responsible for the high cost of living.

"For, if invested wealth gets a larger return," says the study, "a larger proportion of the national income than formerly, the man who gives personal service or labor is bound to get a smaller proportion. The menace of the future lies in the probability that the vast profits which are still held in reserve will be capitalized in order that, under the pretext of a fair return on capital those who own them may continue to take the larger proportion of national income, even at the expense of very great suffering on the part of the workers, when the over stimulation of war has passed away."

Of the extraordinary increase in the price of sugar, now amounting to 300 per cent, the study says the increase in labor cost paid by the consumer, was less than 15 per cent. The result of advanced prices, according to the quoted reports of 12 companies producing over half of the sugar consumed in the United States was pictured in the net profits of these concerns which it was said rose from an average of $11,000,000 during the years 1912-1914 to $34,000,000 for the years 1916-1918.

In the meat packing industry where profits were said to have increased between 300 and 400 per cent, the labor item was shown so small that a wage increase of 100 per cent, would add less than 5 per cent. to the total cost of the meat. The increase in price between 1914 and 1918 was shown as eight times the total labor cost, and the 1918 price represented 25 times the total labor item.

Profits absorb approximately one-half the retail price, of certain kinds of cloth, the report declared, while the labor item amounts to from one-fourteenth to one-twentieth of the price. Similar relations were pictured in the manufacture of men's garments.

Shoes, according to the study, "furnished a splendid opportunity for the profiteer." The profit items in 1914, it was charged, absorbed nearly one-half the price paid by the consumer, or nearly three times the total labor cost, while in 1917, the profit items amounted to approximately three-fifths of the total price and more than five times the total labor cost.

Increases in the retail price of bituminous coal were shown at four times the increase in labor costs while the proportion of the proceeds of the industry received by the coal operator was shown as increased from 75 to 90 per cent.

Profiteering did not stop with the armistice, the report declares, presenting figures to show that corporation profits in 1919, were 110 per cent. over the pre-war average which means, the study added, that 1919 profits were more than double the average for the years 1912-1914.

An average of $1200 per family of five during the years 1915-1918 was declared to be probably a highly conser-ervative estimate of the actual cost of corporation profiteering to the consumer.

Concluding his study, Mr. Lauck submitted the following general demands in the name of the railroad workers: "Labor in general and railroad labor in particular, must have wages increases proportionate to advances in living costs."

"2.—In the present crisis, and for all time to come, producers and middle men must be restrained from advancing prices in excess of increases in labor and material costs."

"3.—Producers and middlemen must refrain from including income and excess profit taxes in their costs and passing them on to the consumer with an added profit."

"4.—The principle of a living wage must be accepted and established in order that normal production may be restored and increased production hoped for in all fields of industry."

Our Economic Crisis

Treasury expert says that America's economic crisis demands the sort of unity that won the war. For about a year after our declaration of war he says, our loans to the allies were our principal effective contribution to winning the war they were fighting. The loans we made to Russia in the eastern front for six months. It was the loan we made to Italy in the fall of 1917, when the great offensive broke. Italy that gave the Italian people courage and enabled Italy to replace lost munitions and supplies. In the spring of 1918 it was our silver that held India for the allies. In the summer of 1918, American credits sustained the French when Paris itself was under gunner. Read this instructive and interesting story in The Supplement.

WORK OF LOWELL GUILD

Season Demanding Strict Attention to Babies Has Begun—Milk Station

The season has begun when many mothers with babies in their arms, and often with other toddlers led by the hand, will begin in larger numbers to pass in procession along Dutton street to the red brick building at No. 15, with its weather-worn sign—"Lowell Guild—Visiting Nurses—Milk Station."

With the earliest warm weather, the little ones begin to develop feeding troubles of varying kinds. Then it is that the wise mother takes the youngster to the milk station.

Many people think that the milk station is a place where milk is distributed free to those in need of it. This is not true.

A good many years ago a leading manufacturer, Thomas Nesmith gave $35,000 to the city of Lowell in trust for the purpose of providing for the needy of the city. Each year the trustees assign portions of this fund for various purposes.

One of the institutions that they contribute to is the milk station. The sum given is very small, and the quantity of milk being given away present amounts to only a little over a dozen quart bottles a day.

It is still true, however, that any person can secure milk free of charge. If it is actually necessary for nourishment, and the person is not able to pay for it.

Furnishing milk to those who require it is only one of many activities that go on in a campaign that is conducted from the milk station for "saving the babies" of the city.

As the warm weather approaches children and their mothers crowd to the station. In the earlier months of this year the work was practically permitted to lapse. Last month, however, 147 youngsters were brought to the station.

When the little patients arrive for either of the two clinics that are held each week, they are met by the superintendent of nurses, Mrs. Kate Kohlman.

She came to Lowell last September from Milwaukee, Wis., and has spent many years in connection with public nursing projects.

Mrs. Kohlman, clad in her nurse's uniform of blue, has a "way" with children, and what is almost of equal importance, she has a faculty of winning their mothers' confidence.

A large part of the youngsters that "come to see the doctor" never see him.

But one sort of treatment all of the youngsters get soon after they arrive. They are stripped of their clothing and set up on a pair of scales like parcel post packages. Then a record is made of their weight, and, from keeping track of the figures, that are taken from the scales every two weeks, it is possible to keep a pretty close watch over the physical welfare of the little ones.

Some morning Mary, Katie or Johnny turns up at the station and it is found that he or she has been losing weight.

Then the baby is turned over to either Dr. John Drury or Dr. E. A. Tabor, and given a thorough examination. With the examination goes a prescription setting forth exactly what should be fed to the child to conserve his health.

The oversight, however, does not end here, for within a short time one of the nurses of the guild turns up at the home of the mother and child to give instruction regarding the preparation of the food and its feeding.

This work is in charge of Miss Stella Redmond, a graduate of St. John's hospital school for nurses, who has also received training at the Boston Training school for nurses. She is assisted by nurses from the Lowell General and the Corporation hospital who, in turn, give up two months of the senior years at the hospital, to the work.

The milk station, therefore, is not so much a place where milk is distributed free as it is the headquarters for the work of lowering the child mortality rate by seeing that the little ones are given proper nourishment.

But the battle for the lives of the little ones does not end here. Under the direction of the American Red Cross—"The Greatest Mother of Them All," has been started a special assault upon diseases of children in certain congested districts.

A survey has lately been completed of the sections in which records have been made of every child under six years of age and of its physical condition. A very careful oversight is to be kept of the health of every one of these children, and the work may be continued for a longer period if the necessary funds are forthcoming. This work is in charge of Miss Elsie Smith with Miss Anna Hill and Miss Campbell as associates.

In addition to all of the work for children at the red brick building, is a department devoted to the health welfare of grownups. Five nurses go about this important work of visiting the homes of those who need the services of a trained nurse, and yet who are not able to pay for the full time of a graduate nurse. A nominal charge is made of 75 cents an hour for the services of the bedside nurses, although for those in actual need the work is done without charge.

The nurses who have this work in charge are Miss Pauline Picard, Mrs. Mary Hewett, Miss Margaret Sheahan, Miss Mary McCormick and Miss B. Blatch.

Also, any person in need of ice during the hot weather can secure it by applying at the Guild. The ice is donated by Miss Martina Gage.

WILL RE-PLANK BRIDGE

At a recent conference between the selectmen of Billerica and representatives of the Atlantic Works of Boston, which was held in the town hall, the latter company agreed to reimburse the town the sum of $561 for the re-planking of the west side of the Corner bridge, which was badly damaged a year and a half ago when a big truck loaded with an engine cylinder now owned by the company, went through the structure. The steel trusses of the bridge were also damaged at that time, but the company had them repaired and settled the bill.

"ALICE IN WONDERLAND" AT THE COLONIAL

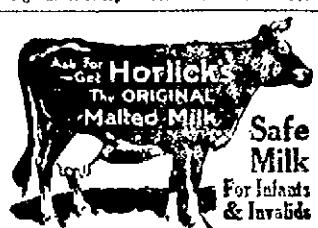

Lowell children and many adults will go back tomorrow afternoon to the days of fairyland and wonderland and again will rejoice in the activities of those shadowy empires when the League of Catholic Women will present at the Colonial theatre in Middlesex street "Alice in Wonderland," the celebrated fairy-tale with its many opportunities for stage presentation.

Prominent young women of the city have been rehearsing for several months to make the affair a success and indications point to one of the prettiest theatricals staged here for some time. Advantage has been taken of the many opportunities which the story presents for feature display.

A real live mock turtle, a Cheshire cat, stately minuets by the king and queen of "Wonderland," and their court and pretty dances of every description are some of the good things promised. The performance will begin promptly at 2:30 p. m.

GAVE CONCERT IN COLONIAL HALL

The Glee club of the Young Women's Christian association brought its second successful season to a close last evening with a concert in Colonial hall, conducted under the leadership of E. G. Assisting the club were the following soloists: Miss Marion McKnight, soprano; Mrs. Arthur C. Spalding, contralto; Miss Grace Gilday Donohue, harpist and Miss Mary E. Kelly and Miss Bertha Chapman, pianists. The chorus showed great interest and enthusiasm in its work, which was instantly reflected in the appreciation of the audience. A well sustained volume of tone, carefully modulated to meet the demands of a wide variety of texts, was apparent throughout, while the three parts were correctly balanced and flexibly handled by the girls. The solo numbers

The average consumption of salt by each person in the United States is 100 pounds a year.

When you step on the starter

You supply the force, the help needed, to make the engine go. That is just what a good, ready-to-take remedy, with tonic properties, does for you in the Spring. It furnishes the push that puts every organ into proper activity. Rich, pure blood goes leaping through your veins, carrying life and health to each sagging part and lagging organ. Like everybody else, you need a good "starter." Your health will be improved, more enduring, and you will be better able to resist disease by using a good Spring medicine.

PE-RU-NA An Ideal Starter for the Human Engine

With your parents, and perhaps your grandparents, PE-RU-NA was the favorite Spring medicine, because they knew they could depend upon it. It acts directly upon the organs of digestion and elimination, helping nature to throw off the poison accumulations of winter and stimulating a normal, healthy action in the human machinery.

The blood becomes rich and pure, insuring healthy nourishment to every part. Nerves, raw and quivering, are soothed and quieted, and the nerve centers revived and stimulated.

You lose that always tired feeling of lassitude, and experience at once a vim and a vigor, a punch and a push, a desire and ambition to be up and doing.

PE-RU-NA clears your system of the health destroying, stagnating poisons and wastes of catarrh. Take no chances. Drive out this enemy to good health—catarrh. Step on the starter. Get PE-RU-NA from your nearest store today.

REV. C. EDWIN BROWN OF ST. MARTIN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH OF OMAHA; "THE ACTORS' CHURCH;" AND MISS KATE PIER ROMER, WHO PLAYS "VAMP" ROLES WITH FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN, AND WHO SAYS THAT IF REV. MR. BROWN'S FRIENDSHIP FOR STAGE FOLK WERE FOLLOWED AS AN EXAMPLE BY OTHER CLERGYMEN, THE CHURCH WOULD CEASE TO CRITICISE THE STAGE AS FRIVOLOUS AND THE THEATRICAL PROFESSION WOULD NO LONGER LOOK UPON THE CHURCH AS COLD AND ALOOF.

ACTORS' CHAPLAIN DEFENDS HIS FLOCK

(N.E.A. Staff Special)

OMAHA, Neb., May 7.—"Some of the finest people in the world are in the theatrical profession. Yet actors are generally either criticised or neglected."

This conviction was reached by Rev. C. Edwin Brown when he was a cub reporter in Philadelphia. It stayed with him when he became an Episcopal clergyman, and it is the reason that the Hillboard, a New York theatrical magazine, carried a standing advertisement inviting all actors and actresses who come to Omaha, not only to attend St. Martin's Episcopal church, but to come to the pastor's home and ask him for any service he can render—and he gives his telephone number, to make sure they will do it.

"Chaplain at Large"

Rev. Mr. Brown is a chaplain of the Actors' Church alliance, the movement that originated in the "Little Church Around the Corner" in New York city. He believes he is the only "chaplain at large."

During his missionary tours, Rev. Mr. Brown would ascertain what show was coming to town, and when it would get in. Then, after posting his invitation to church in due form, he got busy in other directions. And when the weary actors scrambled off the train to begin the daily hunt for accommodations, they were astonished—and sometimes suspicious—to find on the platform, waiting for them, a tall, active person in a clergyman's garb armed with information as to what hotels could take them in, where the theatre was, how to get there, and anything else they needed to know.

"My Gawd, parson!" breathed a chorus girl once, from the depths of her gratitude, "you're human!"

Aid at All Hours

St. Martin's is the "actors' church" in Omaha. Two attorneys and two physicians, members of its congregation, are at the service of those who need emergency help. Clarkson Episcopal hospital will receive them. Elks lodge, No. 30, of which Rev. Mr. Brown is chaplain, gives help that it will not let be made public.

The Gayety theatre, the leading burlesque house in Omaha, has been placed at Rev. Mr. Brown's disposal for religious services, and both he and Bishop E. V. Shaylor of the diocese of Nebraska, have spoken from its stage. Rev. Brown's indignation when Rev. John Roach Straton refused to sit on the platform at the actors' benefit, boiled over in a hot letter to the New York clergyman.

What's the thing to do about clothes this spring?

EVERY man knows that clothes are high priced; and that poor ones cost about as much as the good ones.

What's a man going to do who wants to make his money go the farthest?

There's only one thing to do; buy good all-wool clothes; pay the price to get them. They'll save your money because all-wool wears longer; you won't have to buy so often.

We know; we've seen all kinds of clothing. Good stuff is always economy.

Hart Schaffner & Marx make clothes that really save for you; that's why we have them, and why we talk so much about these clothes.

STRIKERS STILL OUT IN GRANITEVILLE

The 11 or more machinists and helpers employed at the C. & S. Sargent's Shoe Corp. in Graniteville, who left their work Wednesday morning in an endeavor to obtain recognition of their union and also to have three of their members reinstated, are still out and most of them are doing picket duty as the usual.

The strikers are connected with the International Association of Machinists and sometime last week they delegated a committee of three to present a working agreement to the officials of the company. It is claimed that the officials of the shop refused to consider the agreement and that the delegates from the union were discharged. The matter was brought to the attention of the business agent of the union in Lowell and it is claimed his efforts to bring about a settlement of the difficulties were fruitless. The time set by the union for the company to come to terms was Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and inasmuch as nothing was done, Wednesday morning the men went out on strike.

In a recent statement issued by one of the officials of the company it was stated the company was ignorant of the real issues of the strike, but President Murphy of the International Association of Machinists comes back with the following statement:

"For a period of eight months the machinists of the Sargent Co. of Graniteville have been organized. On Wednesday, April 28, their union, Local 1218, met and formulated demands for a 10 per cent wage increase and recognition of the shop committee system. A committee visited the office of the Sargent Co. with the demands of the union and in a short time its members were discharged from the employ of the firm. Business Agent George McCabe of Lowell immediately got in touch with the men and telegraphed for instructions to the International office in Washington. He asked the reinstatement of the men and upon the refusal of the company to do so, President William H. Johnson of the international sanctioned the strike."

The meeting opened with Frank W. Wright, director of the division of elementary and secondary education and normal schools, as chairman. Opening exercises were conducted, after which the teachers were greeted by Clarence W. Weed, acting principal of the Lowell Normal school.

Mr. Smith's address was next on the program. He told the teachers that they should constantly test themselves and the pupils in their charge. He said that they should not only give tests in scholastic work, but should also give regular examinations to determine the health of the children. "It is an important part of the teacher's duty to protect the health of their charges," he asserted.

He referred to the power to govern, which the teacher should possess, and emphasized the importance of discipline in the school curriculum.

"Perspective in placing the things of life in their correct relation to each other is something that many teachers lack," asserted Mr. Smith. "They should have the power to put the important things in the important places, and the minor things in the minor places, in discipline, recitations and methods."

"It is of the greatest importance that teachers should cultivate the faculty of seeing things through the eyes of children. It is a very different world upon which the eyes of the child
look out from the one seen by most older people. It is the child world that the teacher should endeavor to see and appreciate. She should understand the way in which the pupils view their schools, their studies and all the facts
of their young lives."

The speaker called for a recognition
on the part of the instructors of their professional obligations to the pupils
and to the community. He also pleaded for leadership and emphasized the point that the nation in all its departments was in need of those imbued with the quality of becoming safe guides.

He said that Massachusetts and its instructors should be at the forefront.
He told of the results of the reforming influence of a teacher in a little red country schoolhouse whose efforts had resulted in greatly improved conditions in the community in which she lived.
She found her schoolroom a neglected
and bleak place, Dr. Smith asserted.
"She tried to get the members of the local school board to change conditions; she made appeal after appeal;

nothing came of it. Then she set about working on her own initiative and something was done."

"Togetherness," he said, he believed was to be the keystone word of the coming generation, and he hoped to see the day when it would be blazoned across the front of every school building.

"Togetherness" is what the whole world needs. It is needed in all walks of life if our nation and the world are to be made safe for democracy."

Following the address of Mr. Smith
the institute resolved itself into a number of departmental conferences.

One of the most interesting features of the program was a demonstration
lesson in history teaching to pupils
of a fifth grade class conducted by Miss Mary E. Wallace of the Bartlett training school.

The general subject was "What Did
We Accomplish Through the Civil War?"
There were two subdivisions: "Why
Was the North Forced Into the War?" and "How Did the North Prevent Secession?"

with the lesson was "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Other departmental conferences were:
Grades I-IV inclusive—Primary language and primary reading with demonstration lesson, Josephine Eagan,
Worcester public schools. Discussion opened by Walter K. Putney, superintendent of schools, Chelmsford.

Grades V-VII inclusive—"How May
We Make the Recitation More Effective?" Florence M. Hale, state agent for rural education, Augusta, Me.

High School—"The Seven Objectives
of Education," C. D. Kingsley, agent for secondary education, state department of education. Discussion opened by A. L. Safford, superintendent of schools, Reading.

At noon a luncheon was served at the school.

Beginning at 1:15 p. m. there was a community sing, led by Miss Inez Field Hamon, director of music at the Lowell school, and music by the Girls' Glee club. An address on "Education in Citizenship Through the Classroom
Method," was given by Miss Alma Mc-Crim, of the Normal school faculty, followed by an address on "Better Salaries for Teachers," by Miss Florence
M. Hale of Augusta, Me.

Music followed and the closing address was given by Frank W. Wright
on "Teachers for the Times."

Politicians Have Nothing on Navy Boys When It Comes to Street Corner Oratory

RECRUITERS ATTRACT CROWD IN MERRIMACK SQUARE

Novel methods are employed by the through which they should in "selling" service in the navy to the large duty in Lowell. Yesterday noon two of the men invaded Merrimack square with common office chairs on which they stood and with megaphones, near of Bridge and Merrimack streets while Lieut. Katz, in charge of the party talked navy to an audience at the corner of Central and Merrimack streets. This stunt was tried in Lawrence, but the men planted their chairs

in the car tracks and held up traffic
for five minutes compelling the public to hear what they had to say. In Worcester some of the recruiters
scrambled to the granite decorations of city hall steps and from the dizzy heights of those huge granite balls on either side of the entrance they surprised the town with their oratory.
After speaking in Merrimack square,
Lieut. Katz ordered his men to city hall where Mayor Thompson addressed
an audience from the steps.

The men are not sorry for the hard work they have been putting into their efforts to get recruits for when they on their work well they are allowed holidays. All the men are now visiting home and will not return until Monday because they have signed up
many recruits in this city.

It one wants to see how the recruiters learn their unique methods of speaking then he need only visit the naval recruiting station in the morning for Lieut. Katz puts the men through brisk "skull" practice, and
with his hat and coat off goes at them
and teaches them salesmanship.

The use of air pressure in tunnel
construction is as early as 1820.

PAY FOR PROTECTION

Travellers. Forced to "Tip" Bandit Leaders to Insure Safety in Szechuen

SHANGHAI—Szechuen, most populous of China's provinces with extensive and varied resources and almost unlimited areas of soil of the great productivity, is bandit-ridden and is torn with strife of five opposing governing factions that seemingly are beyond the control of the Canton government to which Szechuen is sub-posed to pay allegiance. This is the report brought to Shanghai by foreigners who have recently been travelling in the province.

The country along all the main highways, according to these reports, is overrun with bands of armed outlaws and it is only possible for the foreigners to travel these by-ways in any degree of safety by first buying protection and immunity from molestation from bandit leaders who control the various areas. When the traveler asks for an armed guard this is provided—for a consideration. This guard must be changed when the traveler enters the area controlled by another military official.

By following this procedure, travelers from the province say, the wayfarer is ordinarily safe, but it happens sometimes that the spheres of control of the leaders overlap, and travelers who have bought protection in one area are at times attacked by bandits whose leaders have not been appeased.

The consideration required to provide a guard for a traveler is not particularly heavy, as it is said to be about 50c a day per guard. Ordinarily travelers who do fall into the hands of outlaws do not suffer bodily harm, but it is not uncommon for native servants to be murdered and cases exist in which foreigners have been taken and held for ransom.

Chengtu, capital of the province of Szechuen, is reached by a journey of about 2500 miles up the Yangtze River from Shanghai to Hankow and Ichang, thence through the famed Yangtze gorges to Chungking and finally by a sedan chair ride of from ten to 14 days through the high mountains of the country that lies between Chungking and Chengtu.

FIVE BLOWN TO ATOMS
Men Who Desecrated Graves Caught in Trap

BOMBAY.—Mahads, tribesmen on the Abyssinian border, who during the frontier campaign repeatedly desecrated graves in which British soldiers had been buried, have just been taught a severe lesson that will make them very chary of meddling with the dead in future.

A trap was set for them. A grave was fixed up which was made to appear that it contained the corpse of a British officer. It contained something much more deadly in the shape of gun cotton and other explosives. Six Mahads started to open the supposed graves. Five of them were blown to pieces. The sixth had just enough life left in him when discovered to tell what had happened.

GIVE JUDGES RIGHT TO FIX RENTS

MANILA, P. I.—Neither the United States nor Europe has a monopoly of the housing problem for it is acute here as well. So serious has the dispute between landlords and tenants become in the Philippines that the governor-general, Francis Burton Harrison, has called the attention of the legislature to the need of enacting laws to protect the poorer people from excessive charges for rent. Mr. Harrison in a message to the legislature recommended legislation giving the judges of the lower courts the right to say how much rent shall be paid in cases where tenants make complaints. The governor asserted that "acrimonious disputes are now in progress between landlords and tenants in many localities of the Philippines."

One method proposed in the legislature to solve the housing problem in the city of Manila is to appropriate $500,000 for the erection of four large apartment houses, each to contain 250 rooms. Eighty per cent of the rents from these buildings would be deposited with the government and used as it accumulates for the construction of additional buildings.

BOWLERS CONTINUE TO TOPPLE PINS

Lowell's bowlers are putting up remarkable scores in the big handicap tournament at the Crescent alleys.
 Arthur Houston put up a single of 144, but he was not entered as a tournament competitor. After getting the high score he went to the desk and entered and again tried his luck. He failed, however, to again touch the mark.
 The leaders after last night's rolling follow:

Individual: Brigham, 379; Sullivan, 355; Quinn, 347; Kimball and Whitehead, 328.
 Two men—Quinn and Johnson, 722; Robinson and Gendron, 669; Schonbom and O'Brien, 664; McLean and Whitehead, 641.

JOHNNY WILSON WINS MIDDLEWEIGHT TITLE

BOSTON, May 7.—Johnny Wilson, the big southpaw of Charlestown, took Mike O'Dowd's middleweight title away from him last night at Mechanics building by getting Referee Hector McInnes' decision at the end of the 12 rounds.
 They both weighed under 160 pounds at ringside, and according to the weights of championship bouts are now judged about, Wilson is entitled to call himself the world's champion. There were 7000 persons who saw the fight.
 It was one of the best fights held in this city for years and the result was a big surprise. There were thousands of persons who saw the fight and the odds were 10 to 2 that O'Dowd would be the winner. Wilson never fought a better fight in his life. He displayed great headwork and his style, together with his shiftness, bothered O'Dowd. The defeated champion used his left very little. He did the most of his punching with the right which he sent to Wilson's head.

son's heart many times and on the jaw a number of times. O'Dowd carried the fighting to Wilson nearly all the time and the new champion did some fine countering with his left.
 In the second round he put O'Dowd to the mat with a left hook on the jaw, but O'Dowd did not wait to take any count, but jumped to his feet quickly and went tearing in. Wilson caught O'Dowd many stunning left hooks in the stomach, face, eye and jaw and left O'Dowd up to within the clinches that O'Dowd did not have much chance to do him any harm.
 Wilson has participated in many fights against second-rate boxers in the last year and has appeared in many cities, principally in New England. Last night's fight was his first appearance against a leading boxer. O'Dowd won the title from Al McCoy in 1917.
 When the strong sounder for the end of the 12th round and Referee McInnes pointed to Wilson's corner in token of the local boy's victory, O'Dowd protested the decision, claiming he was entitled to a draw at least.
 While McInnes, who was the referee, was explaining why he had awarded this title to Wilson, the backers of the local boy rushed to the ring and carried the champion away on their shoulders.
 Wilson's victory gave him the honor of being the first New England boxer to win the middleweight title. It is the first time a Bostonian has held a ring championship since the days of the late Honey Mellody.

PITTS' S. E. TO PLAY HAVERHILL TEAM

The Pitts' S. E. Baseball club launched a campaign tomorrow, when the St. Joseph club of Haverhill will be played on the South common, which it is hoped will bring the Merrimack valley semi-pro championship to Lowell.
 As many valley teams as possible will be played by the South Boys, the Haverhill nine being the first on the list. Manager Lyons is very anxious, however, to date up local teams, particularly the American Legion and Knights of Columbus. Either team may enter into negotiations for a game on Saturday, May 15. Devlin and Freeman will be the battery for tomorrow afternoon's game which is called for 3:15 o'clock.

SHOT 2502 OUT OF POSSIBLE 2600

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 7.—Making the remarkable score of 2502 of a possible 2600, the rifle team of marines of the Marine Corps Training station, Parris Island, S. C., won the Elliot trophy match recently completed at Quantico, Va. It was announced here yesterday.
 The marines from the Naval Academy barracks finished second with a score of 2480, and the team representing Quantico was a close third, with 2476. Marksmen from 15 marine corps participated.

EVERS SIGNS TO COACH B. C.

BOSTON, May 7.—Johnny Evers has signed a contract with Boston college to coach the baseball team and will receive the biggest salary ever paid a college coach. He will probably take hold today, when Boston College plays Fairham at Alumni field, and his advent is expected to check the slump into which the team has drifted.
 The deal was completed yesterday by Graduate Manager Reynolds in Evers' name. Evers, a player who is noted for his generalship, quick thinking and the quality of keeping his teammates on their toes—qualities which are looked for in the Boston college teams under his care. It was the "fighting" Johnny Evers who was secured as coach.

STRONG WORCESTER TEAM HERE SATURDAY

The strong Worcester academy baseball team comes to this city tomorrow to play the Textile school nine on the Moody street campus. This is the fifth game on the school's schedule and while all players are expected to go into the discard heap as "game lost," the team has not lost heart and is hard at work preparing for tomorrow's game. Coach Clarkson has had a real job on his hands to develop a capable team, but great improvement has been noted as the season expands and the team looks on promising over a winning performance tomorrow.

ABOUT THE BOXERS

Solly Snyder, manager of Johnny Avilla and several other boxers, in a letter to The Sun yesterday said that Johnny Avilla, the Philadelphia middleweight, who went "overseas" with Al Lippe, is expected to return to this city next week. When he arrives he will again cast his lot with Snyder and the aggressive manager is already looking for bouts for him. When in Europe Snyder says, Avilla was able to get but two bouts. These same two and both resulted in victories for the American via the K. O. route. Since that time he has been unable to obtain matches. While in Europe Avilla worked out with Jeff Smith and Frankie Brown, members of the Lippe stable and as a result he has picked up many of the fine points of the game. Snyder writes that he has secured an offer for Avilla to meet Paul Reed and he would like to send him against a middleweight in the country. Mike O'Dowd included. Manager Snyder says that Avilla has been laid up with a cold, but will soon be ready to again mingle with men of his weight.

FOLK DANCING AS TRAINING FOR FOOTBALL PLAYERS AT AMHERST

AMHERST, Mass., Folk-dancing as training for football is being given candidates for the Massachusetts Agricultural college eleven this spring. Instead of lunging and charging against a tackling dummy, husky candidates for places on the "Aggies" line are being taught the intricacies and graces of the English folk dances.
 Thirty men, with the broadness of shoulder and bulk of frame necessary to the efficient football lineman, are learning to do gracefully the handkerchief folk-dance known as "Laudnum Banches," and to trip lightly through other steps of the old dancing school. For a time they were embarrassed at waving handkerchiefs in the air, they protruded on one top with an arm and hand extended, but they have since taken to the dance and appear to enjoy it.
 The object of the dancing instruction to the football men is to improve the co-ordination of mind and muscle and to keep the players constantly "on their toes."

MONARCHS OF WHITE HOUSE GROUNDS

Two sturdy boys, who have what is probably the most exclusive and distinguished playground in America, are Gordon Grayson and Cary T. Grayson, Jr., sons of President Wilson's physician. They have a pony cart and their only rival attraction is the flock of White House sheep. The president, during his convalescence, found much time to watch the Grayson children at play, and the broad smile they frequently brought to his face was as helpful as any tonic their father could prescribe.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Clover Leaves challenge any 12 or 13-year-old team in the city. Answer through this paper or Tel. 2485-R.
 The Elm Juniors, formerly the Chapel A.C., are anxious to arrange games with 11 to 13-year-old teams in the city. The Belvidere Tigers are formed. Call 867 or 2506-W between 7:30 and 8:30 p. m.

The Eagles will play the Willie Stars Saturday on the North common. These two teams have had many arguments and Saturday when the rubber game will be played a good contest is expected. The Eagles will play any 13-14 year team in the city on the North common and give a return game, if a satisfactory agreement is reached. For games answer through this paper or mail a letter to Mr. Reaney, 292 Fletcher street.

The Pawincket Blues have won three straight games and are anxious to meet the Alpines tomorrow at 2 p. m.

The Lawrence A. A. Juniors accept the challenge of the Bowers Juniors.

EXPECT 70,000 AT THE KENTUCKY DERBY

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7.—Incoming trains brought thousands of visitors here today to witness the 14th renewal of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Down tomorrow afternoon. Preparations have been made by the hotel and race track authorities to accommodate from 50,000 to 70,000 turf followers.
 Meanwhile the Downs management has prepared elaborately to care for the anticipated record-breaking flow of humanity. The grandstand has been enlarged and under the stand there will be installed 105 pari-mutuel machines and 55 cashiers' windows, or double the number used at former runnings of this historic classic.
 The hard training season for the Derby candidates which will consist for the $50,000 added money prize ended yesterday. Present indications point to a field of 20 horses, which will be for a distance of a mile and a quarter. Never before have more than 18 thoroughbreds gone to the post. Of the probable starters, there is not one, according to their owners and trainers, that has not worked fast enough in their training season to give it a chance to win the coveted event. Some have shown trials of a sensational nature.
 In the probable lineup of the Derby field, which undoubtedly includes the cream of the three-year-old horses of the country, Harry Payne Whitney has three candidates in Danah, Wild Air and Upset; George W. Loft has two, Donacora and On Wield; Ralph Parr is represented by Blazes and Paul Jones and W. R. Cox rely on David Ingram and Cleopatra. Other probable starters include Prince Pal, Prince Pennant, Sterling, Sandy Beal, Golden Dream, by Golly, Herron, Lorraine, Bersagliere, Ethel Gray and Distinction.

Britain Not Prepared to Make Representations, Says
Bonar Law

LONDON, May 7.—The subject of the support given to "the Irish republic" by some persons in the United States came up in the house of commons yesterday. Horatio Bottomley asked whether the government was aware that appeals for subscriptions for bonds addressed by De Valera as "President of the Irish republic" were still appearing in American newspapers and were supported by the governments of various states, and whether Great Britain proposed to make representations on the matter to President Wilson.

Mr. Bonar Law, replying in behalf of the government, said it was understood that such appeals were still appearing in certain American papers, but he was not in a position to say whether they were supported by any government. Great Britain, he added, was not prepared to make representations.

Mr. Bottomley asked whether Mr. Bonar Law had seen the announcement that already £2,000,000 had been subscribed to this fund and that triumphant processions had gone through the principal streets of the United States in celebration of the event and that De Valera had been entertained by state governors.

He asked if Mr. Bonar Law did not consider that in international law this amounted to an unfriendly act and whether new instructions would be given to the British ambassador.

"Not Wise to Take Action"

The government leader said he had not seen a statement of the specific facts named, but it did not alter his views regarding Great Britain's right course, namely, that it was not always wise to take action to which a country had the legal right.

Capt. William Wedgwood Benn wanted to know whether the government would take steps to halt the malicious campaign which, he declared, was destroying the friendly relations between this country and the United States. To this Mr. Bonar Law did not reply.

Robert Burton Chadwick asked whether Mr. Bonar Law was aware that "this outlaw" was recently honored with the freedom of New Orleans and whether any representations had been made to the United States in the face of "this deliberate insult by an ostensibly friendly power."

Mr. Bonar Law answered that he was quite satisfied the good feeling of the United States was not represented at all by such demonstrations and he did not believe that any action the British government could take against them would have any other effect than to make the relations worse.

In the house of lords yesterday, Baron Birkenhead, lord high chancellor, said it was intended to give the Irish executive all possible assistance. He added that in no conceivable circumstances would the government concede the demands of the Sinn Fein.

"The country will be well advised," Baron Birkenhead continued, "that we

She "speaks" or at least understands, French, English and German, but she refuses orders in German until the peace treaty is signed. She won't go near the German classroom either, says her mistress, Miss Katherine Maher, also a junior.

NATIONAL GAME

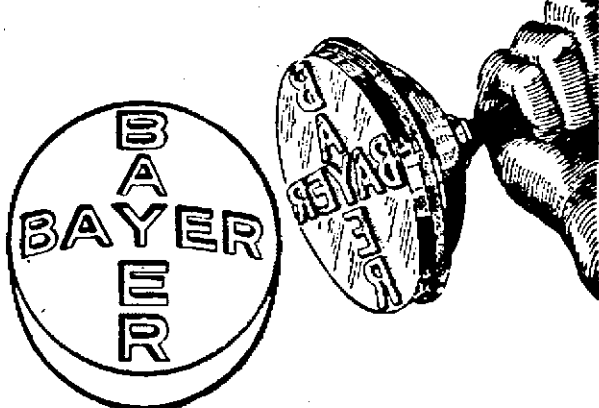

Plan to Encourage Playing of Baseball by Youths

CINCINNATI, May 7.—To encourage the playing of baseball by American youths the joint rules committee of the National and American leagues has designed a special sized boys' diamond and special sized boys' ball for boys under 16 years of age.

Announcement of this action is contained in a bulletin bearing the signature of H. B. Johnson and John A. Heydler, presidents of the American and National leagues, respectively. The bulletin says that baseball is the national game of the United States and it appeals to every person interested in the welfare of American boys to assist these boys to practice the game.

NAME "BAYER" ON GENUINE ASPIRIN

Beware! Insist upon true "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin"

Baseball, the bulletin states, typifies American character and American genius in that it teaches fundamental democracy, instant decision, instant action and individual self-reliance with full recognition of law and order and proper respect for elected authorities.

BOYS ARRAIGNED IN JUVENILE COURT

Harold E. Blanchard and Thomas N. Nickerson, young boys of Malden, were before the juvenile court this morning on the charge of being delinquent children. Their case was continued until further investigation and until information is obtained from the Malden police.

It is alleged that the boys disappeared from Malden a while ago on a bicycle and upon reaching Billerica, broke into camps and set grass afire, and then broke switch wires along the railroad track.

There were two other cases before the juvenile court which caused delay in the regular session of police court.

EMMA GOLDMAN "HOME SICK" FOR U. S.

CHICAGO, May 7.—Emma Goldman, radical leader deported to Russia with Alexander Berkman and others in "home sick" for the United States, according to a letter from her to Dr. Ben L. Reisman, long her friend, made public today. The letter was dated Moscow, March 5.

"I miss America. I lived here 30 years, you know," said Miss Goldman. Her lack of knowledge of the Russian language and familiarity with "the new and strange situation" had kept her from becoming active in social work, she wrote.

"It is very difficult for one of my age to acclimatize one's self in a new country, even in the best conditions of normal times," said the letter. "But Russia, bled white by over four years of war, and starved by the blockade, is not a place where one may hope to take root easily."

GERMANY'S AIR SERVICE DISBANDED

BERLIN, May 6.—Germany's military air service has been disbanded under the terms of the Versailles treaty, according to a semi-official announcement made here today.

The entire commission here intends, according to the Tageliche Rundschau, to destroy all airbases and flying establishments, which were built at a cost of 60,000,000 marks. The newspaper says the commission will leave standing one hangar and one airplane factory, which will be used for international air service.

RESERVE AVIATORS IN INTERCOLLEGIATE MEET

MINEOLA, N. Y., May 7.—More than two score army reserve aviators fresh from their studies in 12 eastern colleges, engaged in preliminary tryouts on Mitchell field here today, preparatory to taking part in the intercollegiate field day this afternoon. The first machine took the air shortly after dawn and from then on, one pilot after another taxied across the field and went through a series of stiff maneuvers, altitude and speed tests.

The events on the afternoon program included a 20-minute altitude test, a 100 mile race, trials at landing and maneuvering tests. Each event will be decided on a point basis and the college winning the largest number of points will be presented a cup by the American Flying club.

One of the principal purposes of the test is to determine to what extent a reserve aviator loses his ability to fly through lack of constant practice and the availability of reserve aviators to fly army planes in an emergency. The machines were loaned of the army.

MAY HAVE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL SYSTEM HERE

In order to get a first-hand view of the workings of the junior high school system in cities where it is now in vogue, with a view to establishing it in Lowell next September, members of the local school committee will visit next week Rochester, N. Y., Hartford,

Conn., Springfield and Worcester, according to a vote taken by the committee at a special meeting last evening.

It will be remembered that last year's committee voted to adopt the junior high school system here beginning next fall. Until last evening the 1920 committee had made no move in the matter. The proposed trip will begin May 8.

Otherwise, last evening's meeting was routine in character. All members were present when Chairman Delaney called to order at 8:35.

On motion of Mr. Markham it was voted to place the following teachers, who have been in the service continuously since 1912, on the maximum salary schedule of $1450 per year: Mary St. Cowell, Alice L. Joyce, Mary F. Carolan, A. Lillian Walsh, Henrietta L. Grady and Loretta Kinsella.

It was unanimously voted to elect Miss Louise McOsker a teacher of sewing, starting Sept. 1. Her election was on the recommendation of the superintendent.

Clarence B. Weed, chairman of the park commission, requested the cooperation of the board with the park department in the latter's playground activities for 1920. He suggested the appointment of a teacher of domestic arts and a teacher of manual training at the Greenhalge school during the summer months and the superintendent was empowered to confer with Mr. Weed and carry out his wishes.

On motion of Mr. Keyes, seconded by Mr. Pearson, it was voted that the committee make an investigation of the junior high school system by visiting Rochester, N. Y., and several other cities where the system is now in vogue during the coming week.

Principal Henry H. Harris of the high school requested that the committee give notice of its intention to place Durrell and Arnold's First Book in Algebra on the list of textbooks, and it was so voted.

On motion of Dr. Rooney it was voted that the business agent be instructed to make a survey of all the public school buildings of the city relative to their lighting system and sanitary arrangement and to report back to the committee so that the matter can be brought to the attention of the municipal council.

Adjourned at 9:02.

THEIR FIRST ANNUAL DANCING PARTY

A party of ballroomers, their help-ers and friends filled Associate hall last evening for the first annual dancing party. There was general dancing from 8 o'clock until midnight except during a brief intermission beginning at 10:30. The party was under the direction of General Manager Richard Marshall, assistant, Arthur Deaneault; floor director, Thomas Gubane; assistant floor director, James Lawley; chief aid, Edward McMillan; and, A. Premier Lloyd George will not take cognizance of the recent message from American congressmen relative to Ireland.

"This sort of thing has ceased to cause any stir here," an official at the residence of the prime minister said this morning. "We long since have come to believe that resolutions and messages coming from America are political maneuvers, and that they do not represent American sentiment. Consequently, they have little weight."

The only editorial reference to the message thus far was in the Pall Mall Gazette. Eighty-eight members of the United States congress have informed Premier Lloyd George of their objections to the detention of Irish prisoners without trial, the Pall Mall Gazette said. "That they do not reproach him with murdering the lord mayor of Cork must be set down to the nice sense of international delicacy which distinguishes their species."

The London Times publishes a cablegram received by Lord Northcliffe from "the Loyal Coalition" of Boston, quoting a cablegram sent by that organization to Premier Lloyd George in which the message of the American congressmen on the Irish question sent to the premier is termed "impertinent" and declaring: "These congressmen will pay at the polls for this meddling interference."

all the state granges of the country for four days meetings will be held in Boston in November. For four days meetings will be held in Mechanics hall and during the next six days the sessions will be held in Faneuil hall. It is expected that at the convention 5000 members of the grangers will receive the seventh degree. The morning session of today's meeting adjourned at 12:30 o'clock and at 1 o'clock dinner was served in the lower hall by members of Tewksbury grange.

Afternoon Session

"The Business Side of Home Making" was discussed in the afternoon by Miss A. Agnes Denham, associate director of the savings division, first federal reserve district. Miss Denham has been for some time addressing women's organizations throughout New England in the interests of the thrift movement and government savings. She also has spoken frequently to teachers in the public schools, giving them advice that has proved of great assistance in conducting their work with the pupils.

"A budget," said Miss Denham, "is a plan for the expenditure of any commodity during a given time and should control expenditure during that time."

"A household budget is a plan for spending the family income during a definite period of time. A yearly budget is the best plan as it covers all seasonal as well as regular expenditures. When a household budget is carefully made, based upon past expenditures and well-thought-out estimates, it can be followed if all the members of the family are agreed upon its provisions and if nothing happens to decrease the income or change the mode of living.

"Planned expenditures will give better returns than haphazard purchases. The family which follows a definite plan of expenditure will have more and better things to show for their money than the family which spends as the money comes and as needs present themselves.

"No one plan will suit every family. Each family must make its own budget in accordance with its income environment, and standards of living. There are, however, certain rules which will help in making any family budget.

"Be sure that every member of the family will co-operate.

"Examine your family life carefully to be sure that you have definite standards of living, and write out your idea of what your particular income should provide in the way of shelter, food, clothing, operating, and higher life for your family. This is not a necessary step, but it helps very much to put into words just what you demand from your income.

"Make a list of all possible expenditures for a family with the standards outlined.

"Divide them under five heads: Shelter, food, clothing, operating, margin for higher life.

"Divide each group under three heads: Charges fixed; charges possible to estimate; charges necessary to limit.

"Decide how much should be saved and subtract it from the total income.

"Divide the rest of the income into five equal parts and assign one part to each of the five groups of expenditures.

"Decide what is the smallest amount for which nourishing, satisfying food can be provided. If this exceeds the portion of the income allowed for food, figure how much it exceeds it, and later plan from which other allotments it must be taken.

"Count the rent and business carfare as cost of shelter if the house is hired. The rent is fixed charge, carfare may be estimated. If together they exceed the allotment, too much is being planned for rent. Can it be reduced? If not, then the extra is being spent to provide comfort or safety and it must be taken from the 'margin' allowed for higher life.

"Figure carefully the amount of money required to clothe the family. Make careful clothing budgets and estimate the cost of repair, making and materials, as well as clothing purchased ready made. The amount used for clothing should not exceed the fifth allotted to it, and in small families it might well be less. With very small incomes the clothing expenditures must be reduced to provide enough food.

"Make careful and complete estimates of all operating expenses—base these upon former bills. Examine the bills separately to be sure that nothing is being wasted. Gas, electric light, and laundry bills, as well as incidentals, may often be reduced if care is taken and attention is drawn to them. Under operating: Heat, light, water, laundry, are charges possible to estimate. Telephone is a fixed charge. Long distance telephone necessary to limit. Regular service a fixed charge. Extra service either possible to estimate or necessary to limit. Repairs and replacement necessary to limit. Household supplies possible to estimate. When items in operating expenses have been figured, add them up and see how the total compares with the amount allotted to the group.

Witness, George F. Lawton, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this sixth day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty.
F. M. ESTY, Register.

Remember that from shelter, operating, and higher life the additional amount necessary for food must be taken.

Operating Expenses

"It is quite probable that operating expenses will prove to be absorbing more money than is desirable, and it is within this group that leakages most often occur, and with care reductions may be made with no suffering for the family beyond a slight decrease in comfort.

"The money left as margin for higher life must cover expenditures for education, church, culture, social life, philanthropy, health, gifts, new equipment, and income taxes, as well as the allowances for personal expenditures. A family may divide the amount for petty cash, church dues and philanthropy, gifts, club dues and other social life except family entertaining, into separate allowances, making each member responsible for his own expenses for advancement and petty cash, and teaching the children something of the responsibilities which money entails.

"The use of money allotted to higher life is entirely within the region of choice; one family may prefer to use it for education and health, another for travel, a third for philanthropy. For each family there is a distinct advantage in planning the expenditure in such a way that a well rounded family life results. Something for education, culture, health, social life, play, church and civic activities should be included in this plan.

"Higher life most often gives up a large portion to food, shelter, or clothing; it should not give money to operating except under great need when the health of the home-maker requires extra service, etc.

"When all apportionments are made if the total exceeds the amount of the income, new standards must be made. Expenditures must be weighed, those which are merely to gratify desires, not for real needs, eliminated and costs reduced to the lowest amount consistent with health.

"Adequate food, safe shelter, suitable clothing, necessary operating should be provided before very much money is assigned to higher life, but before expenditures for higher life are omitted, altogether, be sure that other expenditures are not in excess of what is necessary to provide adequate food, safe shelter and necessary operating. Savings should be made by every family with income enough to provide a margin over and above food, shelter, clothing—and heat, light and water, but savings should not cut down efficiency.

"It is important:—
"To have a plan.
"To follow the plan.
"To keep records of expenditures.
"To study the records.
"To build a new plan on the basis of lessons learned from the records."

The cannon was invented before the market and its successors.

Veils, Large and Small, For Every Hat and Every Complexion Is Decree of Spring Fashion

VEILS, COARSE MESHED AND FINE, FOR ALL OCCASIONS

BY CORA MOORE

New York's Fashion Authority
NEW YORK, May 5.—Every one is going veiled this spring. Even those who have not been addicted to the veil habit must succumb, for not only has fashion decreed that no costume is complete without a veil, but practically demands a veil in the interest of hygiene and a good complexion.

The new veils evidently were especially designed to suit these requirements for not only are they calculated to "heighten the wearer's charm," but they are more than usually protective and many of them will wash.

Illustrated is a group of new Van Raaie veils that can be cleaned with lukewarm water and fine soap, dried by laying flat and so, with care, can be made to do duty for an entire seasons up that "hint," but it is not to be considered for the complexion altogether lacking in color.

Decorative Borders

A really novel veil is a silk weave that is much like very fine silk mousseline, with a pleated pattern in all-over design. Some of these have borders in which the same idea is carried out in a different pattern, or the mousseline-like material and its accompanying design form a deep border to a veil of contrastingly coarse mesh.

As many of the new spring hats actually call for a veil, especially tailored hats, the veils often have a decorative border or a ribbon banding across the top which forms the hat decoration, or a part of it. For the very close satins or other tailored hats there are veils of fine mesh, but of coarse thread which are very smart.

son, which is an asset considering the fine mesh with not too pronounced figures woven in.

Color in Veils

The veil the young woman at the

the one she holds in her hands is Peggy. Peggy, as you see, is a deep veil, an irregular mesh with a shadow border of the new satin finish. Mam-sel is of coarser thread, in diamond pattern with a woven dot marking the center of each. These blocks alternate with diamond shapes composed of long threads. Mam-sel is vividly purple while Peggy is dark blue and

TO CONFER WITH SOVIET RUSSIA

Great Britain on Eve of Negotiations, Says Moscow Wireless Report

LONDON, May 7.—Great Britain is on the eve of negotiations with soviets Russia, a Moscow wireless message today asserts. Earl Curzon, the British foreign secretary, the message says, has forwarded to Mr. Tchitcherin, the soviet commissary for foreign affairs, a declaration in which direct conversations with General Wrangel, commander of the remnant of the Russian volunteer army, are proposed. These conversations, it is declared, are desired by Great Britain in order that definite negotiations may be begun concerning the cessation of the Bolshevik advance into the Crimea and British officers would participate in these negotiations. M. Tchitcherin, continues the message, replied to the British communication with the statement that soviet government was prepared to meet the desire expressed in that communication and enter into negotiations with the British government or anyone that government might indicate, concerning the question of hostilities in the Crimean sector, and that the soviet was prepared to admit General Wrangel as well as British officers to these negotiations. Regarding the Caucasus front, the message states that hostilities have ceased and that the soviet has applied to the governments of the various states offering to begin peace negotiations immediately. M. Tchitcherin in his reply, it is added, expresses his firm assurance that the agreement to begin peace negotiations will serve as a preliminary step and that a general agreement between Great Britain and Russia will be the final outcome.

BELIEVES WATER RATE PLAN FEASIBLE

Commissioner John F. Salmon believes that the decision reached by the municipal affairs committee of the chamber of commerce last evening whereby it was recommended that a 30 per cent. increase in local water rates be put in effect instead of 25 per cent. as first proposed, is feasible and plans to present an ordinance to that effect to the municipal council at its regular meeting next Tuesday morning. If passed, the new ordinance will have no effect on the rates until July 1.

LONDON PAPERS RESENT "INTERFERENCE"

LONDON, May 7.—Only two of this morning's newspapers comment on the memorandum sent by American congressmen to Premier Lloyd George relative to the Irish situation and the tone of their editorials is somewhat resentful against "outside interference" in British internal affairs.

"It is an elementary maxim of the foreign policy of most civilized nations that one state department should not interfere with the internal affairs of another nation," says the Daily Graphic, which seems to view the memorandum as a political move. "No legislator of any country has the right to imperil the good relations existing between his nation and any other merely because he wants to attract votes to himself."

The newspaper declares Irishmen have the same redress, if wronged, that is given any other citizens of the United Kingdom and it points to the wholesale arrest of Bolsheviks in America as analogous to the situation in Ireland.

The Morning Post says: "Were Great Britain to pass a resolution in both houses of parliament in favor of granting self-government to the Philippine Islands, we imagine the British foreign office would hear of it within 24 hours."

Sold $3000 Loot for 25 Cents
SPRINGFIELD, May 7.—Three boys arrested today confessed not only to the robbery of furs, linen and silver valued at $3000 but to the police that they disposed of the loot to a junk dealer for 25 cents. The home of Mrs. Emily Warren, a wealthy widow in West Springfield was entered a week ago. The articles taken included fur coats valued at $1200, and $800. The police are now seeking the junk dealer to whom the goods were sold. The boys are Leo Bragette, Fred Menard and Earl Roberts.

LOWELL MAN ELECTED TO BOARD OF HARVARD FRESHMAN RED BOOK
John Rogers Flather of Lowell has been elected to the board of the Harvard Freshman Red Book. The Red Book is an annual publication containing descriptions of all the activities of each first-year class, as well as an individual directory. Flather is the first man to be elected to the photographic department of this year's Red Book.

The plant had only a skeleton staff. The employee formulated no demands, but expressed dissatisfaction with the individual increases, claiming they amounted only to 4 per cent, while they expected more. After a conference between the factory management and some of the workers, the entire plant was closed at noon with the announcement that the closing was for an indefinite period.

4500 STRIKE AT BRISTOL, R. I.

BRISTOL, R. I., May 7.—Dissatisfaction over a schedule of increased wages which went into effect at the plant of the National India Rubber Co., today caused a strike that grew to include most of the 4500 employees. The management estimated that about 500 hands remained at work. Operatives in the shoe and stitching rooms started the walkout and workers in other departments followed un-

BATTLE FOR KIEV STILL RAGING

Fighting Particularly Severe Northwest of the City, Says Report

Bolshevik Troops Here Strengthened Their Resistance During Last 24 Hours

WARSAW, May 6.—(By Associated Press).—Bolshevik troops fighting in the defense of the city of Kiev have strengthened their resistance considerably during the last 24 hours. The battle for the possession of the city is still raging, according to latest dispatches. The fighting is said to be particularly severe northwest of the city, where the Bolsheviks are using artillery stationed just behind the front line entrenchments. Other heavy guns are stationed in the bridgehead territory there, and are directing a heavy fire against the attacking Polish and Ukrainian troops. It is assumed the soviet army is bringing up artillery from east of the Dniester river, as shell fire is gradually increasing as additional pieces are placed in position. Railroad and highway bridges in front of Kiev were destroyed by the retreating Bolsheviks, but they are being rapidly repaired by the Poles.

Polish gains are reported along the Dniester river, farther south. Ukrainian forces are driving southward toward Odessa, and are reported to have captured the village of Kamionka.

Deny Kiev Captured
CHRISTIANIA, May 6.—Reports that Kiev has been lost by the Russian Bolsheviks are denied in a wireless message received here from Moscow.

Report Poles Repulsed
LONDON, May 7.—Polish troops advancing on Kiev, were repulsed by the Bolsheviks on the line of the Dniester river, it is announced in a soviet government communique, dated Thursday, received from Moscow today.

WITH THE FIREMEN
At 10.55 o'clock this forenoon a still alarm was sent in for smoke in the cellar of the store of Paul Vigeant at the corner of Moody and Cabot streets, caused by back draft in the chimney. At 11.15 an alarm was sent in from box 15 for a slight blaze in the rear of the counter at the store numbered 83 Adams street and at 12.47 o'clock a telephone alarm was received for a rubbish fire in the cellar of the building numbered 165 Merrill avenue. No damage.

BRIDGE PLANKING IN POOR CONDITION

New planking on the Cheimsford street bridge running above the tracks of the Boston & Maine railroad near the Middlesex street station is urgently needed, according to a letter received today by Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy from A. C. Stickney, division engineer of the road.

Mr. Stickney says that the planking is in poor condition and its repair devolves upon the city. Mr. Murphy will look into the matter at once.

Employees of the street department are now replanking a portion of the bridge in Boston street, just below Fletcher street. Work has not yet begun on the Lawrence street bridge in Wiggsville owing to the fact that the engineer's department has not yet completed plans for repairs needed there.

Taxing in Broadway, which was started last summer, will be resumed a week from Monday, Mr. Murphy said today. The northern side of the street is to be taken care of this year.

TO SELL CLOTHES WITHOUT PROFIT

TOPEKA, Kas., May 7.—An old established Topeka clothing store today advertised that for 24 days all men's suits would be sold without profit to the store. The state fair price commissioner will audit the store's books to ascertain whether the suits are sold at cost.

"Let retail clothiers take a definite stand against availing prices," said the proprietor, "and manufacturers will be forced to reflect."

SPOKANE, WASH., SHOWS DROP IN POPULATION

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Spokane, Wash., ranking as 48th city of the country in 1910, has a decrease of 125 in population in the past 10 years and now has 101,201 people, the census bureau announced today.

The Washington city thus became the first of the cities in the class over 100,000 so far announced to show a decrease. Newport, Ky., and Joplin, Mo., both cities of the 30,000 class, are the next largest cities which have shown decreases. Between 1900 and 1910, Spokane's population increased 153.3 per cent.

SMILE AWHILE

Rejecting other fond desires and ways to blow my money in, I bought a brace of rubber tires with which to shoe my steed of tin. It happened that I traded where I cut considerable ice and so they let me have the pair at something off the listed price. "Upon the rear wheels of my car," said I, "these tires shall never fall, I will proceed to roam afar, perchance I'll seek the Holy Grail. I'll know the storied lands that lure"—with that I killed a passing hen, its owner claimed its blood was pure; it cost me twenty iron men. "In days of honey, milk and wine, I'll find," said I, "the paths of peace"—I bumped into a herd of swine,

NO CHANGE IN LAWRENCE STRIKE

LAWRENCE, May 7.—The situation in regard to the strike of stationary engineers in local textile plants for shorter hours and a wage increase remained unchanged today. Union officials place the number of strikers at 82. All the mills were running today, as usual, substitutes being in the places of the striking engineers. No action has been taken so far by local mill agents in regard to the demands submitted Wednesday by the Amalgamated Textile Workers of America for a 50 per cent increase and two were only good for grease. Those pigs had noble dams and sires, and stiff the bill I had to pay; I thought of what I'd saved in tires and so went smiling on my way. Said I, "With these on either wheel, the Happy Isles will I explore"—Just here the world began to reel and suddenly I knew no more. Then, dimly in an hour or less, I seemed to hear a murmur say, "It was the Cannon Ball Express, and this here guy got in the way." Since when, I have not left my room, my bones and thaws are sewn with wires; I question the prevailing gloom and think about my deal in tires.

In wages, a 44-hour week, and recognition of the union. Action on endorsing the engineers' strike will probably be taken by the local council of the Amalgamated at a meeting to be held Sunday.

AMERICANS REMAIN AT AINTAB
CONSTANTINOPLE, May 6.—(By Associated Press).—Dr. John H. Boyd of Newson, Miss, an attaché of the American commission for relief in the Near East, arrived at Aleppo, April 21, with four other American relief workers who were with him at Aintab when that city was the scene of fighting between Armenians and Turks. Six Americans remained at Aintab after Dr. Boyd's departure.

WATER RATES PROBLEM

Chamber of Commerce Committee Recommends Increase of 30 Per Cent

The chamber of commerce municipal affairs committee last night unanimously voted to recommend an increase in city water rates of 30 per cent, instead of the 25 per cent previously proposed to the council by Commissioner John F. Salmon, with the stipulation that the minimum amount of water which may be used shall not be raised from 2000 to 6000 cubic feet. On the basis of this minimum consumption, the amount of increase recommended is $2.50 per 1000 feet, or from $8 to $10.50. The proposal of the department was $12 for 6000 feet.

The vote was taken after the committee had heard the survey report of Herbert R. Ball, secured to examine the finances of the water department and find out whether or not such an increase was justified as proposed after former Superintendent Robert J. Thomas submitted a survey report to Commissioner Salmon. The figures presented by Mr. Ball were substantially the same as those of Mr. Thomas.

In voting to recommend a 30 per cent increase, without increasing the minimum amount of water to be consumed, the committee made it clear that in this way the small users would not be called upon to pay for a considerable amount of water they do not consume during a year, but it would have the effect of making large consumers pay for all water used.

The meeting also brought out an expression of opinion that the fire department should be forced to pay for its hydrant service, at a rate equal to one-half the interest charges for the year. On the amount of such charges last year the department would be required to pay the water department about $40,000.

It was also the general feeling that the water department has a much brighter outlook in 1921, when $46,000 in interest money will be gained and additional revenue received because of the increased rate for the whole year. The increase now recommended will be effective only the last six months of this year.

The meeting began shortly after 8 o'clock, with Chairman John M. O'Donoghue presiding. Besides committee members, Commissioner Salmon and Mr. Thomas were present.

Before submitting any figures from his survey report, Mr. Ball said that the figures he would present were from necessity based on a rather hasty examination and that although he did not have time to check them all as thoroughly as he wished, he felt, nevertheless, that they were substantially correct.

Mr. Ball's estimate for wages and salaries in the department this year, based on last year's figures, was $159,000, or $10,500 less than the figure set by Mr. Thomas. For interest and principal payments Mr. Thomas had estimated $121,000. Mr. Ball estimated them at $127,000. Mr. Ball estimated $31,500 for fuel for pumping, against Mr. Thomas' estimate of $40,000 on the same item. The total expenditures for the department had been estimated by Mr. Thomas as $378,000, while Mr. Ball estimated expenditures for this year as $365,000, or $13,000 less.

On the receipt side Mr. Ball estimated the department would receive about $340,000. He arrived at this figure by taking the actual amount of water billed to consumers during the first quarter, plus the 1919 figures for billings during the second quarter, plus the 1919 figures for the third and fourth quarters, plus 25 per cent increase proposed. This amounted to $353,000, but with the 5 per cent reduction, totalled $335,000. Added to this last figure was $25,000 additional revenue, thus making the total receipts $360,000, or $5000 less than Mr. Ball's estimate of 1920 expenditures.

There was considerable discussion over the difference of $5000 in the estimates for fuel, and it was the opinion of the committee that the department would be forced to spend the $40,000 estimated by Mr. Thomas, rather than the $31,500 estimated by Mr. Ball. Also it was felt that wages and salaries would cost more than Mr. Ball's estimate of $159,000.

John J. Mullaney asked why the department had increased its minimum amount of water from 5000 to 6000 feet, thereby placing a heavier burden upon the small users.

Mr. Thomas replied that the real reason for a minimum was to ensure the department some revenue from each service given and also to compensate for the cost of installing service.

Mr. Thomas said he had always believed that the fire department should pay for its hydrant service, and when asked as to the amount it should pay, the former superintendent said he thought it at least should pay a sum equal to one-half the interest charges. "Last year this would have amounted to $44,000," said Mr. Thomas.

Mr. Ball said that there are approximately 12,500 water takers on meters, with 74 without meters. Approximately one-half of the consumers on meters take the minimum rate, he added.

The accountant said as far as he could see the payroll of the department is now running about the same as last year and that he did not see how $10,000 more could be spent.

Mr. Thomas reminded him that many men of the department have been at work on the foundations of the new pump at West Sixth street and that they were being paid from loan money. Commissioner Salmon said $247 for wages is being charged up against the loan each week. The commissioner said the payroll would grow when the men were taken from the pump foundation job and placed on regular departmental work.

"It is wrong to lay off old, reliable men," said Mr. Thomas, "for the work of the department suffers every time it is done. There is plenty of work to do in the water department—much old work to clean up and a lot of new work which needs to be taken on."

Mr. Ball reviewed the financial condition of the water department through previous administrations. He said Mr. Putnam took the department with a balance of $3000 and finished the year with a balance of $13,000. He said Mr. Brown took it with a balance of $12,000, sold materials to an amount of $35,000 and left office with the department showing a deficit of $44,000. Mr. Morse took the department with a deficit of $44,000 and finished the year with a deficit of $57,400.

Chairman O'Donoghue said that the committee was unanimous in feeling that the department needs more money but that there seemed to be some question as to the proper method of obtaining it. He suggested that the minimum amount of water consumed be left at 5000 feet and the rate advanced from 18 cents to 21 cents per 1000 cubic feet, or from $8 to $10.50 per 6000 cubic feet. This was 30 per cent and would give the department even more revenue than under the proposed plan of $12 for 6000 feet minimum. This suggestion was put in the form of a motion and unanimously passed.

Commissioner Salmon and Mr. Thomas were accorded a riding vote of thanks. They in turn thanked the committee for the interest shown in the suggestions made and vote taken, and the meeting adjourned.

WANT BASEBALL COACH

Vocational School Students Need Financial Support for Athletics

Despite the fact that they bring approximately $1000 a year into the city treasury and the cost of their education is borne in part by the state, students of the Lowell Vocational school in Broadway have been unable to hire a professional coach for their baseball team and have been obliged to play ball without uniforms owing to the fact that school board authorities cannot see their way clear to pay for the expenses incidental to conducting a ball team at the school.

On the other hand, the high school students have had a team and professional coach for years, its expenses being paid from the athletic fund which the students raise by staging track meets during the winter months and football in the fall.

However, the Vocational school has no facilities for track meets such as the annex in Falmouth street where the high school meets are staged. It must look to the school authorities for whatever financial encouragement it is to receive in the conduct of outdoor sports. To date, this support has not been forthcoming.

In discussing the matter this morning, Principal Thomas F. Fisher, who is an enthusiast for a team at the school, said:

"The boys here at the Vocational school bring to the city treasury something like $1000 a year from the receipts paid the school by individuals and firms who have automobiles repaired here, electrical work done and other activities in which the boys are engaged. Despite this fact, we have no financial support for an organized baseball club and when the boys have wanted to play, they did so in their civilian clothing."

Furthermore, they have had no coach with the exception of the services which Mr. McIntyre of the high school physical training staff has generously given us. The boys have a chance to form any sort of an athletic fund because they have no facilities for staging track meets such as the high school has.

We have been able to raise $25 from voluntary subscriptions among the students here, but that will not go far in the purchase of uniforms, equipment, etc. It does seem that inasmuch as the boys who attend school here are about the same age as those going to high school, they should be given

BOYS IN THE OTHER CAR

BY GROVES

at least as much opportunity for recreational activity. The boys cannot go out of town to play ball if they have no uniforms."

The matter has been brought to the attention of members of the school committee, but that body does not seem to favor expending money on the project owing to the fact that grammar schools will also want their nine equipped.

A team has been organized at the Vocational school this year with the aid of Mr. McIntyre and this afternoon it was scheduled to play a team from Chelmsford Centre. But until uniforms and proper equipment are obtained, there will be little use in arranging an out-of-town schedule. It has been pointed out that if the Vocational school team were put on the same basis as the high school nine with regard to professional coaching, etc., an interesting inter-school series of games might be arranged each year for the school championship of the city.

The young men at the school are unanimous in the belief that inasmuch as they contribute a substantial sum to the city's income every year, estimated that $500 would cover a season's expenses and perhaps much more than that.

ARMS FOR MEXICO HIS MISSION?
ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 7.—The arrest of Manuel M. Prieto, who had $30,000 in United States currency concealed on his person when searched, is believed to have frustrated a plot to supply the Obregon revolutionists in Mexico with quantities of arms and ammunition. Prieto, educated in an eastern university, is former mayor of Juarez and at one time one of Villa's right hand men.

BLACK BRUIN HAS A TICKLISH PALATE

The black bear of the United States has a palate that is as ticklish as your own.
He likes nice things to eat and if you'll take note of him at his dinner you'll observe that he enjoys them.
He loves honey and he'll dig out a wild bee's nest even at the risk of a terribly swollen head, and eyelids stung so many times that he's blind for days. He loves pork and he doles on berries. If none of these are available, Mr. Black Bruin will search out a stream and fish. If, finally, he can't find fish, he'll eat anything, even dead things.

The black bear sleeps most of the winter and, curiously, if he's a healthy fellow, he'll wake up in the spring with most of the fat he put on in the luxurious fall. For a week or 10 days he ambles about lazily and eats exclusively of the juicy spring grass. Then something happens: he becomes ravenously hungry and about that time the sheep folds, hog pens, game in general and even cattle had better get out of his way. His appetite is enormous and, curiously again, he loses flesh for a while.

The black bear is playful and timid. Two bears will have a bully afternoon together. When he is alone, the bear will nevertheless enjoy himself mightily, rolling on his back, sparring with twigs and dodging them as they fly back at him, chasing butterflies, dancing on his hind legs and otherwise taking life pleasantly.
Black bear has been hunted as persistently in the United States as deer. Nevertheless, he still inhabits every section of the country.

When he has to fight, the black bear is courageous. He'll battle an army of dogs. He won't attack a man, but when cornered he will swipe him with his powerful, clawed paw, and if the man is close enough, he'll take a bite at him. Black bear weighs from 250 to 350 pounds.

SPOONING DOES NOT MEAN EDUCATION

N.E.A. Staff Special
NEW YORK, May 6.—It may be highly important to know how to spoon, but that is not education. Holding hands on the campus at night is not education. Kissing, under certain circumstances, is delightful, but it is not education, either. Therefore, beware the co-educational college! Each is the creed, though he does not express it in exactly those terms, of Dr. Jas. Howland Angell, first successor to Andrew Carnegie, as president of the Carnegie corporation, which supervises the Carnegie benefactions. Institutions where young men and young women study together are in great danger of becoming mere matrimonial bureaus or clearing houses for flirtation, he fears! Of course, Dr. Angell admits that young people are likely to find pleasure in each other's company no matter whether they go to college together or not, but he thinks they can avoid a number of pitfalls if they go to different educational institutions. "It is a safe assertion," he said, "that many young men and women would be better off in colleges of some

BAVARIAN TROOPS IN RUHR WITHDRAWN

$100,000,000 Campaign for Assistance Asked at Mass Meeting Held in First Congregational Church
NEW YORK, May 7.—The $100,000,000 campaign of the new world movement of Northern Baptists, has passed the $50,000,000 mark. It was announced here today at the headquarters of the organization, Arizona was the first state to reach its quota.
AUTO CAN GO 250 MILES ON A GALLON
ROME, May 6.—Dr. Pasteur, a noted chemist, has discovered a method of cheaply producing liquid hydrogen. It may be used in driving automobiles, one gallon being sufficient for 250 miles. It may also be utilized in railway locomotives and in the engines of ocean steamers, he declares.

a description of the part played by his native land in the world war and of Armenians' forced flight before the advancing Turkish troops when their ammunition supply had become exhausted.
The speaker told of the almost miraculous saving of the lives of himself, his wife and children. He told of the loss of all of his property, which was of large value, except a gold watch, which he had been able to retain.
With hope gone of help from Europe Dr. Yonan appealed to America and Americans for aid.
He said that the contribution of it would provide for the care of an Armenian child for a month.
"We do not beg; we ask justice and fair play. We ask for a chance to live. What have you suffered in the war compared to our suffering? What has France or Belgium or Serbia suffered when Armenia's sacrifice is laid before the eyes of the world? Out of 100,000,000 people in America you have lost 50,000 upon the altar of democracy. France and Belgium have suffered heavily. Armenia has suffered everything. She has lost everything. Of a nation of three million people, one million and a half perished in the war in massacres, from starvation and from exhaustion. The Armenians are exiles in a foreign land, owning not one single home, not a wall standing to call a home. And besides this 100,000 of our daughters were sold, actually sold in the market by the Turk for five or ten dollars apiece, and they are still in captivity.
"America has helped us and America is our last hope now. The situation is desperate. You can do one of two things. You must either ignore us and tell the Turk to go in and finish the job, or you must give us aid before it is too late."
Dr. Milton Littlefield, a secretary of the relief fund, presided at the meeting.
IN THE LAND OF CHERRY BLOSSOMS
Rogers Hall school girls stepped into the land of cherry blossoms and quaint legends last evening when they presented the dainty operetta, "The Japanese Girl," in the school gymnasium. The music was light, tuneful and catchy and the stage was dressed beautifully in colors characteristic of the far eastern country. The costumes worn were rich in coloring and fabric, some particularly gorgeous with brilliant butterfly effects. There also were three American characters, a globe-trotting school teacher as chaperone to a pair of giggling school girls.

Among the girls who took part were the Misses Sarah Painter, Lucille Wentworth, Priscilla Hall, Edna Hartley, Helen Oberhaus, Frances Dixon and Angeline Rush.
The stage decorations and designs of costumes were cared for by Miss Margaret Fox, Miss Anna Holmes Ruggles, of the school faculty, directed the music and Miss Florence Harrison was the stage director. Music for the operetta was provided by Miss Genevieve Berger, piano; Miss Kathleen Wright, violin, and Miss Katherine Whitten, mandolin.
BIG STORAGE SHED FOR SACO-LOWELL
A cement storage shed, four stories high and 50 by 117 feet, four inches in size, is about to be erected for the Saco-Lowell shops in the yard of the company off Revere street. The estimated cost is $125,000. The building will be of fireproof construction throughout.

ZIONIST CONVENTION

Arrangements for Immigration of 4,000,000 Jews to Palestine to be Discussed

NEW YORK, May 7.—Arrangements for the gradual immigration of 4,000,000 Jews to Palestine, following the San Remo sessions of the peace conference which gave Great Britain the mandate over that country for the establishment of a Jewish national home land, will be discussed at an extraordinary conference of the Zionist Organization of America here next Sunday and Monday.

The conference, which will be attended by 1700 delegates from the United States and Canada, will be, it is said, "the most important and historic gathering of Jews ever held in America." Under the leadership of Justice Brandeis of the United States supreme court and United States Judge Julian W. Mack, the organization is expected to take immediate action toward the re-establishment of the Jewish people in the Near East after 2600 years of exile, thus bringing to pass the realization of the movement begun 25 years ago by Dr. Theodore Herzl, father of political Zionism.

Tells Fat People
Perverved Craving
For Wrong Foods Must Be Over-

come.
Says Arbolone Tablets Does This and Reduces Weight, Too.

The person who is too fat is told to diet and the very things that a perverted appetite craves are the ones "you must not eat." Obesity is unnatural. It is like an endless chain. Eating wrong foods in the wrong way produces a perverted appetite. Then the appetite demands and craves the wrong foods and converts them into needless, embarrassing fat. Tablets Arbolone stops the perverted craving for the wrong foods, gives a normal appetite, eliminates the fat-forming elements through kidneys and bowels, dissolves the fatty surplus and sends it back through eliminative channels, causing improved health and strength. One or two tubes will convince any fat person that Arbolone is what they need to reduce safely and successfully. Sold by thirty thousand druggists in sealed tubes with full directions.

ed to take immediate action toward the re-establishment of the Jewish people in the Near East after 2600 years of exile, thus bringing to pass the realization of the movement begun 25 years ago by Dr. Theodore Herzl, father of political Zionism.

In calling this extraordinary convention, which necessitated the postponement of the regular annual meeting, which had been scheduled for Atlantic City beginning May 30, the national executive said: "The historic action taken at San Remo on April 24, which gave recognition to the age long aspirations of the Jewish people opens up the immediate opportunity to them to conquer through work and organization that place for themselves in the world of civilization which has been their hope for 26 centuries, a place where Jewish ideals shall be free and where Jewish spirit shall be free to express itself in accordance with its traditions of social justice and righteousness."

These principles, it is said will govern the new Jewish home land; Political and civil equality, irrespective of race, sex or faith of all inhabitants; equality of opportunity which, with due regard to existing rights, shall tend to establish the ownership and control in the whole people; application of the cooperative principle so far as feasible in the organization of all agricultural, industrial, commercial and financial undertakings and the establishment of a fiscal policy which shall protect the people from the evils of land speculation and from every other form of financial oppression.

Although millions of Jews, particularly from eastern Europe are said to be prepared to leave at a moment's notice, the Zionists say that "no mad rush of immigrants will be permitted to flood Palestine," but that a well regulated, carefully, scientific immigration of perhaps 50,000 annually will be undertaken, in order to insure the proper economic and cultural development of the country.

In addition to formulating the policy of American Zionists at the world Zionist conference to be held in Carlsbad, Czecho Slovakia, beginning July 4, the convention here will take up this Palestine reconstruction program. This will include the reclamation of swamp and waste land, irrigation, modernizing of Palestine cities, sanitation, the building of a harbor at Haifa and the establishment of clothing and shoe factories, oil and soap plants and other industrial and commercial enterprises.

ACREAGE IN U. S.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 7.—Acreage of the United States to be devoted to this year to tobacco raising probably will increase by about 10 percent over 1919, says a review made public by the department of markets, University of Kentucky.

"Kentucky will change the least in acreage of any of the great tobacco producing states," the review recites, "while indications are that crop acreage will be increased from 10 to 14 percent in the Carolinas and Virginia about 500 percent in Georgia, the latter increase meaning that farmers of Georgia are taking to tobacco as a means of utilizing areas attacked by boll weevil and now unsuitable for cotton."

Concerning the world tobacco situation, the report which is based on information from authoritative domestic and foreign sources, says foreign acreage seems to have increased very little over 1919, but condition of the crop is greatly improved and this indicates there should be a considerable increase in production.

Reciting that at this time, a year ago there were vast quantities held in the United States, the bulletin declares that this year about equal, if not greater, stocks are held in this country. "England, Holland and Scandinavia find themselves with markets still glutted with tobacco shipped to them from the United States from August to December, 1919, at which time the overplus of tobacco in the United States was lifted and moved across the Atlantic, either for cash or on credit, in order to free this country's markets for the coming selling season." "Therefore," the report says, "European countries this year apparently will not demand tobacco in as great quantities as before."

Delving into the probable price of tobacco for 1920, the report says: "With acreage now planned and if a normal yield per acre is produced, the price of all burley, except the highest type of cigar leaf, should show a marked falling off during the market season of 1920, and even the highest quality leaf may suffer from competition with the Virginia type, if this is produced in anywhere near the quantities indicated by the acreage planned."

Relative to the dark tobacco situation, the survey says, "The present deplorable stagnant market for it is resultant of two factors—the present situation of foreign exchange and the fact that growers were either unwilling or unable to market their tobacco early in the season." "France, however," says the report, "is likely to become a heavier buyer of American dark tobacco within the near future, provided that English exchange recedes itself, because any improvement in English exchange is quite likely to be reflected in an improvement in French exchange rates. This statement does not apply as strongly, if at all, to Italian exchange rates and hence the situation as to an Italian market is not encouraging." "It does not seem reasonable, therefore, to expect a recovery in dark tobacco prices until those abnormal economic conditions are relieved," the review concluded.

60 P. C. OF AMERICAN DEAD TO BE EXHUMED

PARIS—Representatives of the American war department here estimate that about 60 percent of the American soldiers buried in France will be exhumed and taken back to their native land. A little more than 77,000 American burials have been registered by the graves registration service and about 71,000 of these are in France.

Not all of these soldiers will be returned to American soil as the United States war department proposes to carry back to America only those requested by their next of kin. This policy will result in leaving in France those whose next of kin ask that they be left here and those whose removal is not requested. It is understood also that the unidentified American dead will be left in France.

Decision by the Franco-American commission that bodies of American soldiers buried in the zone of military operations may be exhumed after September 15 next ends a long period of negotiations between French and American authorities. The French government desired to meet the wishes of the American nation but entertained serious doubts as to the advisability of removing the American dead from the zone of operations this year owing to labor and transportation difficulties involving the passing of the bodies over the railways and highways at a time when the French population was in the first stage of its recovery from the economic and sentimental strain of five years of war. The French government feared that the granting of such permission to America would bring on clamorous agitation from other nations for similar permission and that this would hamper the rehabilitation of French industrial conditions.

American officers, however, have vigorously urged that the number of Americans in the zone of operations was relatively small; that the traditional policy of the United States was to return its dead from foreign soil and that the American government could do no less than heed the pleas of those next of kin who insisted that the bodies of their relatives be returned to the homes.

FARMERS LOST MONEY ON RECORD WHEAT CROP

TOPEKA, May 7.—Kansas farmers raised the record wheat crop of 1919—approximately 150,000,000 bushels, which was marketed for $290,000,000—at a loss of 43 cents an acre, state average, according to Secretary J. C. Mohler, of the state board of agriculture, who bases his conclusion on an exhaustive analysis of the crop and questionnaires of 2,040 wheat growers.

in all counties in the state. The secretary summarized his report on the Kansas wheat crop as follows:

Cost per acre $25.29
Return per acre 24.77
Loss per acre42

The report states that if the return of the crop had been equal to the cost of production, "as calculated in this investigation," the average farmer would have received:

A moderate rate of interest (5 percent) for the use of capital represented by land, buildings, and equipment for wheat.

The going wage of a farm hand for his labor, for the greater part of his time to wheat, $55 a month and board.

A compensation of $2.50 a day for his services as a manager for the time devoted to wheat, an average of $7 days a year.

Sufficient allowances to cover necessary repairs and replacements.

One-third his house rent.

Some protection against crop failures, through charging to the acre harvested the cost of seed and seeding the acres that are on the average abandoned annually.

Secretary Mohler said: "A considerable cash balance in the wheat grower's hands at the end of the season does not necessarily mean a profit. The large gross returns from the crop and the fact that it left balances temporarily large in the accounts of many farmers should not be allowed to hide the loss sustained."

Arlington Mill Blue SERGE

With absolute knowledge of the quality of this Blue Serge, knowing what I paid for it, knowing what I sold it to you for a year ago, two years ago, yes, and four years hence, I would know I must have pleased you, even if constant demand and duplicate orders didn't prove it to my entire satisfaction. I want you to pass the word around among your friends, tell them exactly what you paid, tell them how the suit wore, tell them exactly how I pleased you.

MY OBJECT IS to interest them in the BLUE SERGE SUIT I am selling this season for \$27.50. I bought last week, 18 pieces for this store 20 per cent. less than I paid for it three weeks ago—it is even a better blue, $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. heavier in weight. This reduction sounds small but when you buy in large quantity it amounts to real money. I don't hesitate to say that not a man in Lowell who has done any shopping this season, even looking in windows, will guess the price to be \$27.50 after he sees it made and on your back. I don't mind telling you that this serge was never intended for low priced suitings and it is no secret that there is no concern in Lowell or New England, which can sell it anywhere near as low.

I GUARANTEE to put every cent where it counts most—into the clothing itself, no costly plate glass or swell mahogany fixtures, no oriental rugs, no oil paintings, and no haughty floorwalkers. I carry no charge accounts and don't have to make up any credit losses. I've cut out expense to the bone—and save you $10 to $15.00.

All garments sold under this express stipulation—That the Customer Be Satisfied or No Sale. GUARANTEED BLUE SERGE, 12 oz. in weight, absolutely all wool, double warp yarn, and fast color. If it fades, I'll make you a new suit and you can keep the old one.

TRUSTS AND MONOPOLIES

England Has Started an Investigation — Profiteering Committees at Work

LONDON, May 7.—England has started an investigation of the past war growth of alleged trusts and monopolies.

A profiteering committee which has been looking into the activity of electric light companies and lamp bulb manufacturers, in a report recently made public, says that "a trade combination does exist among electric light manufacturers in this country and exercises a powerful influence over

It is known as the Electric Light Manufacturers association, the report says, and has been created primarily in the interests of three firms — the British Thomson-Houston company, the General Electric company and Messrs. Siemens Brothers. It is reported to include from 90 to 95 per cent of the industry, to fix prices and regulate output, says the profiteering committee.

The prices fixed by association, the report says, become the standard for all lamps sold in this country, whether made by association or non-association manufacturers or imported from abroad. Because of this standard price policy the general public reap no benefit from lamps of cheaper manufacture, the advantage going wholly to distributors.

Standard vacuum lamps, now sold to the public for three shillings, states the report, could be sold at two shillings at which price the manufacturer and distributor would still have a satisfactory working profit.

"One and a quarter million half-watt lamps," adds the report, "sold to the public in 1919 at twelve shillings and sixpence each were purchased in Holland by three associated manufacturers at about three shillings a lamp. They could have been sold at not more than eight shillings which would still have left ample margin for the importers and distributors. Importers and distributors between them made profits on these lamps, of something like $1,400,000 over and above what would appear to us reasonable."

"Since the largest of the three dominant firms," continues the report, "is under the majority control of an American electrical concern, there is some danger that the interests of the British lamp industry may be subordinated to American interests."

"There is a possibility of an international combination comprising British, Dutch and American manufacturers which would be able to control supplies and dominate prices over a considerable part of the world."

"The operations of an association

WORLD-WIDE MOVE TO BEAUTIFY CITIES

MONTVIDEO, May 7.—Worldwide legislation to stop the "hideous deformity" of streets, parks, gardens and plazas and to beautify all cities was advocated at the first congress of architects which has just closed its sessions here.

Representatives were present from all South American countries as well as from the United States. The congress in proposing legislation for the adoption of regular plans and the location of public buildings and monuments, recommended the continuation of the system of uniform squares. Classes in "urbanization" in universities and special schools of architecture were also proposed, a resolution stating that these were indispensable for the culture of the people.

Emphasis was also laid on the need of construction with government aid of cheap and hygienic homes for laborers in industrial sections. The congress urged also that there should be established in each country a "national bank for the construction of economic houses" with funds contributed by employers and capitalists.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the Trades and Labor council was held last evening with the president in the chair, and only routine business was transacted.

Read these letters—they tell the story of RED PILLS

Took RED PILLS nine years ago. Still well

I took RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women nine years ago, as I was then suffering from general weakness brought on by overwork. I was sick in bed and was beginning to get discouraged, as I was growing weaker every day. I had gas on the stomach, and that combined with sore back made me suffer terribly. I had consulted several physicians, who were unable to help me any, and so I then took RED PILLS, which relieved me altogether in a very short time. I am now perfectly well and happy.

—Mrs. EMILIA DESILET
77 Clinton Street, Woonsocket, R.I.

Extreme Weakness

RED PILLS have helped me of extreme weakness from which I had been suffering. My mother had recommended them to me, knowing through experience of their beneficial properties, and now that I have become familiar with the good results obtained through their use, they have been my favorite remedy for the past sixteen years.

—Mrs. DELIA LAVIGNE
547 Silver Street, Manchester East, N.H.

Keeping her strength up with RED PILLS

Truly, RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women are the ideal medicine for weak and sick women who wish to keep up their strength, especially for mothers who have to bring up a family. I myself used them at different times during my life, and always with the most satisfactory results. They helped me at each confinement, and my children were all strong and healthy. Now when I see any of my friends who are weak and sickly, I cannot recommend them anything better than RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women.

—Mrs. ERLIDA BIBEAU
502 Moody Street, Lowell, Mass.

A recent confinement had left me in such a weakened condition that several of my friends advised me to give RED PILLS a trial, stating that they were the surest remedy, and one which would be sure to give me prompt results. I had taken but a few boxes when I began to notice that I was getting stronger, and it was not long before I was well again and enjoying good health. Now, when the occasion arises, I am always anxious to recommend RED PILLS to Weak and Suffering Women.—Mrs. ETIENNE CHAMPAGNA

461 Rimmon Street, Manchester West, N.H.

RED PILLS are for Women only

They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "FRANCO-AMERICAN CHEMICAL COMPANY LIMITED" is on every box.

INDIANS IN MAINE TO OCCUPY LAND WHICH WAS ABODE OF ANCESTORS

PORTLAND, Me., May 7.—Indians living in Maine will make their homes this summer on land which was the abode of their ancestors 230 years ago. As part of the Maine centennial celebration, tribes of Penobscot and Passamaquoddy will dwell at Deering Oaks, which has been occupied by pale faces since Sept. 21, 1689. English settlers took possession then after a conflict with the redskins.

The centennial committee will establish villages at Deering Oaks typical of the original tribal settlements. Wigwags beneath the great oaks will shelter the survivors of the powerful tribes that have passed to the happy hunting ground. On a nearby stream they will paddle their canoes. Many white visitors are expected to mingle with the braves, squaws and papooses making a scene not unlike that of two centuries ago except for the absence of firewater and an occasional clash.

DISCUSSED HOME AND FOREIGN MISSIONS

Miss Ona A. Evans told of the work being done in the home mission field, both in rural communities and among the foreign-born in cities, at a largely attended gathering of women representing the Andover and Woburn alliance of the Women's Home Missionary association and the Andover and Woburn branch of the women's board of missions yesterday in the First Congregational church.

Mrs. Edward T. Gould of Lawrence, president of the alliance, presided at the morning session. Miss Evans spoke interestingly of work being carried on in the isolated regions of New England that are commonly out of contact with the church. She also gave a detailed account of the program carried on in the south and west and of church extension and other projects underway.

Ray Paul Leeds told of his work in Louisiana, which he described as being his "Indian Parish." He has been working for over a quarter of a century in a district about the size of Rhode Island. His work is to bring the

Out of Life—In the Spring When Impure Blood, Lost Appetite, Lifelessness, lassitude and that tired feeling pull down health to the low level that invites illness.

The knees become weak and life seems hardly worth living. In this condition Hood's Sarsaparilla has the real "human touch." It meets the necessity promptly and completely. It purifies the blood, creates an appetite, "makes food taste good," and aids digestion, thus naturally increasing strength and in a common-sense way building up the whole system. Then the bright days of spring find in you happy response, and the whole world smiles again.

toxicated Indians that he met by chance by the roadside. He told them his story and they repeated it to others, and later the members of the tribe began to straggle in in small numbers to attend the church that he had erected.

In addition to his labors among the Indians, Mr. Leeds has attempted to interest the French Creoles of his district in his work as a Christian missionary.

"The French Creoles of today," he said, "are practically the same as those of the days when Grand Pre was depopulated as described by Longfellow in 'Evangeline.'"

In the early stages of his work, Mr. Leeds stated, he was greatly handicapped by his unfamiliarity with the language. In his preaching he was obliged to depend upon interpreters.

One of these so altered a sermon in which he strongly condemned the use of intoxicating liquor that it seemed to the Indians that he advocated the liberal use of strong drink.

"That Indian interpreter," added Mr. Leeds, "I later found was the only man among them that had a drop of white blood in his veins."

The delegates were welcomed to the church by Mrs. Fred B. Sweet. There was a short response by Mrs. Gould. Luncheon was served shortly after noon.

During the luncheon music was furnished by the Beacon Hill orchestra. Mrs. Odis Floyd Lanson of Seattle spoke on conditions in her native Armenia. She told of her coming to America to study medicine and of her marriage to an American physician.

She pictured graphically the conditions of suffering among the Armenians, and especially pleaded the cause of the children among her compatriots.

At the afternoon session the program was devoted to foreign missions. The devotional service was led by Dr. Hawkins.

There was a solo by Miss Marion McKnight, and Mrs. E. Victor Higelow told of the work of "our youngest and newest missionary," Miss Ruth Perkins. Miss Perkins formerly lived in Melrose, but she is now employed as a teacher at the American Collegiate institute at Smyrna.

"The Emergency Needs of the Woman's Board of Missions" was the subject of an address by Miss Alice M. Kyle.

Later came the young women's hour. Features were Japanese jingles, sung in costume by Mrs. George H. Upton with Mrs. Frank Morse as accompanist, and an allegorical pageant by the patrols. "Armenia had a chance to become rich in 1914," she said. "Instead, she preferred to remain true to the motto, 'Christ first; others next; self last.'"

The Melrose Highlands church invited the delegates to hold their next annual meeting in that church in November, and the invitation was accepted.

REFUSES TO OFFER ARMENIAN MANDATE

WASHINGTON, May 7. (By the Associated Press.)—The council of the League of Nations has refused to offer a mandate for Armenia to any power unless certain requested stipulations are embodied in the supreme council in the Turkish settlement.

According to official information received here yesterday, the league council has insisted that the boundaries of Armenia be fixed; that a free port, preferably Batum, be accorded her; and that protection for the defense of the new state be provided before the league council will be free to ask an independent power to assume mandatory powers over the country.

The council of the league declares that no state should be asked to assume the burden of financing Armenia, but suggests assumption of joint financial responsibility by the powers. If the mandate should be offered to a small power, as has been suggested, it was said, provision for an international military force should be made in order not to inflict an impossible burden upon a country incapable of bearing it. At the same time such an international force, it was pointed out, would give to all the powers and interest in the Armenian nation.

The action of the council of the league, it was stated, was taken previous to the decision of the supreme council at San Remo to offer the Armenian mandate to the United States. In requesting President Wilson to fix the Armenian boundaries, the supreme council is believed by officials to have shown a disposition to comply with that particular of the league's suggestion concerning Armenia. The direct proffer of a mandate contrary to the league's advice is taken by officials as indicating not so much a spirit of antagonism to the league by the supreme council as a desire to fulfill a political obligation to the United States which the league has felt incumbent upon it in the Turkish settlement.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

MY DENTISTRY MUST MAKE GOOD or I WILL

Use Dr. King's Mouth Wash

What I mean by the above statement is just this—My work must be better work than you are able to get elsewhere—no patient is allowed to leave my office until he or she is fully satisfied—and no work is ever called finished until I am satisfied, and I assure you that I am far more particular than you are, no matter how hard you are to please.

Why is it That Dr. King Does Such Wonderful Dentistry and Doesn't Hurt You in the Least?

Because the King Safe System of Painless Dentistry is sure in 90 out of 100 cases—this surely means a great deal to those of you who dread the thoughts of having your teeth fixed.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Ben Bunny Gets Spring Cleaned—Scramble Squirrel, Too!

Rubadub, the fairyman, called Ben Bunny to come next and get cleaned up to go to the Land-Where-Spring-Was-Coming.

Now, of course, Ben had been asleep all winter under warm blankets and a nice white bedspread (of snow), but you know how you get tanned when you're asleep, and you need to be with his pantry right beside him, so he could reach out and help himself without disturbing the covers. He needed scrubbing as much as Ben Bunny—combing too, his tail was so tangled. But both had something on their minds besides being spring-cleaned.

When Rubadub called Ben, Scramwashed and combed in the morning, very much indeed. But Ben had another reason for coming to Scrub-Up Land to see Rubadub.

Scramble Squirrel was with him, and Scramble had the same reason Ben had for coming. He, too, had been asleep all winter in a bedstead of tree roots, he came running, too.

"Hello, here, you two vagabonds," laughed Rubadub, dipping his scrubbing brush (a porcupine, you know) into a bucket of suds. "If dirt was a penny a pound you'd be millionaires."

For awhile he was very busy lathering and scrubbing and rinsing and rubbing, until both Ben and Scramble looked as spry and spry as laundry baskets.

"You'll do now, run along and have a good time," nodded Rubadub to the two of them. But instead of going away, Ben Bunny whispered something into Rubadub's ear, on one side, and Scramble Squirrel whispered the same thing into the ear on the other side.

"Well, I never!" exclaimed the fairyman in surprise. "You two are queer ones! But I'll have to ask Nancy and Nick what they think about it." "I'll tell you tomorrow what it was that Ben and Scramble wanted." (Copyright, 1920, N.E.A.)

The class of girls which won the recent three months' collection contest was given a banquet last night by the losers, the young men's Sunday school class of the Westminster United Presbyterian church. The tables were very prettily decorated and individual hospitality indicated the seating arrangement.

Those who were in charge of the banquet were Mrs. Henry Ashley, Mrs. K. J. MacKitterick and Mrs. Alexander MacDonald. Those of the losing class who were the servers were: Malcolm McKinley, Daniel MacDonald, Bert McLean, Leslie Ashley, Allan McKinley and James MacNaughton.

The Sunday school teachers were present, including Miss Margaret Blackie, teacher of the winning class. The superintendent of the Sunday school, John D. MacKinnley, gave a short address. Others to speak were Alexander Ross, the secretary, and Rev. S. A. Jackson, the pastor.

LOWELL BOY RUNAWAY

Agent C. F. Richardson of the Lowell Humane society has received the following from the Brooklyn Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, about a boy run-away from Lowell: "On April 27 a boy named Earl Reed of 574 Lakeview avenue was found wandering in a New York street at 1 a. m. and was brought to our society. When he was interviewed by one of the agents it was decided to enter against him a charge of disorderly child in the children's court. The court, however, remanded him to the society for care until May 5, pending an investigation." The society in its communication asked for a report from Mr. Richardson as to further steps to be taken.

BATTERY B QUOTA ALREADY ASSURED

Without any doubt the quota of 120 men for Battery B will be arrived at long before the specified time for recruiting, one month, has expired. Last evening the 100th man signed up, so that already 100 men have joined in three days. As it looks now the battery for Lowell will be the first fully recruited and so will be the first to receive full equipment.

Recruiting will continue each night at the armory until the quota of 120 men for the battery is completed. After the physical examination, which will come later, there may be other chances to join.

GREAT INTEREST IN FAT ELIMINATION CONTEST

CHICAGO, May 7.—Fat persons all over the United States are watching with great interest the 60-day experiment in reducing weight which is being conducted here under the supervision of Dr. John Hill Robertson, city health commissioner. Inquiries already received here suggest the probability that if the Chicago experiment is successful it may be tried in other communities.

Success reported in the first week when the average weight of the 34 women composing the first class was reduced by 3.5 pounds has prompted the organization of other classes in this city and altogether more than 200 persons here are trying to see how rapidly they can regain their youthful figures.

The leaders of the fat elimination contest here aver that the experiment can be tried by anyone suffering from a surplus of adipose tissue. Reasonable exercise and a strictly controlled diet

Let Poslam Speed Away Your Pimples

If you have pimples, act at once on this suggestion—there can be no harm in it and every probability of wonderful benefit. Get some Poslam and apply directly over the eruptions to night. In the morning examine the skin for improvement. If encouraged, continue as necessary and you will doubtless marvel at the rapidity and effectiveness of this treatment. Now that you know what it can do, you will find many ways to utilize the healing properties of Poslam.

Adv.

constitute two of the chief features of the Chicago experiment. The daily menus of the reducing class are prepared by Miss Ruth Wilbar, of the health commissioner's training school for nurses, who believes this supervision of diet to be essential to success. Those ambitious to become slim are permitted to have lean meat but once a day and potatoes are forbidden. If one is hungry between meals Miss Wilbar suggests that a glass of water will satisfy that "empty feeling."

Anti-Fat Menu
Here is a typical menu prepared by Miss Wilbar for one day:

Breakfast—One medium apple, one egg, one slice of toast, one cup of coffee with one and a half tablespoons of skimmed milk instead of cream.

10:30 a. m.—One-half cup of bulion with one cracker.

Luncheon—Medium serving of lean cold roast beef; two thin slices of yeast bread; lettuce and cottage cheese salad; two and one-half tablespoons of French dressing; tea with lemon; one cracker.

Dinner—Large serving of boiled cod with lemon; large serving of plain cauliflower; one scant teaspoon of butter; lettuce salad or celery; one-half an orange; black coffee.

10:30 p. m.—One-half cup hot skim milk.

Each of the women is expected to work an hour a day in her garden—if she has a garden—otherwise to take long walks and setting up exercises. Daily the women report by telephone and receive instructions, including a diet for the following day. On Thursday of each week they report at the city hall and are weighed, and the week's loss—or gain—recorded on their charts.

The 24 women in the first class averaged in weight at the start of the experiment, 201.65 pounds. 65.83 pounds more than their average, normal weight, and Dr. Robertson says he expects to take approximately 40 of those pounds from each woman.

The leader of the class is Mrs. Nellie Leonard, age 32, a typist, who tipped the scales at 223 pounds but lost eight pounds in the first seven days. Dr. Robertson figured her normal weight at 141 pounds.

Miss Catherine Scott, aged 28, also a typist, in the "baby of the class," she weighed in at 164½, and her normal weight was calculated at 121. Miss Scott stands just a half-inch above five feet.

OPEN DRIVE AGAINST RECKLESS BUYING

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7.—Leaders of churches, and women's clubs and social workers here are engaged in a city-wide drive to induce residents of Louisville to join in a campaign to cut down the cost of living by curtailing reckless buying at high prices. Thousands have already joined and it is hoped eventually to enlist 200,000 persons.

The movement was inaugurated by Louisville club women. It was endorsed and given impetus by the Presbyterian Ministers' circle and the Crescent Hill Forward club and the Conference of Social Workers. Churches have approved it and United Trades and Labor assembly and the Building Trades council have been asked to join in a permanent organization.

It is proposed to organize a cheaper living committee to be composed of representatives of many civic organizations.

Mayor George W. Smith has given the movement a semi-official endorsement by announcing his adherence and Mrs. Smith has promised that her household will be conducted so near as possible along the lines of economy suggested by the promoters of the idea.

The drive against reckless buying is headed by the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Welch, president of the Louisville Ministerial association, who is aided by a committee including in its membership a Roman Catholic priest and a Jewish rabbi as well as representatives of women's clubs.

"Buy no new clothing, shoes or other wearing apparel," is the first plank in the economy platform. "Wear what you have, no matter how shabby or out of style," it continues and adds: "Reduce the consumption of meat in each household; abstain from candy, soft drinks and other confections; deposit money in the bank and keep a record of money saved through practicing economies."

"If the people of Louisville will take this movement seriously," said the Rev. Dr. Welch, "we actually can force down prices here on the necessities of life. Persons generally are spending money like drunken sailors; labor, which should be producing essentials, is devoted to non-essentials. This is not the time for overalls, except for working people. We don't want fads—what we want is at least 200,000 Louisville people to join this campaign. Let's make it a badge of honor to wear old clothes, carry lunches to the office, abstain from sweets and buy nothing not absolutely needed. Then watch prices drop."

FOR EDUCATION OF AMERICANS IN PARIS

PARIS, May 7.—American students are to have an opportunity to obtain an education in the higher domains of knowledge under the direction of the faculties of the University of Paris. This announcement has just been made by Dr. Paul Appell, who has become rector of the great French educational institution, in succession to the late Henri Poincaré.

Dr. Appell has just told the Associated Press correspondent that classrooms, laboratories and libraries of Paris are to be opened to young Americans. The city of Paris has given a site on the Boulevard St. Germain on which it is proposed to build an American institute where American students can be lodged, have their club and auditorium.

It is intended also to provide for American students opportunities for athletics and hygienic living such as they have enjoyed in America. Dr. Appell states that, owing to the heavy war burdens imposed upon France, she would be gratified if America would co-operate with her in a practical way in the creation of the proposed American institute.

Unbounded admiration for the spirit of the American nation was expressed by Dr. Appell in an interview granted to the correspondent at the Sorbonne. He declared that he desired intensely to promote opportunities for young Americans to pursue or perfect their studies in France.

Dr. Appell said that the law faculty of the University of Paris whose fame is worldwide was considering arrangements for receiving foreign students who until now had been entitled only to attend special courses. The faculty of medicine also would extend its privileges to foreigners particularly in laboratory research and clinical studies. A special degree of doctor of medicine would be granted but this would not confer the right to practice medicine in France.

Courses for foreign students already had been largely developed by the faculty of letters and Dr. Appell said the university would make doctors' degrees accessible to foreign students without lowering the standards of its requirements which were, he said, much higher than those of any German university. He also indicated that the Pasteur Biological Institute, the Radium Institute and the Institute of Radiotherapeutics and probably the recently established Institute of Optics would co-operate in offering opportunities for American students to study in Paris.

BREAKS JAIL WITH AID OF NEEDLE

and skill, he slowly cut a hole through the steel with the needle. After moving a pipe and a plate they crawled through the hole, picked the lock of a steel door connecting with the main corridor of the prison, sealed the tiers of cells, cut holes through the slate roof and dropped to the ground. In the prison yard, they found a steel bar, which the prisoners bent into a hook, to fasten an improvised rope of the prison wall.

Lofton escaped but Smith was caught by a guard.

James Cassella, charged with alleged assault upon his wife with a dangerous weapon, was called in court today, but given continuance under the sum of $200 for his appearance on Monday, May 15. Mrs. Cassella alleges that her husband attacked her with a knife and stabbed her in the face during a quarrel late yesterday afternoon in their home in Summer street. Officer Noonan made the arrest of Cassella on Summer street. When brought before his wife, who had been arrested by another officer, Cassella murmured surprise that his wife was alive, saying that he thought she was dead. Cassella offered no resistance when the officer arrested him. He was out on bail over night.

Charles Tessier, charged with drunkenness, rounded out his "teenie" appearance in the court today. His wife testified that he was rough at home and gave her no help to support her children. The defendant pleaded for leniency promising to reform when the judge ordered a sentence to the house of correction. The sentence was then changed to six months in the house of correction suspended for one year within which time he must remain away from the house and pay $15 a week to the probation officer for the support of his family.

Joseph V. Paul arrested upon capias appeared in court charged with failure to comply with the conditions of his probation, the support of his wife, and was sentenced to four months in the house of correction. He was already under suspended sentence, but that was revoked. Ettore Manni, of 15 Cedar street, was charged with the unlawful use of an automobile belonging to Graziano Donnarumma. He was ordered under sufficient security for his appearance in court on next Friday.

Millard L. Theoharous was fined $5 for illegally keeping liquor and exposing it for sale on May 5.

Stefanos Koukias was charged with assault and battery upon Peter Psaltis. His case was continued until next Wednesday.

Agnes Richards was charged with drunkenness and was sentenced to two months to the house of correction. She appealed and was ordered in the sum of $200 for her appearance before the superior court on the first Monday in June.

CARDS ANNOUNCE MEMBERS' ASSEMBLY

Cards have been printed announcing the members' assembly to be held under chamber of commerce auspices in Memorial hall next Thursday evening, at which time A. E. Winship of Boston and S. Wales Dixon of Hartford, Conn., will be the principal speakers. Mr. Winship, widely known as an editor, journalist and educational lecturer, will speak on "The Menace of America." It is not an anti-radical talk, but a warning against careless attitudes toward education for young people. Dr. Dixon, who is superintendent of parks in Hartford, will speak on "What Hartford Does For Its Young People." His lecture will be illustrated and among other views shown will be several of the outdoor dance pavilion operated there by the city and a replica of which has been agitated for Lowell.

Irene Goodell and Secretary G. W. Wells have accepted invitations from Manager Thomas Lee, of the Bay State division of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company, to accompany municipal officials, road trustees and members of the home rule committee on the maiden trip of a one-man car in the city, which is planned for Thursday afternoon of next week.

Because of a lack of a quorum, due to the enforced absence from the city of a number of members, the regular meeting of the board of directors called for yesterday afternoon, was adjourned until Monday noon, May 10.

FOR CONDITION OF NATIONAL BANKS

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The controller of the currency today issued a call for the condition of all national banks at the close of business on May 6th.

High Prices Not Due to Labor

that increased labor costs are responsible for the high cost of living. Prepared by W. J. Lauck, former secretary of the war labor board, the study seeks to show that profiteering in industry is the fundamental cause for high prices in practically all commodities. It gives many statistics to support that contention.

Calling attention to the many war made millionaires, the study contends that a three-fold relationship exists, "between high prices, profiteering and the addition to the quota of millionaires" and that the increase in the wealth of the wealthy is an "unanswerable refutation" to all attempts to charge labor with profiteering and to all attempts to hold labor responsible for the high cost of living.

"For, if increased wealth gets a larger return," says the study, "a larger proportion of the national income than formerly, the man who gives personal service or labor is bound to get a smaller proportion. The menace of the future lies in the probability that the vast profits which are still held in reserve will be capitalized in order that, under the pretext of a fair return on capital those who own them may continue to take the larger proportion of national income, even at the expense of very great suffering on the part of the workers, when the over stimulation of war has passed away."

Of the extraordinary increase in the price of sugar, now amounting to 300 per cent, the study says the increase in labor cost paid by the consumer, was less than 15 per cent. The result of advanced prices, according to the quoted reports of 12 companies produc-

Flee From Indians

One-piece bathing suits don't make very good protection against bullets and the hot, beating sun of Mexico, but that's all the protection Misses Isabel and Laura Viosca, society girls of San Francisco, had the other day when they were attacked by a band of Mexican Indians. They made their escape in an armored train manned by Mexican soldiers. The two young women lost all their expensive wardrobes.

Pity the Millionaire

William S. Hopkins, young club man and millionaire, was ambitious and was trying to climb into the working class when he was "discovered" by two young ladies of his set. Young Hopkins was one of the thousands of youths whom the war awoke to the realities of life. Coming back he found himself unhappy with the "loafing life" and determined to play a more manly role. He still refuses to give up his job, but realizes how hard it is for a man to climb out of his social caste.

Bluebeard's Graveyard

Did "Bluebeard" Hurlt possess a private graveyard whither he lured his missing "wives" to their death? He was arrested under the name of J. P. Watson. He is accused of having murdered 27 women from all over the west. Confronted with proof of guilt he twice attempted suicide by cutting his throat. Fearing a third attempt the authorities have shackled him to his bed and guard him closely. The case of Hurlt has uncovered one of the most amazing trails of police annals.

World Traders Meet

With three-fourths of the invested wealth, and the same proportion of the payroll of the United States represented in its membership, the National Foreign Trade Council has just announced its program for the seventh National Foreign Trade convention, to be held in San Francisco, May 12 to 15. Practically every foreign nation has delegates on the Pacific has signified its intention of sending delegates to make closer connections with American manufacturers and exporters. Delegates are already en route from China, Japan, Australia, New Zealand and as far east as India. The convention will have for its slogan "Greater Prosperity Through Greater Foreign Trade." Read all about it in the Sunday Supplement tomorrow.

Our Economic Crisis

Treasury expert says that America's economic crisis demands the sort of unity that won the war. For about a year after our declaration of war, he says, our loans to the allies were our principal effective contribution to winning the war they were fighting. The loans we made to Russia held the eastern front for six months. It was the loan we made to Italy in the fall of 1917, when the great offensive broke on Italy, that gave the Italian people courage and enabled Italy to replace lost munitions and supplies. In the spring of 1918 it was our silver that held India for the allies. In the summer of 1918, American credits sustained the French when Paris itself was under gunfire. Read this attractive and interesting story in The Supplement.

ing over half of the sugar consumed in the United States was pictured in the net profits of these concerns which it was said rose from an average of $11,000,000 during the years 1912-1914 to $34,000,000 for the years 1916-1918. In the meat packing industry where profits were said to have increased between 300 and 400 per cent, the labor item was shown so small that a wage increase of 100 per cent, would add less than 5 per cent to the total cost of the meat. The increase in price between 1914 and 1918 was shown as eight times the total labor cost, and the 1918 price represented 25 times the total labor item.

Profits absorb approximately one-half the retail price of certain kinds of cloth, the report declared, while the labor item amounts to from one-fourteenth to one-twentieth of the price. Similar relations were pictured in the manufacture of men's garments. Shoes, according to the study, "furnished a splendid opportunity for the profiteer." The profit items in 1914, it was charged, absorbed nearly one-half the price paid by the consumer, or nearly three times the total labor cost, while in 1917, the profit items amounted to approximately three-fifths of the total price and more than five times the total labor cost.

Increases in the retail price of bituminous coal were shown at four times the increase in labor costs while the proportion of the proceeds of the industry received by the coal operator was shown as increased from 73 to 400 per cent.

Profiteering did not stop with the armistice, the report declares, presenting figures to show that corporate profits in 1919, were 110 per cent over the pre-war average which means, the study added, that 1919 profits were more than double the average for the years 1912-1914.

An average of $1200 per family of five during the years 1916-1918 was declined estimate of the actual cost of corporation profiteering to the consumer.

Concluding his study, Mr. Lauck submitted the following general demands in the name of the railroad workers: "Labor in general and railroad labor in particular, must have wage increases proportionate to advances in living costs."

"In the present crisis, and for all time to come, producers and middle men must be restrained from advancing prices in excess of increases in labor and material costs."

"Producers and middlemen must refrain from including income and excess profit taxes in their costs and passing them on to the consumer with an added profit."

WORK OF LOWELL GUILD

Season Demanding Strict Attention to Babies Has Begun—Milk Station

The season has begun when many mothers with babies in their arms, and often with other toddlers led by the hand, will begin in larger numbers to pass in procession along Dutton street to the red brick building at No. 18, with its weather-worn sign—"Lowell Guild—Visiting Nurses—Milk Station."

With the earliest warm weather, the little ones begin to develop feeding troubles of varying kinds. Then it is that the wise mother takes the youngster to the milk station.

Many people think that the milk station is a place where milk is distributed free to those in need of it. This is not true.

A good many years ago a leading manufacturer, Thomas NeSmith gave $25,000 to the city of Lowell in trust forever provided that six per cent. interest should be paid to a board of trustees to be used for the benefit of the needy of the city. Each year the trustees assign portions of this fund for various purposes.

One of the institutions that they contribute to is the milk station. The sum given is very small, and the quantity of milk being given away at present amounts to only a little over a dozen quart bottles a day.

It is still true, however, that any person can secure milk free of charge, if it is actually necessary for nourishment, and the person is not able to pay for it.

Furnishing milk to those who require it is only one of many activities that go on in a campaign that is conducted from the milk station for "saving the babies" of the city.

As the warm weather approaches children and their mothers crowd to the station. In the earlier months of this year the work was practically permitted to lapse. Last month, however, 157 youngsters were brought to the station.

When the little patients arrive for either of the two clinics that are held each week, they are met by the superintendent of nurses, Mrs. Kate Kohlhaas.

She came to Lowell last September, from Milwaukee, Wis., and has spent many years in connection with public nursing projects.

Mrs. Kohlhaas, clad in her nurse's uniform of blue, has a "way" with children, and what is almost of equal importance, she has a faculty of winning their mother's confidence.

A large part of the youngsters that "come to see the doctor" never see him.

But one sort of treatment all of the youngsters get soon after they arrive. They are stripped of their clothing and set up on a pair of scales like parcel post packages. Then a record is made of their weight, and from keeping track of the figures, that are taken from the scales every two weeks, it is possible to keep a pretty close watch over the physical welfare of the little ones.

Some morning Mary, Katie or Johnny turns up at the station and, it is found that he or she has been losing weight.

Then the baby is turned over to either Dr. John Drury or Dr. E. A. Tabor, and given a thorough examination. With the examination goes a prescription setting forth exactly what should be fed to the child to conserve its health.

The oversight, however, does not end here, for within a short time one of the nurses of the guild turns up at the home of the mother and child to give instruction regarding the preparation of the food and its feeding.

This work is in charge of Miss Rita Redmond, a graduate of St. John's hospital school for nurses, who has also received training at the Boston Training school for nurses. She is assisted by nurses from the Lowell General and the Corporation hospital who, in turn, give up two months of the senior years at the hospital, to the work.

The milk station, therefore, is not so much a place where milk is distributed free as it is the headquarters for the work of lowering the child mortality rate by seeing that the little ones are given proper nourishment.

But the battle for the lives of the little ones does not end here. Under the direction of the American Red Cross—"The Greatest Mother of Them All," has been started a special assault upon diseases of children in certain congested districts.

A survey has lately been completed of the sections in which records have been made of every child under six years of age and of its physical condition. A very careful oversight is to be kept of the health of every one of these children, and the work may be continued for a longer period if the necessary funds are forthcoming. This work is in charge of Miss Elsie Smith with Miss Anna Hill and Miss Campbell as associates.

In addition to all of the work for children at the red brick building, is a department devoted to the health welfare of grownups. Five nurses go about this important work of visiting the homes of those who need the services of a trained nurse, and yet who are not able to pay for the full time of a graduate nurse. A nominal charge is made of 15 cents an hour for the services of the bedside nurses, although for those in actual need the work is done without charge.

The nurses who have this work in charge are Miss Pauline Picard, Mrs. Mary Hewitt, Miss Margaret Sheahan, Miss Mary McCormick and Miss R. Blatch.

Also, any person in need of securing the hot weather can secure it by applying at the Guild. The ice is donated by Miss Martina Gage.

WILL RE-PLANK BRIDGE

At a recent conference between the selectmen of Billerica and representatives of the Atlantic Works of Boston, which was held in the town hall, the latter company agreed to reimburse the town the sum of $551 for the re-planking of the west side of the Corner bridge, which was badly damaged a year and a half ago when a big truck loaded with an engine cylinder now owned by the company, went through the structure. The steel trusses of the bridge were also damaged at that time, but the company had them repaired and settled the bill.

"ALICE IN WONDERLAND" AT THE COLONIAL

Lowell children and many adults will go back tomorrow afternoon to the days of fairyland and wonderland and again will rejoice in the activities of those shadowy empires when the League of Catholic Women will present at the Colonial theatre in Middlesex street "Alice in Wonderland," the celebrated fairy-tale with its many opportunities for stage presentation.

Prominent young women of the city have been rehearsing for several months to make the affair a success and indications point to one of the prettiest theatricals staged here for some time. Advantage has been taken of the many opportunities which the story presents for feature display. A real live mock turtle, a Cheshire cat, stately minuets by the king and queen of "Wonderland," and their court and pretty dances of every description are some of the good things promised. The performance will begin promptly at 2:30 p. m.

GAVE CONCERT IN COLONIAL HALL

The Glee club of the Young Women's Christian association brought its second successful season to a close last evening with a concert in Colonial hall, conducted under the leadership of E. G. Hood of Nashua. The audience was quick to acknowledge the ability of the young women who sang unusually well when it is considered that the time they have for practice is decidedly limited.

A well sustained volume of tone, carefully modulated to meet the demands of a wide variety of texts, was apparent throughout, while the three parts were correctly balanced and flexibly handled by the girls. When you step on the starter

You supply the force, the help needed, to make the engine go. That is just what a good, ready-to-take remedy, with tonic properties, does for you in the Spring.

It furnishes the push that puts every organ into proper activity. Rich, pure blood goes leaping through your veins, carrying life and health to each sagging part and lagging organ.

Like everybody else, you need a good "starter." Your health will be improved, more enduring, and you will be better able to resist disease by using a good Spring medicine.

PE-RU-NA
An Ideal Starter for the Human Engine

With your parents, and perhaps your grandparents, PE-RU-NA was the favorite Spring medicine, because they knew they could depend upon it. It acts directly upon the organs of digestion and elimination, helping nature to throw off the poison accumulations of winter and stimulating a normal, healthy action in the human machinery.

The blood becomes rich and pure, insuring healthy nourishment to every part. Nerves, raw and quivering, are soothed and quieted, and the nerve centers revived and stimulated.

You lose that always tired feeling of lassitude, and experience at once a vim and a vigor, a punch and a push, a desire and ambition to be up and doing.

PE-RU-NA clears your system of the health destroyers, lag, stagnating poisons and wastes of catarrh. Take no chances. Drive out this enemy to good health—catarrh. Step on the starter. Get PE-RU-NA from your nearest store today.

REV. C. EDWIN BROWN OF ST. MARTIN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH OF OMAHA; "THE ACTORS' CHURCH" AND MISS KATE PIER ROEMER, WHO PLAYS "VAMP" ROLES WITH FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN, AND WHO SAYS THAT IF REV. MR. BROWN'S FRIENDSHIP FOR STAGE FOLK WERE FOLLOWED AS AN EXAMPLE BY OTHER CLERGYMEN, THE CHURCH WOULD CEASE TO CRITICISE THE STAGE AS FRIVOLOUS AND THE THEATRICAL PROFESSION WOULD NO LONGER LOOK UPON THE CHURCH AS COLD AND ALOOF.

ACTORS' CHAPLAIN DEFENDS HIS FLOCK

(N.E.A. Staff Special)

OMAHA, Neb., May 7.—Some of the finest people in the world are in the theatrical profession. Yet actors are generally either criticized or neglected.

This conviction was reached by Rev. C. Edwin Brown when he was a cub reporter in Philadelphia. It stayed with him when he became an Episcopal clergyman, and it is the reason that the Billboard, a New York theatrical magazine, carried a standing ad inviting all actors and actresses who come to Omaha, not only to attend St. Martin's Episcopal church, but to come to the pastor's home and ask him for any service he can render—and he gives his telephone number, to make sure they will do it.

Rev. Mr. Brown is a chaplain of the Actors' Church alliance, the movement that originated in the "Little Church Around the Corner," in New York city. He believes he is the only "chaplain at large."

During his missionary tours, Rev. Mr. Brown would ascertain what show was coming to town, and when it would get in. Then, after posting his invitation to church in due form, he got busy in other directions. And when the weary actors scrambled off the train to begin the daily hunt for accommodations, they were astonished—and sometimes suspicious—to find on the platform, waiting for them, a tall, active person in a clergyman's garb, armed with information as to what hotels could take them in, where the theatre was, how to get there, and anything else they needed to know.

"My Gawd, parson!" breathed a chorus girl once, from the depths of her gratitude, "you're human!"

Aid at All Hours

St. Martin's is the "actors' church" in Omaha. Two attorneys and two physicians, members of its congregation, are at the service of those who need emergency help. Clarkson Episcopal hospital will receive them. Elks lodge, No. 30, of which Rev. Mr. Brown is chaplain, gives help that it will not let be made public.

The gayety theatre, the leading burlesque house in Omaha, has been placed at Rev. Mr. Brown's disposal for religious services, and both he and Bishop E. V. Shaylor of the diocese of Nebraska, have spoken from its stage.

Rev. Brown's indignation when Rev. John Roach Straton refused to sit on the platform at the actors' benefit, boiled over in a hot letter to the New York clergyman.

What's the thing to do about clothes this spring?

EVERY man knows that clothes are high priced; and that poor ones cost about as much as the good ones.

What's a man going to do who wants to make his money go the farthest?

There's only one thing to do; buy good all-wool clothes; pay the price to get them. They'll save your money because all-wool wears longer; you won't have to buy so often.

We know; we've seen all kinds of clothing. Good stuff is always economy.

Hart Schaffner & Marx make clothes that really save for you; that's why we have them and why we talk so much about these clothes.

STRIKERS STILL OUT IN GRANITEVILLE

The 16 or more machinists and helpers employed at the C. B. Sargent's Sons Corp. in Graniteville, who left their work Wednesday morning in an endeavor to obtain recognition of their union and also to have three of their members reinstated, are still out and most of them are doing picket duty at the shop.

The strikers are connected with the International Association of Machinists and sometime last week they delegated a committee of three to present a working agreement to the officials of the company. It is claimed that the officials of the shop refused to consider the agreement and that the delegates from the union were discharged. The matter was brought to the attention of the business agent of the union in Lowell and it is claimed his efforts to bring about a settlement of the difficulties were fruitless. The time set by the union for the company to come to terms was Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and inasmuch as nothing was done, Wednesday morning the men went out on strike.

In a recent statement issued by one of the officials of the company it was stated the company was ignorant of the real issues of the strike, but President Murphy of the International Association of Machinists comes back with the following statement:

"For a period of eight months the machinists of the Sargent Co. of Graniteville have been organized. On Wednesday, April 25, their union, Local 1315, met and formulated demands for a 12 per cent wage increase and recognition of the shop committee system. A committee visited the office of the Sargent Co. with the demands of the union and in a short time its members were discharged from the employ of the firm. Business Agent George McCabe of Lowell immediately got in touch with the men and telegraphed for instructions to the international office in Washington. He asked the reinstatement of the men and upon the refusal of the company to do so, President William H. Johnson of the international sanctioned the strike."

The meeting opened with Frank W. Wright, director of the division of elementary and secondary education and normal schools, as chairman. Opening exercises were conducted, after which the teachers were greeted by Clarence W. Wood, acting principal of the Lowell Normal school.

Mr. Smith's address was next on the program. He told the teachers that they should constantly test themselves and the pupils in their charge. He said that they should not only give tests in scholastic work, but should also give regular examinations to determine the health of the children. "It is an important part of the teachers' duty to protect the health of their charges," he asserted.

He referred to the power to govern, which the teacher should possess, and

emphasized the importance of discipline in the school curriculum.

"Perspective in placing the things of life in their correct relation to each other is something that many teachers
lack," asserted Mr. Smith. "They should have the power to put the important things in the important places, and the minor things in the minor places. In discipline, recitations and methods."

"It is of the greatest importance
that teachers should cultivate the faculty of seeing things through the eyes
of children. It is a very different world upon which the eyes of the child
look out from the one seen by most older people. It is the child world that the teacher should endeavor to see and appreciate. She should understand the way in which the pupils view their schools, their studies and all the facts
of their young lives."

The speaker called for a recognition
on the part of the instructors of their professional obligations to the pupils
and to the community. He also pleaded
for leadership and emphasized the point that the nation in all its departments was in need of those imbued
with the quality of becoming safe
guides.

He said that Massachusetts and its instructors should be at the forefront of the results of the reforming influence of a teacher in a little red country schoolhouse whose efforts had resulted in greatly improved conditions
in the community in which she lived.

She found her schoolroom a neglected
and bleak place, Dr. Smith asserted.
"She tried to get the members of the local school board to change conditions; she made appeal after appeal;

nothing came of it. Then she set about working on her own initiative and
something was done."

"Togetherness," he said, he believed was to be the keystone word of the coming generation, and he hoped to see the day when it would be blazoned across the front of every school building.

"Togetherness" is what the whole world needs. It is needed in all walks of life if our nation and the world are
to be made safe for democracy."

Following the address of Mr. Smith
the institute resolved itself into a number of departmental conferences.

One of the most interesting features
of the program was a demonstration
lesson in history teaching to pupils
of a fifth grade class conducted by Miss Mary F. Wallace of the Bartlett training school.

The general subject was: "What Did
We Accomplish Through the Civil War?"
There were two subdivisions: "Why
Was the North Forced into the War?"
and "How Did the North Prevent Secession?"

with the lesson was "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Other departmental conferences were:
Grades I-IV inclusive—Primary language and primary reading with demonstration lesson, Josephine Eagan,
Worcester public schools. Discussion
opened by Walter K. Putney, superintendent of schools, Chelmsford.

Grades V-VII inclusive—"How May
We Make the Recitation More Effective?" Florence M. Hale, state agent
for rural education, Augusta, Me.

High School—"The Seven Objectives
of Education," C. D. Kingsley, agent
for secondary education, state department of education. Discussion opened by A. L. Safford, superintendent of schools, Reading.

At noon a luncheon was served at the school.

Beginning at 1:15 p. m. there was a community sing, led by Miss Ilex Field Damon, director of music at the Lowell school, and music by the Girls' Glee club. An address on "Education in Citizenship Through the Classroom
Method," was given by Miss Alma Mc-Crum, of the Normal school faculty, followed by an address on "Better Salaries for Teachers," by Miss Florence
M. Hale of Augusta, Me.

Music followed and the closing address was given by Frank W. Wright

Politicians Have Nothing on Navy Boys When It Comes to Street Corner Oratory

RECRUITERS ATTRACT CROWD IN MERRIMACK SQUARE

Novel methods are employed by the naval recruiting party which is doing duty in Lowell. Yesterday noon two of the men invaded Merrimack square
with common office chairs on which they stood and with megaphones whiles. Lieut. Katz, in charge of the party talked navy to an audience at the corner of Central and Merrimack streets. This stunt was tried in Lawrence, but the men planted their chairs

in the car tracks and held up traffic
for five minutes compelling the public to hear what they had to say. In Worcester some of the recruiters
scrambled to the granite decorations of city hall steps and from the dimy
heights of those huge granite balls
on either side of the entrance they surprised the town with their oratory.
After speaking in Merrimack square,
Lieut. Katz ordered his men to city hall where Mayor Thompson addressed
an audience from the steps.

The men are not sorry for the hard work they have been putting into their efforts to get recruits for whom they do their work well they are allowed holidays. All the men are now visiting home and will not return until Monday because they have signed up
many recruits in this city.

If one wants to see how the recruiters learn their unique methods of speaking then he need only visit the naval recruiting station in the morning for Lieut. Katz puts the men
through brisk "skull" practice, and
with his hat and coat off goes at them
and teaches them salesmanship.

The use of air pressure in tunnel
construction is as early as 1880.

NEW CHARTER BILL

The republicans of the legislature have evolved a scheme by which to provide a suitable charter for this city by presenting to the legislature a bill making provision for a commission to consider the question of a new or revised charter for Lowell and also the matter of a finance commission such as is now operating in the city of Boston. The republicans have the votes in the legislature to put this measure through and undoubtedly the bill will pass. That will automatically kill the so-called Corbett charter bill, except to the extent that it may form a basis for consideration by the new commission.

This plan should give Lowell a new charter before the end of next year. As for a finance commission, we do not believe such a body would be needed if we had a new charter of the right form. So far as our charter experience has gone, all the stronger arguments are in favor of a modification of Plan B much after the form Rep. Corbett has submitted. There should be no temporizing or tinkering of the present charter which has outlived its usefulness, if it ever had any.

The people are convinced that we can have much better government under an improved charter that will give us a mayor vested with greater executive power and a council of larger membership, including ward representatives.

The bill submitted by Sen. Putnam will reach the matter eventually, although this might have been done effectually without a special commission. Still as some organized body is necessary, perhaps it is just as well to have one vested with some official authority.

Mayor Thompson seems to have the right view of dealing with the charter commission so as to secure a charter that will represent the will of the people rather than that of any party or faction. He is also right when he says that the mayor of the city should have more executive authority and particularly, that he should have power to protect the financial interests of the city.

The old city council was rejected mainly because of the deadlocks and partisan conflicts that it engendered, but had it consisted of a single board of 15 or 20 members with the mayor exercising the power given him under the old charter, then our charter would have been ideal in all the essential features. When this whole question of charter reform is sifted to the bottom, we believe the public will insist upon having the mayor of the city invested with full executive powers and with the veto power on the acts of the council.

Otherwise, our city will never be protected against dishonest combines and people who think that it is always justifiable to get as much as possible out of the city, while giving as little as possible in return, whether in labor or material.

HIS DAYS NUMBERED

The days of the rent profiteer are numbered. New York state has limited by law the rental which may be charged for houses and apartments, specifying that the rent in any one year shall not be more than 25 per cent greater than for the preceding year. It has given the courts much greater powers also to protect tenants against profiteering landlords.

Now comes the state rent commission of Wisconsin, and in a report just submitted to Governor Phillip, recommends that the legislature be called in session at once to enact a law limiting to 25 per cent the gross profit and 10 per cent the net profit that any landlord shall charge a tenant in Wisconsin. The commission cites the usury laws as a precedent for this legislation, and, after scathingly denouncing the rent robbers, who have, in some instances, increased rentals 100 per cent and more in Milwaukee, it says that the same justification of public policy which exists in the case of usury laws exists for enacting this rent profiteering law.

It is evident that the public is thoroughly aroused against the class of landlords—comparatively small in numbers—who have been engaged in milking the public of exorbitant rents because of a shortage in that primal necessity of man—houses.

It is a move of self-defense.

Manhood must have three things to live—food, clothing, shelter. No people will consent long to live in a society which fails to provide these necessities. Governors, courts and legislators are recognizing this fact. They know that a comparatively few men cannot forever be permitted to prey upon the necessities of the people. That way lies danger. Houseless men, like hungry men, are dangerous men. The right way is the legal way, the constitutional way. The action of New York and now Wisconsin will serve as an example and a warning. Other states must follow. There must be an end to rent profiteering.—N. B. A.

HIGHER FREIGHT RATES

For some time past the principal demand we have heard has been for higher wages for railroad employees. Now, however, comes the Association of Railroad Executives with a demand for an increase averaging about 25 per cent in freight rates. The plan is to leave the passenger rates as they are and to raise the freight rates so as to add over $1,000,000,000 to the present revenues.

The railroads have been guaranteed dividends of six per cent and they are now before the Interstate Commerce Commission for a permit to make the increase necessary to bring the required increase in revenues. There is little doubt that a material increase will be granted and that the freight rates will be advanced to an extent that will place an additional tax on business and consequently increase the cost of living.

The roads are confronted with demands for higher wages which must be settled in the near future if a strike is to be averted. The whole question, therefore, will probably be settled in the same old way by giving the roads and their employees whatever they want and passing the expense on to the general public.

G. D. P. CANDIDATES

In view of the manner in which Senator Johnson is coming to the front as a republican candidate, his political enemies are out with a demand that he make a declaration as to whether he will abide by the action of the convention, if defeated. It will be remembered that Mr. Johnson was a running mate of Theodore Roosevelt on the progressive ticket in 1912. The republicans seem to be afraid that if Johnson is not nominated he will bolt and split the party.

Among the republican candidates Hiram Johnson is recognized as the greatest American of them all. General Wood seems to be losing strength with the country although winning some delegates as a result of his strenuous campaign.

Herbert Hoover is looming up as the international candidate, backed by foreign elements evidently with unlimited funds. As between the two political parties, there may be a decided preference according as the voter is affiliated with one or the other, but the true American citizen, whether democratic or republican, will vote only for a real American candidate, so that we have firm faith that Mr. Hoover's election is impossible.

THE COMMUNISTS

Secretary Wilson of the Labor Bureau at Washington has given out a decision calculated to restrain the activity of the Department of Justice in trying to run down the Reds. He holds that mere membership in the communist party is not of itself sufficient ground on which to deport the members of that organization. For some time past the Department of Justice had been acting on the assumption that membership in the communist party offered prima facie evidence of disloyalty and that it was, therefore, an offense against the government justifying deportation. It is possible that the matter may be submitted to the courts for decision inasmuch as Secretary Wilson is not an authority on legal or judicial questions.

Under this decision all the radicals in the country would probably take shelter in the ranks of the communist party and would be secure so long as they commit no overt act of disloyalty.

LOCAL PROFITEERING

of "noising" around to find tenements that are let at a fair or moderate rent and where there is a chance to push the rents still higher. The property grabber will go to the owner with an enticing offer of purchase; and in case it is accepted, he notifies the tenants to get out, does a little papering and cleaning up and then takes in new tenants at an increase of from 15 to 25 per cent in the rentals.

This process is not new. It has been applied to business blocks on our leading streets and in many cases has resulted in an increase of 50 per cent in the revenues of the property. Seldom, heretofore, has it been resorted to in tenement property; but now that some of the profiteers see an opportunity to fleece the people who want tenements, it is in full swing. The people who engage in this business, however, are not likely to increase their popularity among their fellow citizens.

WHEAT AND FLOUR

The United States grain corporation has sent out the following statement of its export business for the past year:

"Exports of wheat and flour, July 1st, 1919, to April 23rd, 1920, amount to 93,422,000 bushels of wheat and 14,924,000 barrels of flour, making a total equal to 166,346,000 bushels of wheat, compared with 144,225,000 bushels of wheat and 22,015,000 barrels of flour last year to April 23rd, the 23 days of April being prorated from the monthly total, which makes a total of 243,139,000 bushels of wheat. Last year's total flour exports include American relief administration and American expeditionary force shipments."

From the above report it is clear that there is still a very liberal part of our wheat and flour going out to relieve suffering in Europe. We are not getting much credit from some European nations for paying high prices for flour at home in order that we may spare enough to help save the people left to starve under the arrangements made by the peace conference.

WOOD MAY RUN

Democratic state politics, virtually dormant since last fall, are beginning to show signs of activity. Yesterday a despatch from Washington announced that Richard H. Long, the gubernatorial standard bearer in two unsuccessful campaigns, would probably not again be a candidate. Simultaneously a report came from Boston that Chandler M. Wood, who, as a candidate for treasurer last fall, and led his party ticket at the polls, might be a candidate. Wood has not yet made a statement, but it is said by his friends who have urged him to enter the field, that he may issue a statement within a short time. If Wood decides to run, it is believed that Col. Gaston, long mentioned as the logical choice, would not be a candidate. Wood and Gaston are close friends, and men close to both say neither would oppose the other in a contest for the nomination.

THE RIGHT MAN

The appointment of ex-Governor McCall as member of the tariff commission will meet very general approval throughout the country. From his long experience in congress and his subsequent service as governor of Massachusetts, in addition to his close relationship to the industries of New England, he is well qualified to render valuable service on that commission. It would be difficult to select a man better fitted for the duties of that particular office than Samuel W. McCall. It is the function of this commission to take the whole tariff question out of politics by providing congress with the information necessary to guide it in safeguarding the interests of the country by a scientific regulation of the tariff schedules.

The New York assembly has of late attained considerable notoriety through the expulsion of the socialist members elected to that body. It has now enacted a law that will meet very general approval throughout the country. This law provides that any person who knowingly and willfully gives false information to a newspaper or to any employee thereof, will be guilty of a misdemeanor for which due punishment may be imposed. If such a law were enforced throughout the country, there would be fewer fake stories imposed upon newspapers.

SEEN AND HEARD

Shorter skirts may lower prices if they wear 'em longer. Some fellows who complain because workers ask a dollar an hour are themselves making a dollar a minute. Garza's capital guard has gone over to the rebels, and if the old boy

Five years ago today the Lusitania was torpedoed by a German submarine; loss of lives, 1154. Remember the Lusitania!

"Tis Done! 'Tis Done!

"'Tis done!" he cried, as he slowly raised a revolver to his temple. The odor of fresh fried sausage reached his nostrils.

"Yes, 'tis done!" he cried again, dropping the revolver and bolting for the kitchen.

Drug Store First

In a collision between an auto and a load of hay the driver of the latter was projected into the village road on his head and lay there semi-conscious until two occupants of the more speedy vehicle lifted him out of the dust and started to carry him toward the sidewalk.

"Shall we take him into that undertaker's place there, or to the drugstore farther down the street?" asked one of the burden-bearers.

The victim raised his head with alacrity and vociferated:

"Take me to the drugstore first, you darn fool!"

Passing of the Galluses

Men's furnishees report a sad decline in the sale of suspenders. Galluses have gone. Those pillars of propriety have been succeeded by the unstable upholder of the world's trousers, the leather or near-leather belt. But the leather belt lacks a lot of things that galluses possessed. When a fellow sat down to a big meal, wearing suspenders, he could eat for further orders. That made no difference in his trousers support. He paid no attention to them. He knew they were put to stay put. Not so the leather belt. It lacks elastic qualities. Got to let out a link every time after a big meal. Too much like a thermometer. But gradually, against all opposition, it has won its way. And galluses are not considered "the thing" anywhere in smart society. Agriculturists, though, still stick to a heavy style of galluses. When the farmer is working hard with both hands full, he doesn't want to think that there is any danger of his trousers slipping. He doesn't want to be caught that way. By and large, the farmer has about as good judgment as the next man.

The "Passing" of the Trains "Way back in happy childhood in the days before the war, our little town of Potsdam was a lot more lively for We used to have—I know you'll doubt my statement when I say—We used to have a railroad that ran six trains each way. Today the traveler only sees a crooked streak of rust, a building once a station, accumulating dust.

A man in Canton sent a hen to Potsdam by express. But when the buggy got there 'twas some surprise, I guess. Her Canton owner built a cage of wire, and she'd been in it since. Before the hen reached Potsdam she'd hatched out seven chicks. A farmer sent a tiny calf down Canton route the calf became a cow—and gave six quarts a day. Parcel-post a Lovellville woman sent a baby here. Drakenman 'most a year; There's quite a lot of instances that anyone can find, But that was sad as sad as one as I can call to mind:

A weary-looking travelling man got His step was slow and feeble, his hair was turning gray. I said, "My friend, you're much too old to take these lengthy trips." The stranger answered sadly as he gathered up his grips: "Once I was young like you, my boy, and full of life and pep. My brain was clear, my heart was light, I walked with buoyant step. My eyes were bright and snappy and my hair a gleaming brown. But that was fifteen years ago, when I left Watertown."

"Still, I'm an optimist," he said, "to grab, O, what's the use? Say, just imagine if I'd started out from Syracuse!"

"Now this is Wednesday's 8:15," the traveling man declared. I laughed at him so loudly that the poor man stopped and stared. I thought he ought to know the joke. I cried, "Why man, alive! This isn't Wednesday's 8:15, it's Monday's 7:05."

MAN ABOUT TOWN

People accustomed to travel across the Central bridge frequently have noticed since the Merrimack river began its rise a most peculiar sand formation just below the bridge where the river laps the walls of the Root mill's boiler room. Ordinarily, the water does not make its way far enough in shore to reach the mill wall, but this spring the swollen stream has kept in touch with the building almost constantly. It has brought with it a large amount of sand and this has been left near the mill wall, layer by layer, until it now rises above the water's level. It is most peculiarly shaped—giving the impression of the top of a submarine which is about to submerge. Its highest point is in the centre and gradually it tapers down until it reaches below the water. The formation is a little island in itself and one can almost imagine people sitting in

MAYFLOWER, PRESIDENT'S YACHT, IS ALL READY FOR SUMMER CRUISING

Spring house cleaning has just been completed aboard the good ship Mayflower, President Wilson's yacht, and the skipper, Captain Holmes, has reported her ready for any cruise. Judge Enright issued a timely warning to a defendant in police court recently about unlicensed dogs. The defendant had been called into court on the charge of housing an unlicensed dog which had bitten a passerby in front of the owner's store. The judge made it clear that there were many dogs throughout the city which were unlicensed. If judgment were to be formed from the number going about uncollared, and that the police should take special notice about this time because the hot weather is approaching "and some of the dogs may cause trouble." He said that all dogs unlicensed by their owners should be taken by the police and disposed of. A word to the wise is sufficient. If you care anything for the canine don't have it chased around as an outlaw.

John J. Mahoney, formerly the principal of the Normal school, now state supervisor of Americanization, has been honored by being invited by Harvard university to give two courses at the Harvard summer school. One will be a general course for teachers, while the other will be an advanced course for organizers and supervisors of Americanization work in schools and industries. Last year the course which he gave at Harvard met with such success that this year he was asked to give two courses instead of one. Mr. Mahoney is regarded as one of the foremost leaders in Americanization work in the country, and those who have heard him in Lowell may well agree that he knows what he is talking about. Mr. Mahoney has made many addresses in this city upon Americanization and each time has only served to strengthen the favorable impression he had previously made.

About 3 o'clock last night the Man About Town, walking up Central street, was suddenly accosted by a middle-aged man and woman; the man with a heavy suitcase in his hand, and his companion showing signs of agitation.

They appealed to the Man About Town in unison, "Mister, will you please tell us what time it is?" As the man held an open watch in his hand and was looking a sidewalk clock full in the face, this was somewhat unusual.

"Look here," said the excited gentleman, "and I'll show you why I ask. See that watch? It's a good watch. I have carried it every day for 25 years. It has kept pretty good time, and it has also occasionally cut up some dicos. But it has beat all records tonight. I set that watch only ten minutes ago by the clock at the railroad station. It was just 3 o'clock then, and I figured to come down on Central street on a little business. I had planned to leave the station again a little before 3, and here it has only been about 15 minutes and that clock there says it's after 3 o'clock, and I have lost my train. Where has that three-quarters of an hour gone to—that is what I want to know."

The reason for the difference in the reading of the two timepieces were explained, but the listener, like thousands of others, did not seem to be impressed. Grabbing his companion's arm, he started for a passing car, remarking: "I guess we'll get back and stick to a place where they have only one kind of time, and that's the railroad station," but arriving there they found the trains running just one hour ahead of time as shown by the railroad clock. Is it any wonder they got confused?

INSURANCE POLICIES

WELL, ANYWAY, HE GOT A HOUSEKEEPER

FOR EX-SERVICE MEN
Lt. Kennedy of the army recruiting station has received the following in regard to Uncle Sam's new life insurance policies:

"Secretary of the Treasury Houston has officially approved forms of new permanent policies of exceptional liberality into which former service men may convert their war-time insurance. Announcement is made by Director Jones of the bureau of war risk insurance that conversions into the new forms of insurance have already passed the half-billion dollar mark. Liberal ruling permits reinstatement of lapsed or canceled insurance before July 1, 1920, regardless of how long the service man has been discharged by payment of only two monthly premiums on the amount of insurance to be reinstated and satisfactory statement of health upon application."

Early in April Philip Langley of Woodstock, Vt. wrote to Supt. Edmund Welch of the police department requesting him to find a "good all-around" housekeeper for him. The specifications given in the letter by the man were very detailed, and among the important ones were that the woman should be a "good cook, of good nature, good looking and not too old."

Supt. Welch gave the letter to the newspapers to be published. Recently he received further word from Philip that many women had applied to him for the position and that he had selected the one he wanted to be his housekeeper. He didn't give her name. Of course he wasn't obliged to, but the superintendent feels as if Philip might have been a little bit more confidential like. He didn't even say if it was a Lowell woman he selected, but the superintendent takes that much for granted and he allows that some Lowell woman is already keeping Philip's house in order.

Mr. O'Neill worked continuously in the department since 1892 up until the time he entered war work. BOWLERS CONTINUE TO TOPPLE PINS

Lowell's bowlers are putting up remarkable scores in the big handicap tournament at the Crescent alleys. Arthur Houston put up a single of 144, but he was not entered as a tournament competitor. After getting the high score he went to the desk and entered and again tried his luck. He failed, however, to again touch the mark.

The leaders after last night's rolling follow:
 Individual: Brigham, 319; Sullivan, 316; Quinn, 317; Kimball and Whitlock, 315.

JOHNNY WILSON WINS MIDDLEWEIGHT TITLE

BOSTON, May 7.—Johnny Wilson, the big southpaw of Charlestown, took Mike O'Dowd's middleweight title away from him last night at Mechanics building by getting Referee Hector McInnes' decision at the end of the 12 rounds.

They both weighed under 160 pounds at ringside, and according to the way the weights of championship bouts are now judged about, Wilson is entitled to call himself the world's champion. There were 7000 persons who saw the fight.

It was one of the best fights held in this city for years and the result was a big surprise. There were thousands bet that Wilson would not stay the limit and the odds were 10 to 2 that O'Dowd would be the winner. Wilson never fought a better fight in his life. He displayed great headwork and his style, together with his shiftness, bothered O'Dowd. The defeated champion used his left very little. He did the most of his punching with the right which he sent to Wilson's heart many times and on the jaw a number of times. O'Dowd carried the fighting to Wilson nearly all the time and the new champion did some fine countering with his left.

In the second round he put O'Dowd to the mat with a left hook on the jaw, but O'Dowd did not wait to take any count, but jumped to his feet quickly and went tearing in. Wilson caught O'Dowd many times, left hooks in the stomach, face, eye and jaw and tied O'Dowd up so well in the clinch that O'Dowd did not have much chance to do him any harm. Wilson has participated in many bouts against second-rate boxers in the city, principally in New England. Last night's fight was his first appearance against a leading boxer. O'Dowd won the title from Al McCoy in 1917.

When the going sounded for the end of the 12th round and Referee McInnes pointed to Wilson's corner in token of the local boy's victory, O'Dowd protested the decision, claiming he was entitled to a draw at least. While McInnes made the choice of O'Dowd's manager as referee, was explaining why he had awarded the fight to Wilson, the backers of the local boy rushed to the ring and carried the champion away on their shoulders.

Wilson's victory gave him the honor of being the first New England boxer to hold the middleweight title. It is the first time a Bostonian has held a ring championship since the days of the late Aloney McElroy.

PITTS' S. E. TO PLAY HAVERHILL TEAM
 The Pitts' S. E. Baseball club launches a campaign tomorrow, when the St. Joseph club of Haverhill will be played on the South common, which, it is hoped will bring the Merrimack valley semi-pro championship to Lowell.

As many valley teams as possible will be played by the South Ends, the Haverhill nine being the first on the list. Manager Lyons is very anxious, however, to date up local teams, particularly the American Legion and Knights of Columbus. Either team may enter into negotiations for a game on Saturday, May 15. Devlin and Freeman will be the battery for tomorrow afternoon's game which is called for 3:15 o'clock.

SHOT 2502 OUT OF POSSIBLE 2600
 ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 7.—Making the remarkable score of 2502 of a possible 2600, the rifle team of marines of the Marine Corps Training Station, Parris Island, S. C., won the Elliott trophy match recently completed at Quantico, Va. It was announced here yesterday.

The marines from the Naval Academy barracks finished second with a score of 2480, and the team representing Quantico was a close third, with 2476. Marksmen from 16 marine corps participated.

EVERS SIGNS TO COACH B. C.
 BOSTON, May 7.—Johnny Evers has signed a contract with Boston college to coach the baseball team and will receive the biggest salary ever paid to a college coach. His will probably take hold today, when Boston College plays Fordham at Alumni Field, and Evers is expected to check the slump into which the team has drifted.

The deal was completed yesterday by Grady M. Mays, president of Boston College. Evers is a player who is noted for his generalship, quick thinking and the quality of keeping his teammates on their toes—qualities which are looked for in the Boston college teams under his care. It was the "big thing" Johnny Evers, who was secured as coach.

STRONG WORCESTER TEAM HERE SATURDAY
 The strong Worcester academy baseball team comes to this city tomorrow to play the Textile school nine on the Moody street campus. This is the fifth game on the school schedule and while all preceding clashes have gone into the discard heap as "games lost," the team has not lost heart and is looking for a victory for tomorrow's game. Coach Clarkson has had a real job on his hands to develop a capable team, but great improvement has been noted as the season expands and the boys figure on putting over a winning performance tomorrow.

ABOUT THE BOXERS
 Solly Snyder, manager of Johnny Avilla and several other boxers in a letter to The Sun announces that Johnny Avilla, the Philadelphia middleweight, who went "overseas" with Al Lippe, is expected to return to this country next week. When he arrives he will again cast his lot with Snyder and the aggressive manager is already looking for bouts for him. When in Europe, Snyder says, Avilla was able to get but two bouts. These came early and both resulted in victories for Avilla. Since that time he has been unable to obtain matches. While in Europe Avilla worked out with Jeff Smith and Frankie Brown, managers of the Lippe stable, and as a result he has picked up many of the fine points of the game. Snyder writes that he has secured an offer for Avilla to meet Al Reed and he would like to send him against any other middleweight in the country. Mike O'Dowd included. Manager Lyons says that Avilla has been laid up with a cold, but will soon be ready to again mingle with men of his weight.

FOLK DANCING AS TRAINING FOR FOOTBALL PLAYERS AT AMHERST
 AMHERST, Mass., Folk-dancing as training for football is being given candidates for the Massachusetts Agricultural college eleven this spring. Instead of lunging and charging against a tackling dummy, husky candidates for places on the "Aggies" line are being taught the intricacies and graces of the English folk dances.

Thirty men, with the broadness of shoulder and bulk of frame necessary to the efficient football lineman, are learning to do gracefully the handkerchief folk-dance known as "Laudaunum Bunches," and to trip lightly through other steps of the old dancing school. For a time they were embarrassed as waving handkerchiefs in the air they pruned on one toe with an arm and hand extended, but they have since taken to the dance and appear to enjoy it.

MONARCHS OF WHITE HOUSE GROUNDS
 Two sturdy boys, who have what is probably the most exclusive and distinguished playground in America, are Gordon Grayson and Cary T. Grayson, Jr., sons of President Wilson's physician. They have a pony cart and their only rival attraction is the flock of White House sheep. The president, during his convalescence, found much time to watch the Grayson children at play, and the broad smile they frequently brought to his face was as helpful as any tonic their father could prescribe.

EXPECT 70,000 AT THE KENTUCKY DERBY
 LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7.—Incoming trains brought thousands of visitors here today to witness the 46th annual Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs tomorrow afternoon. Preparations have been made by the hotel and race track authorities to accommodate from 60,000 to 70,000 turf followers.

Meanwhile the Downs management has prepared elaborately to care for the anticipated record-breaking flow of humanity. The grandstand has been enlarged and under the stand there will be installed 103 part-mutuel machines and 85 cashiers' windows, to double the number used at former runnings of this historic classic.

The hard training season for the Derby candidates which will contest the $50,000 added money prize ended yesterday. Present indications point to a field of 20 horses, which will be for a distance of a mile and a quarter. Never before have more than 16 thoroughbreds gone to the post. Of the probable starters, there is not one, according to their owners and trainers, that has not worked fast enough in their training season to give it a chance to win the coveted event. Some have shown trials of a sensational nature.

In the probable lineup of the Derby field, which undoubtedly includes the cream of the three-year-old horses of the country, Harry Payne Whitney has three candidates in Dan Patch, Wild Air and Upset; George W. Loft has two, Donnucena and On Watch; Ralph Parr is represented by Blance and Paul Jones and W. R. Cox rely on David Harum and Cleopatra. Other probable starters include Prince Pal, Peace Pennant, Sterling, Sandy Bent, Golden Broom, By Gully, Herron, Lorraine, Bersagliere, Ethel Gray and Distinction.

Britain Not Prepared to Make
Bonar Law

LONDON, May 7.—The subject of the support given to "the Irish republic" by some persons in the United States came up in the house of commons yesterday. Horatio Bottomley asked whether the government was aware that appeals for subscriptions for bonds addressed by De Valera as "President of the Irish republic" were still appearing in American newspapers and were supported by the governors of various states, and whether Great Britain proposed to make representations on the matter to President Wilson.

Mr. Bonar Law, replying in behalf of the government, said it was understood that such appeals were still appearing in certain American papers, but he was not in a position to say whether they were supported by any governor. Great Britain, he added, was not prepared to make representations. Mr. Bottomley asked whether Mr. Bonar Law had seen the announcement that already £2,000,000 had been subscribed to this fund and that triumphant processions had gone through the principal streets of the United States in celebration of the event and that De Valera had been entertained by state governors.

He asked if Mr. Bonar Law did not consider that in international law this amounted to an unfriendly act and whether new instructions would be given to the British ambassador.

"Not Wise to Take Action"

The government leader said he had not seen a statement of the specific facts named, but it did not alter his views regarding Great Britain's right course, namely, that it was not always wise to take action to which a country had the legal right.

Capt. William Wedgwood Benn wanted to know whether the government would take steps to halt the malicious campaign which, he declared, was destroying the friendly relations between this country and the United States. To this Mr. Bonar Law did not reply.

Robert Burton Chadwick asked whether Mr. Bonar Law was aware that "this outlaw" was recently honored with the freedom of New Orleans and whether any representations had been made to the United States in the face of "this deliberate insult by an ostensibly friendly power."

Mr. Bonar Law answered that he was quite satisfied the good feeling of the United States was not represented at all by such demonstrations and he did not believe that any action the British government could take against them would have any other effect than to make the relations worse.

In the house of lords yesterday Baron Birkenhead, lord high chancellor, said it was intended to give the Irish executive all possible assistance. He added that in no conceivable circumstances would the government concede the demands of the Sinn Fein.

"The country will be well advised," Baron Birkenhead continued, "that we

NATIONAL GAME

Plan to Encourage Playing of Baseball by Youths

CINCINNATI, May 7.—To encourage the playing of baseball by American youths the joint rules committee of the National and American leagues has designed a special sized boys' diamond and special sized boys' ball for boys under 16 years of age. Announcement of this action is contained in a bulletin bearing the signature of B. B. Johnson and John A. Heydler, presidents of the American and National leagues, respectively. The bulletin says that baseball is the national game of the United States and it appeals to every person interested in the welfare of American boys.

To assist these boys to practice the game. Baseball, the bulletin states, typifies American character and American genius in that it teaches fundamental democracy, instant decision, instant action and individual self-reliance with full recognition of law and order and proper respect for elected authorities.

BOYS ARRAIGNED IN JUVENILE COURT

Harold E. Blanchard and Thomas N. Nickerson, young boys of Malden, were before the juvenile court this morning on the charge of being delinquent children. Their case was continued until further investigation and until information is obtained from the Malden police.

peared from Malden a while ago on a bicycle and upon reaching Billerica, broke into camps and set grass afire, and then broke switch wires along the railroad track.

FLORISTS DENY

PROFITEERING

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Acting for the Society of American Florists, W. F. Gude, Jr., Washington representative, has issued a denial of the statement by Miss Anna Jarvis, president of the Mothers' Day association, that florists profiteered in white carnations, the symbol of observance of Mothers' day, last year. Miss Jarvis had called on observers of the day this year to abandon the carnation and display American flags on Sunday, May 9.

HIGHER EDUCATION? DOG-GONE RIGHT

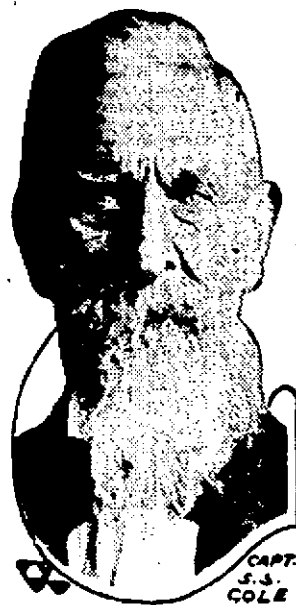

NEW ORLEANS, May 7.—"Is higher education successful? Well, I should back 50."

Jean is a collie dog and a Junior at Fannie Newcomb college here. She "speaks" or at least understands, French, English and German, but she refuses orders in German until the peace treaty is signed. She won't go near the German classroom either, says her mistress, Miss Katherine Maher, also a Junior.

Jean goes to chapel and tucks her head between her paws during prayer. By request of the chaplain she takes no part in the hymn, although she stands during it with her paws against the pew back.

LIVES WITH WOLVES IN HEART OF CITY

DETROIT, Mich., May 7.—Henry Gates, 65, who was an aide of Buffalo Bill in his wildest days in Cheyenne, lives on the banks of the River Rouge here in the heart of the world's automobile center, with three wolves. Gates has his home in a tent and he declares his age and "spryness" due to his mode of life. The old man was born on a ship off the coast of California in 1825 and after most of his life passed on the western plains was with a Wild West show until 13 years ago.

EMMA GOLDMAN "HOME SICK" FOR U. S.

CHICAGO, May 7.—Emma Goldman, radical leader deported to Russia with Alexander Berkman and others is "home sick" for the United States, according to a letter from her to Dr. Ben L. Reitman, long her friend, made public today. The letter was dated Moscow, March 5.

"I miss America. I lived here 35 years, you know," said Miss Goldman. Her lack of knowledge of the Russian language and familiarity with "the new and strange situation" had kept her from becoming active in social work, she wrote.

"It is very difficult for one of my age to acclimatize one's self in a new country, even in the best conditions of normal times," said the letter. "But Russia, bled white by over four years of war, and starved by the blockade, is not a place where one may hope to take root easily."

GERMANY'S AIR SERVICE DISBANDED

BERLIN, May 6.—Germany's military air service has been disbanded under the terms of the Versailles treaty, according to a semi-official announcement made here today.

The entire commission here intends, according to the Tageliche Rundschau, to destroy all aerodromes and flying establishments, which were built at a cost of 60,000,000 marks. The newspaper says the commission will leave standing one hangar and one airplane factory, which will be used for international air service.

RESERVE AVIATORS IN INTERCOLLEGIATE MEET

MINEOLA, N. Y., May 7.—More than two score army reserve aviators fresh from their studies in 12 eastern colleges, engaged in preliminary tryouts on Mitchell field here today, preparatory to taking part in the intercollegiate field day this afternoon. The first machine took the air shortly after dawn and from then on, one pilot after another taxied across the field and went through a series of stiff maneuvers, altitude and speed tests.

The events on the afternoon program included a 20-minute altitude test, a 100 mile race, trials at landing and maneuvering tests. Each event will be decided on a point basis and the college winning the largest number of points will be presented a cup by the American Flying club.

One of the principal purposes of the test is to determine to what extent a reserve aviator loses his ability to fly through lack of constant practice and the availability of reserve aviators to fly army planes in an emergency. The machines were loaned by the army.

LABORERS STRIKE AT SACO-LOWELL

Between 40 and 60 men employed as laborers in and around the Saco-Lowell foundry went out on strike this morning when the company denied them a demanded increase in wages. The men, who have been receiving 50 cents an hour, made demands for a 10 cent increase.

MAY HAVE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL SYSTEM HERE

In order to get a first-hand view of the workings of the junior high school system in cities where it is now in vogue, with a view to establishing it in Lowell next September, members of the local school committee will visit next week Rochester, N. Y., Hartford,

Conn., Springfield and Worcester, according to a vote taken by the committee at a special meeting last evening.

It will be remembered that last year's committee voted to adopt the junior high school system here beginning next fall. Until last evening the 1920 committee had made no move in the matter. The proposed trip will begin May 8.

Otherwise, last evening's meeting was routine in character. All members were present when Chairman Delaney called to order at 8.55.

On motion of Mr. Markham it was voted to place the following teachers, who have been in the service continuously since 1912, on the maximum salary schedule of $150 per year: Mary M. Cowell, Alice L. Joyce, Mary F. Carolan, A. Lillian Walsh, Henrietta I. Grady and Loretta Kinsella.

It was unanimously voted to elect Miss Louise McOsker a teacher of sewing, starting Sept. 1. Her election was on the recommendation of the superintendent.

Clarence B. Ward, chairman of the park commission, requested the cooperation of the board with the park department in the latter's playground activities for 1920. He suggested the appointment of a teacher of domestic arts and a teacher of manual training at the Greenhedge school during the summer months and the superintendent was empowered to confer with Mr. Ward and carry out his wishes.

On motion of Mr. Keyes, seconded by Mr. Pearson, it was voted that the committee make an investigation of the junior high school system by visiting Rochester, N. Y., and several other cities where the system is now in vogue during the coming week.

Principal Henry H. Harris of the high school requested that the committee give notice of its intention to place Durrell and Arnold's First Book in Algebra on the list of textbooks, and it was so voted.

On motion of Dr. Rooney it was voted that the business agent be instructed to make a survey of all the public school buildings of the city relative to their lighting system and sanitary arrangement and to report back to the committee so that the matter can be brought to the attention of the municipal council.

THEIR FIRST ANNUAL DANCING PARTY

A party of ballroomers, their helpers and friends filled Associate hall last evening for the first annual dancing party. There was general dancing from 8 o'clock until midnight except during a brief intermission beginning at 10.30. The party was under the direction of General Manager Richard Marshall, assistant, Arthur Dalghe, assistant, George director, Thomas Gilmour, assistant, George director, James Gilmour, chief aid, Edward McMillan, aids, A. Premier Lloyd George will not take cognizance of the recent message from American congressmen relative to Ireland.

"This sort of thing has ceased to cause any stir here," an official at the residence of the prime minister said this morning. "We long since have come to believe that resolutions and messages coming from America are political maneuvers, and that they do not represent American sentiment."

The only editorial reference to the message thus far was in the Pall Mall Gazette. Eighty-eight members of the United States congress have informed Premier Lloyd George of their objections to the detention of Irish prisoners without trial, the Pall Mall Gazette said. "That they do not reproach him with murdering the lord mayor of Cork must be set down to the nice sense of international delicacy which distinguishes their species."

The London Times publishes a cablegram received by Lord Northcliffe from "the Loyal Coalition" of Boston, quoting a cablegram sent by that organization to Premier Lloyd George in which the message of the American congressmen on the Irish question sent to the premier is termed "impertinent" and declaring: "These congressmen will pay at the polls for this middle-some interference."

all the state granges of the country for four days meetings will be held in Boston in November. For four days meetings will be held in Mechanics hall and during the next six days the sessions will be held in Faneuil hall. It is expected that at the convention 5000 members of the grangers will receive the seventh degree. The morning session of today's meeting adjourned at 12:30 o'clock and at 1 o'clock dinner was served in the lower hall by members of Tewksbury grange.

Afternoon Session

"The Business Side of Home Making" was discussed in the afternoon by Miss A. Agnes Donham, associate director of the savings division, first federal reserve district. Miss Donham has been for some time addressing women's organizations throughout New England in the interests of the thrift movement and government savings. She also has spoken frequently to teachers in the public schools, giving them advice that has proved of great assistance in conducting their work with the pupils.

"A budget," said Miss Donham, "is a plan for the expenditure of any commodity during a given time and should control expenditure during that time."

"A household budget is a plan for spending the family income during a definite period of time. A yearly budget is the best plan as it covers all seasonal as well as regular expenditures. When a household budget is carefully made, based upon past expenditures and well-thought-out estimates, it can be followed if all the members of the family are agreed upon its provisions and if nothing happens to decrease the income or change the mode of living.

"Planned expenditures will give better returns than haphazard purchases. The family which follows a definite plan of expenditure will have more and better things to show for their money than the family which spends as the money comes and as needs present themselves.

"No one plan will suit every family. Each family must make its own budget in accordance with its income environment, and standards of living. There are, however, certain rules which will help in making any family budget.

"Be sure that every member of the family will co-operate.

"Examine your family life carefully to be sure that you have definite standards of living, and write out your idea of what your particular income should provide in the way of shelter, food, clothing, operating, and higher life for your family. This is not a necessary step, but it helps very much to put into words just what you demand from your income.

"Make a list of all possible expenditures for a family with the standards outlined.

"Divide them under five heads: Shelter, food, clothing, operating, margin for higher life.

"Divide each group under three heads: Charges fixed; charges possible to estimate; charges necessary to limit.

"Decide how much should be saved and subtract it from the total income.

"Divide the rest of the income into five equal parts and assign one part to each of the five groups of expenditures.

"Count the rent and business charges as cost of shelter if the house is hired. The rent is fixed charge, care may be estimated. If together they exceed the allotment, too much is being planned for rent. Can it be reduced? If not, then the extra is being spent to provide comfort or safety and it must be taken from the 'margin' allowed for higher life.

"Figure carefully the amount of money required to clothe the family. Make careful clothing budgets and estimate the cost of repair, making and materials, as well as clothing purchased ready made. The amount used for clothing should not exceed the fifth allotted to it, and in small families it might well be less. With very small incomes the clothing expenditures must be reduced to provide enough food.

"Make careful and complete estimates of all operating expenses—base these upon former bills. Examine the items separately to be sure that nothing is being wasted. Gas, electric light, and laundry bills, as well as incidentals, may often be reduced if care is taken and attention is drawn to them. Under operating: Heat, light, water, laundry, are charges possible to estimate. Telephone is a fixed charge. Long distance telephone necessary to limit. Regular service a fixed charge. Extra service either possible to estimate or necessary to limit. Repairs and replacement necessary to limit. Household supplies possible to estimate. When items in operating expenses have been figured, add them up and see how the total compares with the amount allotted to the group.

Remember that from shelter, operating, and higher life the additional amount necessary for food must be taken.

Operating Expenses

"It is quite probable that operating expenses will prove to be absorbing more money than is desirable, and it is within this group that leakages most often occur, and with care reductions may be made with no suffering for the family beyond a slight decrease in comfort.

"The money left as margin for higher life must cover expenditures for education, church, culture, social life, philanthropy, health, gifts, new equipment, and income taxes, as well as the allowances for personal expenditures. A family may divide the amount for petty cash, church dues and philanthropy, gifts, club dues and other social life except family entertaining, into separate allowances, making each member responsible for his own expenses for advancement and petty cash, and teaching the children something of the responsibilities which money entails.

"The use of money allotted to higher life is entirely within the region of choice: one family may prefer to use it for education and health, another for travel, a third for philanthropy. For each family there is a distinct advantage in planning the expenditure in such a way that a well rounded family life results. Something for education, of lessons learned from the records."

culture, health, social life, play, church and civic activities should be included in this plan.

"Higher life most often gives up a large portion to food, shelter, or clothing; it should not give money to operating except under great need when the health of the home-maker requires extra service, etc.

"When all allotments are made if the total exceeds the amount of the income, new standards must be made. Expenditures must be weighed, those which are merely to gratify desires, not for real needs, eliminated and costs reduced to the lowest amount consistent with health.

"Adequate food, safe shelter, suitable clothing, necessary operating should be provided before very much money is assigned to higher life, but before expenditures for higher life are omitted, altogether, be sure that other expenditures are not in excess of what is necessary to provide adequate food, safe shelter, and necessary operating. Savings should be made by every family with income enough to provide a margin over and above food, shelter, clothing—and heat, light and water, but savings should not cut down efficiency.

"It is important:—
To have a plan.
To follow the plan.
To keep records of expenditures.
To study the records.
To build a new plan on the basis of lessons learned from the records."

The season was invented before the musket and its successors.

LONDON, May 7.—Great Britain is tion in which direct conversations with General Wrangel, commander of the remnant of the Russian volunteer army, are proposed. These conversations, it is declared, are desired by Great Britain in order that definite negotiations may be begun concerning the cessation of the Bolshevik advance into the Crimea and British officers would participate in these negotiations.

N. Tchitcherine, continues the message, replied to the British communication with the statement that soviet government was prepared to meet the desire expressed in that communication and enter into negotiations with the British government or anyone that government might indicate, concerning the question of hostilities in the Crimean sector, and that the soviet was prepared to admit General Wrangel as well as British officers to these negotiations.

Regarding the Caucasus front, the message states that hostilities have ceased and that the soviet has applied to the governments of the various states offering to begin peace negotiations immediately.

M. Tchitcherine in his reply, it is added, expresses his firm assurance that the agreement to begin peace negotiations will serve as a preliminary step and that a general agreement between Great Britain and Russia will be the final outcome.

Commissioner John F. Salmon believes that the decision reached by the municipal affairs committee of the chamber of commerce last evening whereby it was recommended that a 30 per cent. increase in local water rates be put in effect instead of 25 per cent. as first proposed, is feasible and plans to present an ordinance to that effect to the municipal council at its regular meeting next Tuesday morning. If passed, the new ordinance will have no effect on the rates until July 1.

LONDON PAPERS RESENT "INTERFERENCE"

LONDON, May 7.—Only two of this morning's newspapers comment on the memorandum sent by American congressmen to Premier Lloyd George relative to the Irish situation and the tone of their editorials is somewhat resentful against "outside interference" in British internal affairs.

"It is an elementary maxim of the foreign policy of most civilized nations that one state department should not interfere with the internal affairs of another nation," says the Daily Graphic, which seems to view the memorandum as a political move. "No legislator of any country has the right to imperil the good relations existing between his nation and any other merely because he wants to attract votes to himself."

The newspaper declares Irishmen have the same redress, if wronged, that is given any other citizens of the United Kingdom and it points to the wholesale arrest of Bolsheviks in America as analogous to the situation in Ireland.

The Morning Post says: "Were Great Britain to pass a resolution in both houses of parliament in favor of granting self-government to the Philippine Islands, we imagine the British foreign office would hear of it within 24 hours."

Sold $3000 Loot for 25 Cents

SPRINGFIELD, May 7.—Three boys arrested today confessed not only to the robbery of furs, linen and silver valued at $3000 but told the police that they disposed of the loot to a junk dealer for 25 cents.
The home of Mrs. Emily Warren, a wealthy widow in West Springfield, was entered a week ago. The articles taken included fur coats valued at $1200, and $800. The police are now seeking the junk dealer to whom the goods were sold. The boys are Leo Bragette, Fred Menard and Earl Roberts.

Young Men

Need Not Be Told Much About Clothes Values

They know clothes pretty well; know quality; know style. They can pick up a suit and size up its value. They appreciate too, the business and social value of wearing clothes of character. And they see to it that they wear them.

We have seen to it that young men who want the best have an opportunity to get it. We are making a strong feature of young men's suits. The styles, colorings and fabrics are what young men want;
snappy; clean cut. A big selection of suits of uncommon quality. It is interesting to see; even more interesting to choose from.

BATTLE FOR KIEV STILL RAGING

Fighting Particularly Severe Northwest of the City, Says Report

Bolshevik Troops Here Strengthened Their Resistance During Last 24 Hours

WARSAW, May 6.—(By Associated Press).—Bolshevik troops fighting in the defense of the city of Kiev have strengthened their resistance considerably during the last 24 hours. The battle for the possession of the city is still raging, according to latest dispatches.

The fighting is said to be particularly severe northwest of the city, where the Bolsheviks are using artillery stationed just behind the front line entrenchments. Other heavy guns are stationed in the bridgehead territory there, and are directing a heavy fire against the attacking Polish and Ukrainian troops. It is assumed the soviet army is bringing up artillery from east of the Dnieper river, as shells are gradually increasing as additional pieces are placed in position. Railroad and highway bridges in front of Kiev were destroyed by the retreating Bolsheviks, but they are being rapidly repaired by the Poles.

Polish gains are reported along the Dnieper river, farther south. Ukrainian forces are driving southward toward Odessa, and are reported to have captured the village of Kamionka.

Deny Kiev Captured
CHRISTIANIA, May 6.—Reports that Kiev has been lost by the Russian Bolsheviks are denied in a wireless message received here from Moscow.

Report Poles Repulsed
LONDON, May 7.—Polish troops advancing on Kiev, were repulsed by the Bolsheviks on the line of the Irpen river. It is announced in a soviet government communique, dated Thursday, received from Moscow today.

WITH THE FIREWORKS
At 10:55 o'clock this forenoon a still alarm was sent in for smoke in the cellar of the store of Paul Vincent at the corner of Moody and Cabot streets, caused by back draft in the chimney. At 11:19 an alarm was sent in from box 15 for a slight blaze in the rear of the counter at the store numbered 63 Adams street and at 12:42 o'clock a telephone alarm was received for a rubbish fire in the cellar of the building numbered 105 Merrill avenue. No damage.

BRIDGE PLANKING IN POOR CONDITION

New planking on the Chelmsford street bridge running above the tracks of the Boston & Maine railroad near the Middlesex street station is urgently needed, according to a letter received today by Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy from A. C. Stickney, division engineer of the road.

Mr. Stickney says that the planking is in poor condition and its repair devolves upon the city. Mr. Murphy will look into the matter at once.

Employees of the street department are now replanking a portion of the bridge in Dutton street, just below Fletcher street. Work has not yet begun on the Lawrence street bridge in Wigglesville owing to the fact that the engineer's department has not yet completed plans for repairs needed there. Paving in Broadway, which was started last summer, will be resumed a week from Monday, Mr. Murphy said today. The northern side of the street is to be taken care of this year.

FIRST FRIDAY OBSERVANCE TODAY

Today, the first Friday of the month, was observed in all the Catholic churches of the city with the usual services. Large numbers received communion this morning and holy hour services will be conducted this evening. At St. Peter's church a 40-hour devotion opened at 10 o'clock this morning with a high mass and will continue until the late mass next Sunday morning. Confessions were heard yesterday afternoon and evening, today and will also be heard tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The mission for women being conducted this week at St. Michael's church by Dominican fathers is attracting large congregations at both the morning and evening services. At the evening services both the upper and lower churches are used. Next Sunday evening a week's mission for men will open. The women's mission being brought to a close in the afternoon.

TO SELL CLOTHES WITHOUT PROFIT

TOPEKA, Kas., May 7.—An old established Topeka clothing store today advertised that for 24 days all men's suits would be sold without profit to the store. The state fair price commissioner will audit the store's books to ascertain whether the suits are sold at cost.

"Let retail clothiers take a definite stand against availing prices," said the proprietor, "and manufacturers will be forced to reflect."

SPokane, WASH., SHOWS DROP IN POPULATION

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Spokane, Wash., ranking as 45th city of the country in 1910, has a decrease of 198 in population in the past 10 years and now has 104,204 people, the census bureau announced today.

The Washington city thus became the first of the cities in the class over 100,000 so far announced to show a decrease. Newport, Ky., and Joplin, Mo., both cities of the 30,000 class, are the next largest cities which have shown decreases. Between 1900 and 1910, Spokane's population increased 153.3 per cent.

ALLIES REPLY TO HUNGARIAN PROTEST

SMILE AWHILE

BY LEE HINGSTON

Rejecting other fond desires and ways to blow my money in, I bought a brace of rubber tires with which to shoe my steed of tin. It happened that I traded where I cut considerable ice and so they let me have the pair at something off the listed price. "Upon the rear wheels of my car," said I, "these tires shall never fail, I will proceed to roam afar, perchance I'll seek the Holy Grail. I'll know the storied lands that lure"—with that I killed a passing hen, its owner claimed its blood was pure; it cost me twenty iron men. "In dials of honey, milk and wine, I'll find," said I, "the paths of peace"—I bumped into a herd of swine, and two were only good for grease. Those pigs had noble dams and sires, and stiff the bill I had to pay; I thought of what I'd saved in tires and so went smiling on my way. Said I, "With these on either wheel, the Happy Isles will I explore"—Just here the world began to reel and suddenly I knew no more. Then, dimly in an hour or less, I seemed to hear a murmur say, "It was the Cannon Ball Express, and this here guy got in the way." Since when, I have not left my room, my bones and thumbs are seen with wires; I question the prevailing gloom and think about my deal in tires.

In wages a 44-hour week, and recognition of the union. Action on endorsing the engineers' strike will probably be taken by the local council of the Amalgamated at a meeting to be held Sunday.

AMERICANS REMAIN AT AIN-TAB
CONSTANTINOPLE, May 6.—(By Associated Press).—Dr. John H. Boyd of Weimar, Miss., an attaché of the American commission for relief in the Near East, arrived at Aintab, April 21, with four other American relief workers who were with him at Aintab when that city was the scene of fighting between Armenians and Turks. Six Americans remained at Aintab after Dr. Boyd's departure.

WATER RATES PROBLEM

Chamber of Commerce Committee Recommends Increase of 30 Per Cent

The chamber of commerce municipal affairs committee last night unanimously voted to recommend an increase in city water rates of 30 per cent, instead of the 25 per cent previously proposed to the council by Commissioner John P. Salmon, with the stipulation that the minimum amount of water which may be used shall not be raised from 5000 to 6000 cubic feet. On the basis of this minimum consumption, the amount of increase recommended is $2.50 per 5000 feet, or from $5 to $7.50. The proposal of the department was $12 for 6000 feet.

The vote was taken after the committee had heard the survey report of Herbert R. Ball, secured to examine the finances of the water department and find out whether or not such an increase was justified as proposed after former Superintendent Robert J. Thomas submitted a survey report to Commissioner Salmon. The figures presented by Mr. Ball were substantially the same as those of Mr. Thomas.

In voting to recommend a 30 per cent increase, without increasing the minimum amount of water to be consumed, the committee made it clear that in this way the small users would not be called upon to pay for a considerable amount of water they do not consume during a year, but it would have the effect of making large consumers pay for all water used.

The meeting also brought out an expression of opinion that the fire department should be forced to pay for its hydrant service, at a rate equal to one-half the interest charges for the year. On the amount of such charges last year the department would be required to pay the water department about $40,000.

It was also the general feeling that the water department has a much brighter outlook in 1921, when $40,000 in interest money will be gained and additional revenue received because of the increased rate for the whole year. The increase now recommended will be effective only the last six months of this year.

The meeting began shortly after 8 o'clock, with Chairman John M. O'Donoghue presiding. Besides committee members, Commissioner Salmon and Mr. Thomas were present.

Before submitting any figures from his survey report, Mr. Ball said that the figures he would present were from necessity based on a rather hasty examination and that although he did not have time to check them all as thoroughly as he wished, he felt, nevertheless, that they were substantially correct.

Mr. Ball's estimate for wages and salaries in the department this year, based on last year's figures, was $151,000, or $10,000 less than the figure set by Mr. Thomas. For interest and principal payments Mr. Thomas had estimated $121,000. Mr. Ball estimated $11,500 for fuel for pumping, against Mr. Thomas' estimate of $40,000 on the same item. The total expenditures for the department had been estimated by Mr. Thomas as $171,000, while Mr. Ball estimated expenditures for this year as $346,000, or $135,000 less.

On the receipt side Mr. Ball estimated the department would receive about $350,000. He arrived at this figure by taking the actual amount of water billed to consumers during the first quarter, plus the 1919 figures for billings during the second quarter, plus the 1919 figures for the third and fourth quarters, plus 25 per cent increase proposed. This amounted to $353,000, but with the 5 per cent reduction, totalled $335,000. Added to this last figure was $25,000 additional revenue, thus making the total receipts $360,000, or $5000 less than Mr. Ball's estimate of 1920 expenditures.

There was considerable discussion over the difference of $5000 in the estimates for fuel, and it was the opinion of the committee that the department would be forced to spend the $40,000 estimated by Mr. Thomas, rather than the $31,500 estimated by Mr. Ball. Also it was felt that wages and salaries would cost more than Mr. Ball's estimate of $150,000.

John J. Mullaney asked why the department had increased its minimum amount of water from 5000 to 6000 feet, thereby placing a heavier burden upon the small users.

Mr. Thomas replied that the real reason for a minimum was to ensure the department some revenue from each service given and also to compensate for the cost of installing services.

Mr. Thomas said he had always believed that the fire department should pay for its hydrant service, and when asked as to the amount it should pay, the former superintendent said he thought it at least should pay a sum equal to one-half the interest charges. "Last year this would have amounted to $40,000," said Mr. Thomas.

Mr. Ball said that there are approximately 12,500 water takers on meters, with 75 without meters. Approximately one-half of the consumers on meters take the minimum rate, he added.

The accountant said as far as he could see the payroll of the department is now running about the same as last year and that he did not see how $10,000 more could be spent.

Mr. Thomas reminded him that many men of the department have been at work on the foundations of the new pump at West Sixth street and that they were being paid from loan money. Commissioner Salmon said $247 for wages is being charged up against the loan each week. The commissioner said the payrolls would grow when the men were taken from the pump foundation job and placed on regular departmental work.

"It is wrong to lay off old, reliable men," said Mr. Thomas, "for the work of the department suffers every time it is done. There is plenty of work to do in the water department—much old work to clean up and a lot of new work which needs to be taken on."

Mr. Ball reviewed the financial condition of the water department through previous administrations. He said Mr. Putnam took the department with a balance of $2000 and finished the year with a balance of $13,000. He said Mr. Brown took it with a balance of $13,000, sold materials to an amount of $28,000 and left office with the department showing a deficit of $4,000. Mr. Morse took the department with a deficit of $4,000 and finished the year with a deficit of $57,000.

Chairman O'Donoghue said that the committee was unanimous in feeling that the department needs more money but that there seemed to be some question as to the proper method of obtaining it. He suggested that the minimum amount of water consumed be left at 5000 feet and the rate advanced from 15 cents to 21 cents per 100 cubic feet, or from $5 to $10.50 per 5000 cubic feet. This was 30 per cent and would give the department even more revenue than under the proposed plan of $12 for 6000 feet minimum. This suggestion was put in the form of a motion and unanimously passed.

Commissioner Salmon and Mr. Thomas were accorded a ringing vote of thanks. They in turn thanked the committee for the interest shown in the suggestions made and vote taken, and the meeting adjourned.

WANT BASEBALL COACH

Vocational School Students Need Financial Support for Athletics

Despite the fact that they bring approximately $1000 a year into the city treasury and the cost of their education is borne in part by the state, students of the Lowell Vocational school in Broadway have not been able to hire a professional coach for their baseball team and have been obliged to play ball without uniforms owing to the fact that school board authorities cannot see their way clear to pay for the expenses incidental to conducting a ball team at the school.

On the other hand, the high school students have had a team and professional coach for years, its expenses being paid from the athletic fund which the students raise by staging track meets during the winter months and football in the fall.

However, the Vocational school has no facilities for track meets such as the annex in Paige street where the high school meets are staged. It must look to the school authorities for whatever financial encouragement it is to receive in the conduct of outdoor sports. To date, this support has not been forthcoming.

In discussing the matter this morning, Principal Thomas P. Fisher, who is an enthusiast for a team at the school, said:

"The boys here at the Vocational school bring to the city treasury something like $1000 a year from the receipts paid the school by individuals and firms who have automobiles repaired here, electrical work done and other activities in which the boys are engaged. Despite this fact, we have no financial support for an organized baseball club and when the boys have wanted to play, they did so in their civilian clothing.

"Furthermore, they have had no coach with the exception of the services which Mr. McIntyre of the high school physical training staff has generously given us. The boys have a chance to form any sort of an athletic fund because they have no facilities for staging track meets such as the high school has.

"We have been able to raise $25 from voluntary subscriptions among the students here, but that will not go far in the purchase of uniforms, equipment, etc. It does seem that inasmuch as the boys who attend school here are about the same age as those going to high school, they should be given at least as much opportunity for recreational activity. The boys cannot go out of town to play ball if they have no uniforms."

The matter has been brought to the attention of members of the school committee, but that body does not seem to favor expending money on the project owing to the fear that grammar schools will also want their nines equipped.

A team has been organized at the Vocational school this year with the aid of Mr. McIntyre and this afternoon it was scheduled to play a team from Chelmsford Centre. But until uniforms and proper equipment are obtained, there will be little use in arranging an out-of-town schedule. It has been pointed out that if the Vocational school team were put on the same basis as the high school nine with regard to professional coaching, etc., an interesting inter-school series of games might be arranged each year for the school championship of the city.

The young men at the school are unanimous in the belief that inasmuch as they contribute a substantial sum to the city's income every year, at least a portion of it might be given them for recreational purposes. It is estimated that $500 would cover a season's expenses and perhaps much less than that.
